	Report to the Treasury Lords by William Blathwayte on the case of tho Earl of Stirling in relation to the Colony of New York as by the reference supra, p. 1053. I find that the Earl of Stirling by indenture dated 1662–3, Feb. 18, in consideration of 3,500*l.* "mentioned to be paid," did grant to John, Lord Berkeley, in feo, one half of his lands in New England and of Long Island. By another indenture dated 1662–3, Feb. 19, it was covenanted that in case the Lord Berkeley did not procure from Charles II a confirmation of the said Earl's title to said lands within twelve months he should reconvey the same to said Earl, who was obliged thereupon to reimburse the said Lord Berkeley all such money as should appear to have been paid by his lordship except the said 3,500*l.* This confirmation the Earl alleges was never procured "whereby those covenants are become void."				Out Letters (Plantations Auditor) I, pp. 221–2.

1686-7.	In 1663 the said Earl and Lord Berkeley jointly petitioned Charles II setting forth that by grant from the Council of [New] Plymouth for tho affairs of New England and by other mean conveyances part of New England beginning from St. Croix and extending by the sea coast to Pemaquid and up the river to the furthest head thereof and from thence to Kennebec and up to the river Canada, together with Long Island, were come to the petitioners and their heirs, whereof they prayed a new grant from the King. The said petition was referred to Sir Heneage Finch, Solicitor General, who reported that he conceived petitioners' title was a good title. Thereupon the Earl of Stirling alleges and affirms on oath that the Earl of Clarendon in behalf of the Duke of York (now James II) treated with him for selling his interest in Long Island and that Lord Berkeley was employed by the Duke and the Earl of Clarendon touching the said treaty: and the Duke engaged to pay the Earl of Stirling 3,500*l.* for his said interest as Lord Berkeley told the said Earl. He thereupon delivered to Lord Berkeley a deed dated 1625, April 22, made by the Council of Plymouth to the said Earl's grandfather, of Long Island and part of New England, which deed his lordship could never obtain again, though he often demanded the same. In 1664 the said lands, with Hudson River, called by the name of New York, and all the land to Delaware Bay were granted by Charles II to the Duke of York in fee and confirmed by letters patent in 1674. Thereupon Lord Berkeley obtained a grant by indenture, dated 1664, June 24, of certain lands lying to the westward of Long Island, since called by the name of New Jersey (which grant was made by the Duke in compensation, as is humbly conceived [by me Blathwayte] of the said Lord Berkeley's pretensions to the said lands in New England and Long Island). And the said Lord has withal certified under his hand that the Duke had promised to pay to the Earl of Stirling 3,500*l.* for his right to Long Island, which satisfaction the said Earl alleges he could never obtain. By indenture, dated 1674, Nov. 10, the Duke of York, in consideration of the Earl of Stirling's releasing all his pretence of right and title to the Colony of New York or any part thereof in America (" wherein I humbly conceive all other lands and countries mentioned in the aforesaid grants to his lordship were included ") did grant to the said Earl a pension of 300*l. per an.* for life out of the surplusage of the net profits of the revenue of the said colony [of New York] after deduction of all manner of charges civil and military, with a covenant that any arrears in any year thereof should be paid out of any sufficient surplus of any other year of said revenue. It further appears by a memorandum in the Book of Entries for the Affairs of New York [in the Plantation Office] that the Earl of Stirling did agree that if by the favour or countenance of the Duke of York he could obtain any employment or other satisfaction to the like value he would release the grant of this annuity. But it so happening that he has not hitherto obtained any employment or satisfaction in this behalf, and there having not hitherto accrued any neat profit out of the revenue of New York, the said pension of 300*l. per an.* is become 12 years in arrear.

	Report to the King by the Treasury Lords on the petition of the Master and Assistants of the Hospital in the New Work [Newark] near the borough of Leicester, ut supra, pp. 230, 625, and 727. We have considered the reports of John Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, and Henry Dering, clerk to the Trustees for Sale of Fee Farms. It appears from them that the said 230*l.* 1*s.* 7*d.* per an. and 20 marks per an. were paid out of the fee farm rents of the Duchy of Lancaster "and that provision was made in the deed of pensions for payment of the said charity" but by the sale of a fee farm rent which was usually assigned towards the payment of the said allowances the said [Hospital's] revenue has for three or four years last past fallen short by 24*l.* 9*s.* 2¾*d.* [per an.] of answering the payments wherewith it was charged. The fee of 20 marks per an. to the Master has been paid to 1682, Michaelmas. The best way for the ease and support of this charity will be to direct by royal warrant the Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster to pay the said 24*l.* 9*s.* 2¾*d.* per an. and 13*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* per an. out of the revenue of the said Duchy, both the arrears thereon and as tho same shall fall due in future until the Fee Farms Trustees, who are yet surviving, can find out some rents within that Duchy which are yet unsold to supply the defect of the said yearly sum of 230*l.* 1*s.* 7*d.* and withal empowering the said Trustees to convey such rents [when found], which will save your Majesty at least 12*d.* in the £ in collecting such rents. As to the Master's said fee of 13*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* as the said office is during pleasure only it is advised to pay it yearly out of the remaining rents set apart in the said deed of pensions.	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 11–12.

John Stone, who reported thereon Dec. 20 last, whose report was forwarded to England Dec. 23 last by said Lord Lieutenant with a statement of his Lordship's opinion that said debt was just and ought to be paid. The abovesaid unsatisfied assignments are hereby to be transferred to the King's use and the said late Farmers are to have no allowance for the said [total] sum [of 1,037*l.* 15*s.* 4¾*d.*].

	Same to Auditors Phillips and Done and to Phi. Frowde of the petition of Lord Ossulston as follows [concerning the late Lord Treasurer's award, ut supra,	Ibid, p. 32.

Date.	Nature and Substance of the Entry.	Reference.
1686–7.	pp. 1139–40]. "That I may not be put upon harder terms than Col. Whitley, your Lordships may be pleased to understand his terms [as Farmer of the Post Office] at the end of his time and his award when he was questioned and of my circumstances in these two respects. Col. Whitley's defalcations [see supra, pp. 460–2] in his five years [as farmer] came to 28,835*l.* 14*s.* 7*d.*, which sum was paid him at the expiration of his time. The Earl of Rochester, then Lord Treasurer, that he might have some pretence for an award referred the stating of Whitley's accounts to two auditors, Phillips and Done, and to distinguish what letters ought to be carried without payment by the covenant and what the King was to pay for by the [said Farmer's] privy seal (which was impossible for them to do), yet to satisfy my Lord Rochester they brought in a blind report by which they allowed Whitley out of the sum demanded by him 995*l.* 5*s.* 0*d.* for [or under the terms of] his farm privy seal; which sum the Lord Treasurer increased to 5,943*l.* 3*s.* 8*d.* The remainder I conceive Col. Whitley refunded." Lord Ossulston demands for his time [of being Farmer of the Post Office] which was the same [length of period] as Col. Whitley, only 21,149*l.* 10*s.* 7*d.* for defalcations. The Earl of Rochester referred his account likewise to the same auditors, who allowed said Ossulston upon his privy seal only 114*l.* 2*s.* 0*d.*, "which the Earl of Rochester increased to 3,212*l.* 12*s.* 9*d.*, the remainder awarded, off this demand of 21,149*l.* 10*s.* 7*d.* as appears by Sir Robert Howard's certificate [was] but 15,588*l.* 15*s.* 0*d.*: so that there is unreceived of his demands 5,560*l.* 15*s.* 7*d.*: which as Col. Whitley was paid should have been received Midsummer, 1672, which from Midsummer, 1672, to Midsummer, 1686, when the bill was put into the Exchequer, is 14 years and one quarter. The said sum of 5,560*l.* 15*s.* 7*d.* is in his Majesty's hands with the interest for the said 14 years and a quarter, which with the principal amounts to 10,307*l.* 8*s.* 6*d.*, which with the allowance the King was pleased to make Col. Whitley of 5,943*l.* 3*s.* 8*d.* if this [petitioner's present account] be a true account comes to 16,250*l.* 12*s.* 2*d.* Lord Ossulston ought to have better allowance than Col. Whitley because he was not assignee of the latter part of Lord Arlington's [Post Office Farm] time which made Whitley assignee."

	Same to Richard Kent, Receiver General and Cashier of Customs, of the petition of Randolph Wilmer, Customer of Strangers' Customs, London port, shewing that when said office was regranted him [see supra, p. 624] there was an arrear of 296*l.* 1*s.* 8*d.* due to him from 1682, Lady day, to 1686, Christmas, viz. 171*l.* 8*s.* 4*d.* on his old patent [up to the death of Charles II] and 124*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* on his new one [since that time]: therefore praying an order for payment of 171*l.* 8*s.* 4*d.* by Henry Guy "as hath been done for others in the like case" and a dormant warrant for his salary in future and for said 124*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*	Ibid.

Treasury reference to the Deputy Surveyor of Crown Lands of the petition of John Rooke, of Exeter, merchant, for extension of lease of a waste plot of ground called Bradninch in Exeter, he and his predecessors having been ancient tenants to the Crown therein, but turned out in the usurper's time and readmitted to the premises in 1663.	Reference Book V, p. 33.

	Report to the King from the Treasury Lords on the petition of John Low, esq.; petitioner setting forth that in the reign of Henry VIII. (by patent dated 1527–8, Mar. 22) the manor of Alderwasley, co. Derby, was granted to his ancestors (Anthony Low and his heirs) (and Sir Tho. Cochin, Vincent Low and Thomas Longford were appointed to deliver possession); that in said manor there is a parcel of waste or common called the Millmoor or Millheymoor (Milleheу or Milleland which was granted in the said patent with all wood and underwood at 26*l.* 10*s.* 0*d. per an.* and) which was enjoyed therewith till 1639, when above 800 acres thereof was by the Court of the Duchy [of Lancaster] decreed to the Crown upon a presumption that said grant was after 100 years' enjoyment not well executed (for that the livery was only executed by two of the abovesaid attorneys); and in 1640 Charles I granted same to Richd. Nevill and his heirs at the fee farm rent of 35*l.* 19*s.* 0*d. per an.*, no part of which rent was ever paid to the Crown; (for) that the said Millmoor has been enjoyed as common till very lately; (that 4 Dec., 1676, a writ of seizure of said waste issued out of the Duchy Court and on Feb. 28 following the premises were by said Court assigned to Tho. Eyre) till payment of an arrear of 500*l.* odd charged in super upon same, said [eustodiam] lease thereof granted being at 5*l. per an.*; and the arrears of said 5*l. per an.* to 1683 (1682), Michaelmas, together with the [abovesaid] other arrears (being more than the value of the said fee farm) were granted by Charles II (1683, Aug. 20) to Tho. Windham; that petitioner's grandfather and father and five of his uncles were commission officers for Charles I from the beginning of the rebellion to the end: therefore praying a grant of the said fee farm rent and a discharge of said arrears, in order to the quiet settling the said waste and establishing a fee farm rent to the Crown for same, petitioner being possessed of the interest of the said Nevill. On reference hereof to Sir Thom. Chichley, Chancellor of said Duchy, and Sir Robt. Sawyer, Attorney General, they find the statements true and advise a discharge of said arrears "assigned to the beforenamed Mr. Windham and Tho. Eyre, esq.," and a grant of the Millmoor and premises to petitioner and his heirs in fee farm at 5*l. per an.*, all by reason that the Crown is not likely in many generations to reap any benefit from those lands. But it will be necessary that the grant to Mr. Nevill in 1640 and the assignment to Mr. Eyre in 1676 be first surrendered. If such grant be made we advise "that the grant pass before the revenue of	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 20–2.

Treasury warrant to the Treasurer's Remembrancer, Clerk of the Pipe, Comptroller of the Pipe and Edward Ange to repay and restore to all Recusants who have certificates of the loyalty of themselves or of their relatives all moneys levied or that shall be levied upon them [and not answered to the Crown]; and to take effectual course for staying all process against them: all in accordance with the privy seal of 1685–6, Mar. 11, and the warrant of Treasurer Rochester of 1685, July 7, supra, pp. 255, 610–11.	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 25–6.
	Same to John Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, for a particular of the manor of Hempholme, co. Yorks, with a view to a fresh lease thereof to Hugh Bethell for 99 years terminable on the life of him, John Acklam and the life in being; at 5*l. per an.* rent and fine of 240*l.* Prefixing: (a) note of said Bethel's petition for same. (b) Said Fisher's report dated Feb. 19 last thereon. The existing lease was granted in 1674 for 99 years, terminable on three lives, whereof two died not long after and the third, Francis Thompson, is a good life. The manor lies near petitioner's seat of Rise and was granted to his uncle, Sir Hugh Bethell, at 5*l. per an.* rent and without fine in consideration of his services towards the Restoration. It was valued by the Parliamentary survey at 130*l. per an.* above a reprize of 16*l. per an.* for banks and sewers. It appears to have come to the Crown by exchange in Queen Elizabeth's time as parcel of the possessions of Sir Thomas Heneage, kt., and was then rated at 105*l.* 13*s.* 4*d. per an.*, which was more than the tenants could hold it at, the chiefest part being marsh, fenny and low ground subject to being overflowed, so that I am credibly informed the clear profit doth seldom arise to 80*l. per an.* in the dryest time, but much less in most years, and late inundations have done extraordinary damage to the banks and there is no wood growing within the manor to help towards it.	Ibid, pp. 27–8.
	Same to same for a same of the pasture ground called Queen Leaze, with a view to a lease thereof to the inhabitants of Bray for 31 years from 1701, May 5, at 50*s. per an.* rent and fine of 20*l.* Prefixing: (a) note of said petition, ut supra, p. 1183. (b) Report thereon by said Deputy Surveyor General. The premises were granted in 4 Eliz. to trustees for the town of Bray for 21 years at 50*l. per an.* rent and fine of 12*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* and therein is recited a former grant by Henry VIII for the like term. In 1610, May 5, James I granted it for 60 years at same rent and fine of 55*l.* This term not expiring till 1670, May 5, the townsmen might think themselves secure; but Sir Nicholas Fortescue (amongst divers other things) got a grant thereof 1629, Oct. 19, for 31 years in reversion, which they [the inhabitants] were obliged to purchase of his executors in 1650 and paid 110*l.* for it. The ground contains not above 30 acres and is not worth above 30*l. per an.* above the rent in wet years and 20*l. per an.* in dry years. The vicar, reeve and tenant of the rectory have common of pasture for their beasts in it. The profit of the land is put to charitable use, being for repair of the church and relief of the poor, most of the parishioners being tenants to the King and pay considerable rents to the Crown.	Ibid, p. 32.

The said poundage is hereby to be computed in such manner that the future payments thereof may be satisfied weekly or otherwise as the said silver moneys shall be coined, the defraying the charge of the Mint being always in the first place provided for.	King's Warrant Book XII, pp. 53–5.
	Same to the Clerk of the Signet for a privy seal to stay all process against Roman Catholics. The King having formerly 1685–6, Mar. 11, supra, pp. 610–11, ordered the superseding of process against loyal Catholics, does hereby order the restoring, paying and discharging to all and every his subjects who (by the certificates made in 1681, 1682 and 1683 made by the Receivers of Recusants' Forfeitures) shall appear to be of the Roman Catholic religion, all moneys grown due or that shall grow due to the King thereon and all moneys levied and received thereon and not yet answered to the King and, further, all process against the said persons touching the premises is hereby to be superseded: all whether such certificates of loyalty, ut supra, pp. 176, 610–11, be produced or not.	Ibid, pp. 55–6.

(Same dated same to the Commissioners of Excise and Hearthmoney, enclosing the like paper of the disposition of the cash of those revenues; said paper including for the Excise the above 13 Excise items; and for the Hearthmoney the above two Hearthmoney items [payable out of the Exchequer], together with the following item [payable direct out of the Hearthmoney Office], viz. 580*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.* for the incidents of the Hearthmoney Office for the half year ended June 24 last.)
Mar. 8.	The Treasury Lords to Mr. Cholmondesly et al. Justices of the Peace in co. Chester. We referred to the Hearthmoney Commissioners the letter you sent to us and that which Mr. Cholmondesly sent to Sir John Ernle relating to the payment of Hearth-duty for bakehouse chimneys and private ovens. We find that the said Commissioners had letters from their collectors in Cheshire on the same occasion. The Commissioners inform us that the case in difference between the complainants and the collectors is agreed to be that there are in said county bakehouses in several private houses in which is a chimney and therein an oven and a furnace used for baking and brewing and a hearth used for raking out the embers out of the oven and the furnace; that some of those hearths are not used for any other use than for raking out the embers and others of them are used for other uses besides the raking out of the embers. The said Commissioners are of opinion that in all cases where the firehearths in such private bakehouses are used for any other use than for receiving the embers raked out of the oven or furnace such firehearths are liable to pay the duty, although the oven and furnace are exempted. But where the firehearths in such bakehouses are used only for receiving the embers raked out of the oven or furnace and not for any other use such firehearths ought not to be charged				Out Letters (General) XI, pp. 51–2, 63.

1686–7.	with the duty. But the Commissioners conceive it unreasonable that the collectors should be put to prove that such firehearths in such private bakehouses are used for other uses. They conceive that the occupiers of such private bakehouses ought to make an affidavit before some Justice of Peace that they never used such firehearths saved for receiving the embers raked out as above. We approve of this opinion of the Commissioners, for it is grounded on the opinion given by all the Judges of England in the case which has been communicated to all the Justices in your county. We think it ought to be complied with and the duty paid accordingly. The Commissioners have directed their officers to demand and levy the duty only in such cases as above. We therefore desire you to direct all the inhabitants to pay Hearthduty for all firehearths in private bakehouses used for other purposes than merely receiving the raked out embers; and that all due encouragement be given to the officers in collecting same. (Entry struck through and this letter replaced by a letter dated Mar. 22 inst. as follows.) The case is that there are in Cheshire, as there are in most other counties who [which] never scrupled the payment of the duty, a great number of hearths in and adjoining to which are an oven or furnace or both and a large hearth, some of eight or ten foot space, fit for any other use whatsoever besides the mere receiving the embers out of the oven or furnace in or adjoining to the hearth; "which hearths you would have exempted, as seems by your letters, for the sake of the oven or furnace, unless the officer will swear that these hearths are otherwise used." On reading your letters and discoursing the Hearthmoney Commissioners thereon we are of opinion that where a hearth is such as in itself is liable to pay the duty such hearth can't be exempted from payment by virtue of an oven or furnace at one end thereof; for by the law all ovens are as chargeable as any other hearths [and] only private ovens [are] exempt. But the hearth in a chimney wherein there is an oven which may be made use of for boiling and roasting or the like is as liable to the duty as if there were no such oven belonging to it: and the contrary opinion will be very prejudicial to this revenue for that it may exempt many more hearths than we believe you yourselves would pretend to have exempted. But if the oven or furnace be so made as that the hearth or floor for receiving the embers raked out of the oven or furnace be capable of no other use such hearth or floor may be exempted as a necessary requisite to the oven or furnace, and in such cases we have directed the Hearthmoney Commissioners to order their officers to forbear levying the duty. But we desire you to take effectual care that all inhabitants do pay their duties for their hearths in private houses that may be used for other occasions than receiving the embers of the private oven or furnace as above and that all due encouragement be given etc. ut supra.

	Report to the King from the Treasury Lords on the petitions of the Mayor etc. of Macclesfield for a lease of encroachments on the town waste, ut supra, pp. 1080 and 1172. On the orders of reference ut ibid. John Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, has reported to us that the former proceedings were thus. William Rowe, Alderman of Macclesfield, in July, 1661, on behalf of the Corporation petitioned Treasurer Southampton for a new lease of several cottages, shops, coalpits,	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 33-4.

1686–7.	encroachments and profits and perquisites of Court within said borough as formerly granted to Geo. Orme and Geo. Stonier in trust for the town by the Commissioners of the Prince of Wales 1619, Dec. 9, (which lease expired at Lady day, 1650), under the rent of 5*s.* [per an.]; and also of the tolls and profits of the markets there as formerly granted 37 Eliz. for three lives to the use of the town, whereof one life was then still in being, at 20*s.* [per an.] rent; the fee whereof the said town had purchased under the late usurpation to preserve their rights: which [title] they were willing to surrender. Upon several reports thereon particulars were made out by the Auditor 1661, July 17, in order to a new grant thereof [to the town]. But there were 40 other new encroachments certified by Commissioners appointed by the Lord Treasurer in 1664 which were made into a constat in 1666, and rated by Treasurer Southampton's warrant of 1666, July 5, in order to a new lease for 31 years to William Rowe, Tho. Deane and John Blagge for the use of the town, viz. the tolls at 20*s. per an.*; the old cottages, coal mines and encroachments at 5*s.* [per an.] without perquisites of Courts (for these last were not in their old lease) and the new encroachments at 20*s* [per an.], being half their full value. The said Fisher knows not how they came to be so long in passing [their grant], finding them thus rated in 1666, July 14, nor what became of the particulars and constat; but he understands from the clerk of the leases at the Pipe Office that the then Lord Gerard (now Earl of Macclesfield) did take out particulars for the old encroachments, coal mines and perquisites of Courts from the same auditor dated 1665, Mar. 8. This was done by virtue of a warrant from Lord Ashley, dated 1665, Dec. 1, but the particular was never brought to be rated by the Surveyor General of Crown Lands. On the 9 July, 1666, a royal signet and sign manual was directed to Treasurer Southampton and Lord Ashley, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, and hereon Lord Ashley alone gave his warrant 1666, July 12, for drawing a transcript of the lease to be passed to Lord Gerard, but neither the Clerk of the Pipe's warrant nor the transcript were signed by the Lord Treasurer, but by Lord Ashley only, "by which means it appears how the townsmen were prevented in getting the lease passed to their use." If a lease be granted to petitioners the Deputy Surveyor General advises a rent of 50*s. per an.* for the old cottages, encroachments, coal mines and profits of Courts (being the rate as granted to Lord Gerard) and 20*s. per an.* for the later encroachments, "being a full moiety of their value as they were esteemed [in] 1664." We are of opinion that petitioners deserve favour for a lease of the premises, the Earl of Macclesfield being lately outlawed for high misdemeanours and his term and interest thereby forfeited to your Majesty.
Mar. 14.	Report to the King from the Treasury Lords on the petition of William Middleton as referred to the Treasury Lords the 4th inst. by the King; petitioner setting forth that under the late Treasurer Rochester's warrant he has discovered near 500*l.* which lay concealed since 1680, having been collected for the Redemption of Captives, and that above 400*l.* thereof has been	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, p. 34.

Mar. 14.	Report to tho King from the Treasury Lords on the petition of the masters and owners of the ship Holandia, ut supra, p. 1190, said ship of 300 tons having been made prize in Scotland by adjudication and afterwards brought into England by James Hutton, merchant, who obtained of freedom for her, which freedom petitioners desire a confirmation of, "the officers in the Custom House pretending the said ship is not registored in their books." We find that the warrant of freedom was countersignod by Secretary Covontry, the ship to be registered as a free ship of England by the name of the England of London, "upon paying such duty according to the value of the ship as in like cases was wont to be paid." By the affidavit of Robt. Lawrence and Nathaniell Pickis of London, mariners, it is affirmed that the said ship Holandia is now the England of London, and that it belongs to natives of the realm and none other, and that it was omitted to be ontored and registered, being employed only in the coal trade to Newcastle. The ship being now designed for the East Country trade, the Customs Commissionors have no objection to the renewal of the freedom provided the Custom thereof be first paid according to the true value of the ship; her value being sworn by said Pickis, master and part owner, as bought by him fiftcen months since for 503*l.* and now worth about 400*l.*, being an old fly boat.	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 35–6.
	Treasury warrant to John Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, for a constat or particular of coal mines in Swineside in Coverdale, co. Yorks, as petitioned for by Basill Price, ut supra, pp. 1065–6: with a view to a grant thereof to bo made to Henry Slingsby and said Basil Price for 31 years at a sixth part of the clear profits. Prefixing: said Fisher's report, dated Dec. 20 last, on said Price's petition. Petitioner's father, Sir Horbert Price, petitioned in 1674 for a grant of said mines. The grant made 1557, July 31, to Tho. Lofthouse and Jno. Bock of several messuages and lands in Swineside, Melmorby and Charlton, co. Yorks, contain a clause of exception, detailed, which Sir C. Harbord in his roport 1674, Nov. 20, doubted whether it extends to an exception of load mines to bc opened. But as petitioner is desirous to make a trial thereof at his own cost, which if successful would be to the benefit of the Crown, it will be no disservice to grant him a lease to be void if the lead mines be not recovered and wrought within seven years.	Ibid, pp. 36–7.

	Report to the King from the Treasury Lords on the petition to the late Treasurer Rochester from the bailiff and juratts and other inhabitants of Jersey; wherein petitioners pray "that as an equivalent to their acquiescence in suffering to be inserted in their charters now to be renewed the provisions of a certain order" of the late King, of date 1679, Dec. 17, for having an officer appointed to reside in said island in accordance with a report of the Customs Commissioners of Aug. 3 [then last] past, they may not be limited to the town of Southampton only for the transportation of 2,000 todds of wool which they are allowed by Act of Parliament [to import into Jersey], but that they may have a clause inserted in their charter to transport such proportions thereof and other commodities (coals excepted) as they shall find convenient, from the port of London. We have received a report in this matter from the Customs Commissioners to the effect that the law has for very good reasons restrained to the port of Southampton the shipping of wool to Jersey, Guernsey, Alderney and Sark, whereby that matter is under a certain and secure regulation, and by the enlarging thereof to other ports it would become more uncertain and insecure, "but they do propose that the abovesaid Order of Council [of 1679, Dec. 17] may be inserted in their charter if your Majesty shall be pleased to renew the same." We agree with this opinion of the Customs Commissioners.	Ibid, p. 40.

1687.	of London, merchants, petitioners showing, ut supra, pp. 1225, 1255, that about June last Alle Rais, Canary Admiral of Algiers, sent into Plymouth a Dutch prize taken at sea laden with wine, brandy etc. for petitioners to dispose thereof for his account; that thereupon they applied to the King for directions therein, and his Majesty referred same to the King's Counsel, after which petitioners wore informed that the goods might not be landed in any of his Majesty's ports, but that in pursuance of the articles of peace between his Majesty and the Government of Algiers petitioners had free liberty to send her where they thought fit; whereupon petitioners tried to find the right proprietors and Herman Olmens of London, merchant, and William Martin of Plymouth treated with petitioners on behalf of the first proprietors (as they pretended) and after some months petitioners sold the prize to William Martin for 700*l.* and delivered it in Sept. last to Martin, who fitted it out with Dutchmen to go for Holland, but was obstructed in the said voyage by the Customs Commissioners, and the vessel and her lading lies still in a perishing condition in Plymouth port, and by reason thereof said Martin refuses to pay said 700*l.*: therefore petitioners pray on behalf of the Government of Algiers that Martin may have leave to send off the ship. We referred said petition to Samuel Pepys, Secretary of the Admiralty, who reported the 9th inst. that your Majesty being informed of several ships (including this one) taken about June last by "Canary the Admiral" of Algiers and his company then cruising in the Channel and sent into your Majesty's ports with expectation of a liberty of disposing of same, your Majesty referred to Counsel how far you could give such liberty without violence to such treaties with other princes, and said Counsel gave their opinions in denial of any such or other liberty than that of carrying the said prizes out again without breaking bulk save for so much [sale of said lading] as might supply their present necessities and enable them to depart: that in accordance with this advice your Majesty directed the officers of the Admiralty at the several ports accordingly. Mr. Pepys thinks it reasonable and advisable (for the satisfaction of the Algereens and the prevention of any occasion of interruption that may otherwise happen to the present peace between your Majesty and that [Algereen] Government) that the said Turks or those entrusted on their behalf be permitted to carry said ship and her lading out of your Majesty's dominions without breaking bulk otherwise than as above and that she be not navigated with any of your Majesty's subjects. We referred this report of Mr. Pepys to the Customs Commissioners, who report the 18th inst. that they agree that the buying and selling of such goods (which is confessed in this case) is contrary to the law of nations and that neither petitioners nor Martin ought to have any favour but that the ship and her lading be restored to the real [the Dutch] proprietors "at a reasonable rate, to be disposed of as they shall think fit, the Turks having parted with their interest therein and gone away satisfied" as is believed. Hereon we, the Treasury Lords, think the ship and her lading should be delivered to petitioners, it having been consigned to them and they having

Please send us a list of those warrants or assignments, specifying which of them are satisfied and which not, with the respective natures of the same. Howard) the yearly sum of 8,000*l.*" out of the first profits thereof in consideration of the charges and trouble they were to be at; the patentees being obliged to pay 10*l. per an.* rent into the Exchequer; that many years of this grant are now expired and the patentees have made little advantage to themselves and none to the Crown nor answered the said rent; that petitioners are well assured to regain the said lands and considerably increase the King's revenue: therefore pray a renewal of said patent to themselves at 100*l. per an.* rent to the Crown and allowance to them of 10,000*l. per an.* under the like considerations and obligations with the former patent.	Ibid.

	Report to the Treasury Lords by William Blathwayte on Lord Colepeper's pretensions in Virginia. I have received a copy of Auditor Bacon's certificate, ut supra, p. 1270, of 4,700*l.* due to said Lord as Governor of Virginia and an extract of said Lord's petition setting forth his pretensions. It appears	Out Letters (Plantations Auditor) I, pp. 227–30.

1687.	by the Journal of the Assembly in Virginia that there was advanced, during Lord Colepeper's government and by his order, in 1683, for the soldiers raised against the Indians 98,000*lb.* of tobacco and cask belonging to his lordship. For the repayment thereof the Assembly called by Lord Howard, present Governor of Virginia, passed an Act in April, 1684. But whether the said tobacco has been fully collected and accounted for to Lord Colepeper according to the said law does not appear to me by any authentic papers from Virginia. But as to the price of the said tobacco his Lordship [Colepeper] has produced a certificate from Alderman Jeffreys and other Virginia merchants that good Aronoco tobacco of the growth of Virginia was generally sold at 6*d.* per lb. in the year 1685 and the best sorts of bright Aronoco tobacco for more; whereas by another certificate from said Alderman Jefferies it appears that the current price of the same tobacco is at present, all duties paid, from 7*d.* to 8*d.* per lb. notwithstanding the new tax of 3*d.* per lb. [in England] which has since intervened [by the Act of 1 James II, c. 4]. (2) Sir William Berkeley, predecessor to Lord Colepeper in said government, died about midsummer, 1677, and Lord Colepeper having a reversion of that government for life embarked for Virginia in Dec., 1679; and returning the second time to England an inquisition was taken in pursuance of the King's commission and found against said Lord 1683, Aug. 16, for absenting himself from his government without leave, contrary to an order in Council, whereby he forfeited his office of Governor of Virginia and the salary and payments thereof. (3) During his stay in Virginia Lord Colepeper received the whole salary of 2,000*l.* per an. from the death of Sir William Berkeley until Christmas, 1680, with an overplus of 300*l.* in part of 1,000*l.* due 1681, June 24. But the revenue there being insufficient for any further payment of his salary he did upon his return demand of the late Treasury Lords 4,700*l.* as an arrear of salary; when upon a full consideration of all circumstances and with particular regard of the time of his absence from his government the Treasury Lords adjudged him 700*l.* and no more, to complete the 1,000*l.* due at 1681, June 24, "deducting only what should appear to have been received by his Lordship or his assigns or to have been paid to [sic for by] his Lordship or his order to the soldiers since that time on the public account." To this Lord Colepeper did at length agree, as appears by his Majesty's letter in that behalf, his lordship certifying his agreement accordingly by his own hand to the draft of the said letter. (4) As to the maintenance of a sloop, mentioned to be charged on his salary, it appears by a relation under Lord Colepeper's hand presented to the Committee for Trade and Plantations that such a sloop was hired for his Majesty's service 1682–3, Jan. 18, and discharged about Dec. 17 following. For the expense thereof he demanded of the late Treasury Lords 724*l.* 8*s.* 6*d.* and was fully paid same: "and for the endeavours mentioned by his lordship to be used for the charging of 322*l.* 3*s.* 8*d.* on his lordship's salary more than was allowed for the said sloop I do not find that his Majesty is concerned therein."

1687.	(5) As to the 233*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* mentioned to be charged on him for keeping up the soldiers it appears that after the disbanding of the two Companies in Virginia, upon the occasion of the tobacco plant cutting and for a guard to his Majesty's stores, Sir Henry Chicheley, late Lieut. Governor of that Colony, thought fit to take into pay a sergeant and eight soldiers and that Lord Colepeper on his arrival in Virginia did afterwards on the 1st Jan., 1682–3, at the instance of the Council, add to them ten soldiers and a corporal: and by a paper dated 1683, Sept. 20, his Lordship declares he had paid them to July 1 preceding and had left money and orders with Col. Bacon for their future payment up to Jan., 1683–4, whereupon at his return from Virginia his Lordship demanded of the late Treasury Lords repayment of the sums so disbursed or ordered by him. To this the Treasury Lords did not agree by reason of an order in Council of 1681, Nov. 22, for disbanding the two Foot Companies at the following Christmas unless the Governor and Council of Virginia should desire to pay them out of the revenue there. The King's letter aforesaid was despatched to Mr. Bacon directing him to pay 700*l.* to Lord Colepeper with such deduction as above of what should appear to have been paid by his order to the soldiers in Virginia since that time. Upon receipt of that letter 233*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* was charged on Lord Colepeper's account by Mr. Bacon. But upon a further examination before the late Lord Treasurer [Rochester] his Lordship [Rochester] was of opinion that there would only remain to be deducted 121*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* instead of 233*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* out of the said 700*l.* on account of the soldiers. (6) By two several grants under the great seal of England Lord Colepeper was vested in the propriety of all the Northern Tract of Virginia and of all the remaining part of Virginia towards the south, with the quit rents and other profits, for 31 years. Upon the ropeated addresses of the Council and Assembly of Virginia the King directed the taking in the said patents. Thereupon the late Treasury Lords came to an agreement with Lord Colepeper, on his last return from Virginia, for the Southern grant and a royal warrant was thereupon passed 1684, June 24, for 600*l.* per an. to Lord Colepeper for 20½ years in lieu of his interest in said Southern grant and in compensation of all arrears of salary and moneys laid out as Governor of Virginia and of all other his pretensions relating to said Government and Colony. As to the value of the quit rents mentioned by his Lordship, the same has for the last two years, 1685–1686, by the particular care of the King's officers in Virginia amounted to 1,483*l.* 17*s.* 0*d.* and no more. Lastly, on settling all matters between the King and his Lordship, the late Treasury Lords received from him his deed of release (as in pursuance of the above agreement for the Southern grant) of all his right and interest etc. and of all claims to arrears as above except the said 700*l.*

We have increased the number of licences in many	Ibid, pp. 72–4.

We are endeavouring to improve this revenue considerably by bringing in Corporation licences, but great care is necessary herein and it will be some time before we can complete it by reason of the many Corporations and the delays in law that are frequently used. We and our officers attend constantly unless on holy days and the business is so great that fewer officers cannot be employed, it taking up their whole time. As to the charge of management, the King covenanted in the above lease that if said revenue makes more than 10,000*l.* in one year then out of the overplus we are to have 1,000*l. per an.* for us, and 800*l. per an.* for our officers, law charges, house rent and all other incidents or so much thereof as said overplus shall extend to: and if the revenue exceed 11,800*l. per an.* then we are to be allowed 2*s.* per £ as poundage on the overplus: if the revenue fall short of said 10,000*l. per an.* it is to be made good out of our estates and we lose our own salary, but must pay the officers' salaries, law charges, house rent and all other incidents. The first year of our said lease the revenue fell short above 1,000*l.*, but by the three subsequent years we have gradually increased it so that from Michaelmas, 1682, to Michaelmas, 1686, we have received 11,800*l.* for each year with an overplus of 264*l.* 13*s.* 9*d.*, which with Dr. Taylor's salary for 1¼ years from 1685, June 24, to 1686, Sept. 29, being 250*l.*, make together 514*l.* 13*s.* 9*d.*, for which we are accomptable to the King. By the said lease [we] the Commissioners were to have 1,000*l. per an.* for themselves and survivors, yet we consented at Dr. Taylor's death that his salary of 200*l. per an.* should not go amongst us, but be accompted for to the King: and now the whole charge of management is thereby reduced to 1,600*l. per an.* By the said lease we were to receive 6 per cent. interest on 30,000*l.* advanced by us and also an allowance of reward at the rate of 2 per cent. Yet on the proposal of the late Lord Treasurer [Rochester] we released to the King the said 2 per cent. reward as from 1685, Michaelmas, whereby his Majesty receives a very considerable advantage.

	Treasury warrant to John Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, for a particular of Richmond Ferry in order to a lease thereof to Dame Mary Ash, relict of Sir Joseph Ash, for 26 years from 1692, Lady day, at a peppercorn rent during the life of the Queen Dowager and thereafter at the full rents of 3*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* per an. as now paid; and without fine. Prefixing: (a) note of said Lady Ash's petition, ut supra, pp. 1001 and 1303. (b) Report dated Dec. 24 last to Treasurer Rochester from said John Fisher on said petition. In the rates made for the Queen Dowager's jointure the manor of Richmond was rated at 20*l.* per an. rent as then in lease to Sir Edward Villiers. But I do not find that this ferry was reputed part of said manor or comprised in that lease, for the bailiffs and collectors of the manor rents have never received the rent of the ferry, but it was constantly paid to the Receiver of [Crown Rents for] co. Surrey until it was passed inter al. to Charles Osborn and John Knight as trustees (as I suppose) for the Earl of Danby by grant dated 1678–9, Mar. 24, during the now Queen Dowager's life, to whom the said rents are now constantly paid. The lease to Sir Joseph Ash was passed 1661, May 31, for 30 years from 1662, Lady day (being the expiration of a former lease thereof for 40 years) under the old rent of 13*s.* 4*d.* and 3*l.* de incremento and fine of 20*l.* "by which the yearly value seems not to be double the old and increased rents." I find from a copy of the above grant to Mr. Osborn and Mr. Knight that it was obtained to supply [or as reprise for] several fee farm rents granted to the Earl of Danby, which were [unconveyable to him by reason of being] in the Queen's jointure, "and	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 70–1.

This may be done by indenture under the Exchequer seal. But to save expense petitioner prefers a lease for 26 years from 1692 on terms ut supra, "and leave her to take such a lease or assignment from my Lord of Danby's trustees as she shall be able to obtain," the expense of obtaining such indenture lease as above being more than the value of the premises besides the constant expense for boats. Her chief inducement is to have the ferry in such a hand as she may trust for the safety of her house standing so near it. The grant to Osborn and Knight ought to be enrolled with the Auditor [for co. Surrey] and before the Surveyor [General of Crown Lands], as it never passed any of those offices.

	The Treasury Lords to Mr. Price [Receiver General of the Revenue of Ireland]. We find your second account of the poundage moneys more free from errors than the first, supra, pp. 1236–7. Yet we have an objection to the interest for the year ended at Lady day last which you continue at the rate of 10 per cent. as you had before. The Earl of Rochester has intimated to us that you agreed to have but 6 per cent. for your debt upon the said poundage from 1686, Lady day This we find confirmed by a letter from you to his Lordship, dated 1685–6, Feb. 17, importing that you expected no more than 6 per cent. from that time. Please therefore rectify this mistake ; and also give the King credit for the full sums which you deducted in each quarter.	Out Letters (Ireland) V, p. 29.

We send this to acquaint you that in constituting this deputy we have proceeded according to the constant usage that hath been practised time out of mind and conformable to that power which, as we conceive, doth belong to us [as Farmers of the Alienation Office]. To satisfy you we enclose you a copy of the like deputation made 50 years since by the thon Bishop of London and Lord Treasuror, and the Lord Cottington, then Chancellor of the Exchequer. Another was signed by the Earl of Southampton, Lord Treasurer, and the Chancellor of the Exchequer in 1660. A third was signed by the Duke of Albemarle and the other Treasury Lords in 1668, and we believe no instance can be given to the contrary. As to the right of the King, it is an office which concerns the revenue; we are farmers thereof by patent under the great seal and the enabling Morley to administer oaths only for the better ascertaining that revenue is a matter wherein the revenue is concerned. We therefore hope you will cause him to be made one of the Masters of Chancery to attend in the said Office only.

	William Blathwayt to Col. Stede [Lieutenant Governor of Barbados]. I have read to the Treasury Lords that part of your letter of April 14 last which concerned the payment of 500*l.* to Col. Walrond and I also produced the certificates you sent me. But Col. Walrond has assured their Lordships that although the payment was made him in ready money and not in sugars or other goods, and although the word sterling is used in the acquittance, yet that sterling is only nominal and not equal in value to so much money in England, the Treasurer [of Barbados] not having given him bills of exchange but pieces of Eight at the current rate. Their Lordships therefore desire from you a clearer account of the manner of payment of the 500*l.*	Out Letters (Plantations Auditor) I, pp. 240-2.

Walrond the repayment of the whole 500*l.* pursuant to the Attorney General's report. As Walrond believes that this full sum has not been answered to his correspondent [in Barbados] notwithstanding the form of the abovesaid acquittance, you are to give order that he be paid the full sum of 500*l.* real sterling according to the Act of Assembly so that he may not bo obliged to repay more in England than he has received in Barbados. Prefixing : extract from said letter of Col. Stede's to Blathwayt, dated Barbados, April 14 last. I received your letter of Feb. 8 last on the 12th April inst. and immediately sent to the Clerk of the Committee of Public Accounts of this island, who lives in a remote place, for an account of the 500*l.* paid to Col. Walrond under the Act of Assembly of the year 1685. The truth will prove quite otherwise than Col. Walrond has alleged, as may appear by the said clerk's letter and certificate to me with copy of Sir Richard Dutton's order to the then Treasurer [of Barbados], Col. John Codrington, to pay said 500*l.* and by said Walrond's endorsement of receipt on the said order. By all these it appears that he has truly received the full sum in one entire payment in ready money and not in sugars or any other goods. I will with all expedition send you an account of his Majesty's casual revenue received by me here. It is now under examination, as are also the accounts of the Four and a Half per cent. duty. Considering my two years' long and dangerous sickness do not impute the delay to want of diligence, but to my weak condition. As for the 800*l.* remaining due on Hanson's accompt if the Lord Treasurer had required me to remit it by exchange it should have been done, but he ordered me to keep it in my hands here for satisfying such persons as were injured by Hanson's being carried off this island contrary to law.
June 24. 	Same to the Attorney or Solicitor General for a great seal to contain an indenture between the King of the one part and Randolph Ashenhurst of London, esq., Stephen Hales, Michael Cope and Thomas Ashenhurst of London, gent., of the other part, concerning the Royal Oak Lottery as follows: In consideration of the services of several loyal officers who served Charles I and II during the rebellion, Charles II did, with tho consent of them and of Lawrence de Puy and his partners (who then had some interest [in] the lottery called the Royal Oak Lottery), grant in 1669, April 16, to Sir Tho. By patent under the great seal of England, dated 1669, Aug. 3, Charles II released and abated to the said lessees or farmers several sums of money, part of the abovesaid yearly rents. The said farmers rendered several accounts in the Exchequer Court, Ireland, of their payments of their rent : and upon the foot of the last account thereof which terminated at Christmas, 1675 (the whole farm then ending), they appear to be indebted to Charles II in 19,633*l.* 6*s.* 8¼½*d.* By two orders of the Irish Privy Council, dated 1680, July 5, and July 21, the Duke of Ormonde, Lord Lieutenant, et al. did order the said farmers an allowance of 241*l.* disbursed for building an Exchange ; 49*l.* 2*s.* 11*d.* disbursed for building a Custom House at Baltimore ; 3,826*l.* 8*s.* 2½. for quit rents of Lord Dillon's lands discharged by patent by Charles II ; 1,262*l.* 0*s.* 1½*d.* for quit rents of Robt. Marshall in co. Kerry respited and reduced for the first three years of the farm. These defalcations left the debt remaining on the farmers as 14,254*l.* 15*s.* 5¼½*d.* By a writ of certiorari out of the English Chancery 1683, Mar. 27, the said debt was certified by the Exchequer Court, Ireland, into the Chancery Court, England, and in Trinity term, 1684, a judgment was obtained in the Exchequer Court, Ireland, against said Hayes et al. for the said debt to be paid to the King. His present Majesty is informed that a private contract or agreement was made with Charlos II by Sir William Bucknall or some other of the said farmers by which several sums were in respect of the said farm to be paid to the Keeper of the Privy Purse for his Majesty's particular use and service and that some part of the moneys which were to have been so paid pursuant to that private agreement do still remain unsatisfied. Now the present indenture of discharge witnesses that in consideration of 14,254*l.* 15*s.* 5*d.* paid to the King in the English Exchequer by the said Richard Graham, William Gulston, George Stanlake and Nicholas Donning, the King grants them the said debt of 14,254*l.* 15*s.* 5¼½*d.* so remaining due from said farmers and all other sums due from them [said Farmers] to the King by any account already stated or hereafter to be stated, whether under the covenants of the above lease or under the above private agreement for payment of any annual or other sum to the late King's Privy Purse ; and also the King hereby grants them all the lands and goods of the said Forth et al. which are or may be extended and seized for the said debt : all to hold to their own only use and behoof ; to the intent and purpose that the said Dannett Forth, Humphry Tailor, heirs of John Forth and William Muschampe and their estates shall be liable to extent for the said debt or their proportions thereof and that the said Sir William Bucknall, William Dashwood, Phillip Jemmett, John Breedon, George Dashwood, Ralph Bucknall and their estates and the estates of Sir James Hayes, and the estates of the said heirs and executors of Phillip Jemmett, George Dashwood, William Bucknall, William Dashwood and John Breedon shall not be in any wise prosecuted or extended for the said debt: And power is hereby given to the said Graham et al. as above to demand and levy the said debt from said Dannett Forth and Humphrey Tailor, John Forth's heirs and William Muschampe and their estates, in which they are to have the assistance of the King's process: and if any lands or chattels be extended or seized to the King for said debt, leases or assignments thereof are to be passed to said Graham et al.: and the King covenants that without the assent of said Graham et al. he will not discharge said Dannett Forth, Tailor, John Forth and William Muschampe or their estates from the said debt or do anything to hinder the recovery of said debt. And to the intent that the said Hayes, Ralph Bucknall and heirs etc. as above of Sir William Bucknall, William Dashwood, Phillip Jemmett, John Breedon and George Dashwood shall be freed from all further troubles touching the premises the King by these presents absolutely acquits, releases and discharges them and the estates of the said Hayes, Ralph Bucknall, Jemmett, George Dashwood, Sir William Bucknall, Willaim Dashwood and John Breedon from said debt and judgment and from any liability in respect of the said farm and of said private agreement with the late King Provided always that this discharge shall not extend to acquit or discharge any of the persons abovenamed or their heirs or their estates from any debts to which they are liable by virtue of the contract contained in an indenture under the great seal of England, dated 1671, Aug. 4, between Charles II of the one part; Richard, Visct. Ranelagh, Sir Alexander Bence, the said Sir James Hayes, John Bence, the said George Dashwood, Josoph Deane, Robt. Huntington, John Stepney and Richard Kingdon of the other part, or any matter or thing depending upon that contract or any the debts or moneys due thereon. Further, the said Sir James Hayes, Sir Jonathan Raymond et al. as above heroby quit claim the King of all demands on their parts in relation to the abovesaid farm. And as there are several arrears of rents, debts, duties etc. comprehended in their said farm which are still standing out and due to said farmers from several persons, corporations, lands etc. in Ireland, they as above hereby covenant with the King that in levying same they will observe all orders under the royal sign manual, orders of the Lord Lieutenant and Council or orders of the Treasury Lords, England, touching the levying and recovering thereof (except for debts duo to them upon bonds); all with the object of preventing vexatious trouble to the King's subjects in Ireland by a sudden and rigorous levying of said arrears.

The persons so to be commissioned are to enquire of such disposal of said ship and goods and of all concealments, abuses and indirect practices whereby the King has been defeated and not answered the value or proceed of the said prize: and thereupon process is to issue for the recovery thereof and to bring all persons accomptable therefor to account and pay the same to Sir Denny Ashburnham: and all moneys so recovered are to be paid to said Ashburnham and his acquittance for same shall be a sufficient discharge.

	The Treasury Lords to the Lord Deputy of Ireland. We have received your letter of the 21st past with the papers enclosed therein concerning Sir William Petty's quit rents. No procedure to reduce those quit rents has been made here further than this that his Majesty upon hearing Sir William's case (as stated from former reports and representations in the matter) signified his pleasure to accept from Sir William 400*l.* per an. from 1682, Sept. 29, for the quit rents of all his lands in Kerry (about which the dispute has been) upon condition that Sir William first agree with the respective Farmers [of the Revenue of Ireland] for their demands out of those lands. Since then Sir John Bucknall and others that were concerned in the Forths' farm [of the great branches of the revenue of Ireland] have appeared with Sir William Petty before us, the Treasury Lords, and as Sir William refused to agree with them on their demands the King has signed a warrant [ut supra, pp. 1422-4] for their discharge on payment of 14,254*l.* 15*s.* 5¼*d.* and after this in regard Sir William hitherto refuses to make an end with the Farmers (which was the previous [precedent] condition) we do not think that there remains any obligation to make him the said reducement of his quit rents to 400*l.* per an. until he have complied with the said condition.	Out Letters (Ireland) V, p. 39.

Will not the grant hereof be prejudicial to the Crown?	Ibid, p. 40.
	Treasury reference to William Hewer of the petition of William Hopton, shewing that he served for four years as a soldier in Tangier and is still in arrear for same; and that Capt. Langston, pretending that petitioner was his hired servant, intends to defraud him of his pay; therefore praying that said pay may be stopped in Hewer's hands and paid to petitioner.	Reference Book V, p. 103

(Treasury warrant, dated July 15, to the Customs Cashier to pay said sum and said salary accordingly. This warrant quotes the privy seal as dated July 14.) July 12. Windsor Castle.	Report to the King from the Treasury Lords on the petition of Mathew Dickenson et al. ut supra, pp. 1320–1, as by the order of reference of Mar. 18 last from the King in Council. Petitioners set forth ut supra ibid. We have referred same to Guiciardin Wentworth, esq, secretary for the affairs of the Duchy of Lancaster, and Auditor William Aldworth. Their report is as follows and we consider the matter to be truly and fully stated therein; and we concur therewith. Prefixing: (a) said order of reference from the King in Council. (b) Treasury order of reference dated April 21 last. (c) Said report from Wentworth and Aldworth, dated May 24 last. The late King granted to Thomas Windham under the Duchy seal all arrears due to the King [in said Duchy] from 1660 to 1682, Michaelmas. Thereupon the several auditors of the North and South [parts of said] Duchy were directed by the then Chancellor, Sir Thomas Chichly, to make out schedules of said arrears and amongst same of this sum of 126*l.* 2*s.* 2¾*d.*, which sum arises not from one entire fee farm rent of 10*l.* 8*s.* 0*d. per an.*, but from several rents as in the schedule below, and was made out by the auditor only for the Chancellor's information and not otherwise. The messenger, Benjamin Ayloff, before he went down to levy, did not attend the auditor of the premises to receive instructions as in this case was requisite, but went only to the Receiver, whose books of receipts were shown to him and copies offered him, which had he accepted it would then have appeared that the petitioners Dickenson, Robinson and Lumpkin had duly answered their respective rents. As to Mayden, we do not find that he holds any of the lands out of which these rents are issuing, so that there could be no pretence of making any distress upon him: and Smyth produces acquittances to clear his rent. We are of opinion that the 122*l.* 15*s.* 0*d.* was unduly levied upon the petitioners and ought to be forthwith paid them with such reparations and allowances for their loss and charges herein as the Treasury Lords think fit. (d) Said schedule of rents.	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 114–6.

	Same to the Attorney or Solicitor General to acknowledge satisfaction on record of the fine of 500*l.* imposed on Joseph Wetwang in Trinity term last in the King's Bench for grand misdemeanours; Dame Isabell Wetwang, relict of Sir John Wetwang, kt., and mother of the said Joseph, having petitioned for his release therefrom, he being very sick and she not able to maintain him in prison. He is hereby to be released from prison.	King's Warrant Book XII, p. 181.
	Royal sign manual for 1,000*l.* to Henry Guy for secret service, without account: to be issued on the privy seal dormant of May 31 last. (Money warrant dated July 20 hereon. Money order dated July 21 hereon.)	Ibid, p. 182. Money Book VIII, p. 209. Order Book II, p. 74.
July 20 and 30.	Royal warrant granting full power, licence and authority to William Constable to forthwith repair to the place [near Hispaniola] where the silver and other riches were lately taken up (in considerable quantity out of the sea by the Duke of Albemarle, which was brought home in the James and Mary, Capt. Phipps commander), with such company and assistance as he shall think necessary; and if he shall find that any other of the King's subjects than the said Duke or his partners or his agents duly authorised by the King, have or shall have taken up any such treasure since the departure of the said ship James and Mary and before the arrival of the ships designed for the new voyage (in accordance with the new contract, ut supra, p. 1426, made with said Duke and others), then to demand and receive for the King's use a moiety thereof as belonging to the King in right of his Admiralty and to use all lawful means for recovering and securing said moiety. The said Constable's acquittances are hereby to be a sufficient discharge. And he and his executors and assigns are hereby authorised to detain to his own use a tenth part of such moiety so recovered and secured. All by reason that said Constable has represented that it is very probable that others of the King's subjects	King's Warrant Book XII, pp. 182–4, 193–4.

(This warrant was cancelled and a new one drawn July 30 : tho only difference being that the new warrant recites a report or certificate of the 11th inst. made by the Judge of the Admiralty and the Judge Advocate to the effect that by the ancient ordinances of the Admiralty his Majesty's part [as Lord Admiral] amounts to a moiety.)
July 20.	Royal warrant to the Attorney or Solicitor General for a great seal for a grant to Sir John Trevor, kt., Master of the Rolls, and William Eyton, esq., Lieut.-Col. of the King's First Regiment of Foot Guards, of the office of Constable of Flint Castle with the usual fee of 10*l. per an.* payable half yearly out of the revenue of North Wales ; and of the office of keeper of the gaol of the Castle of Flint with the yearly fee of 6*l.* 1*s.* 8*d.* payable in like manner : to hold during pleasure and to execute by themselves or deputies to be approved by the Treasury Lords : the said office having been granted 1672–3, Jan. 24, to said Lieut.-Col. Eyton and David Eyton, which grant being during pleasure became void by the death of Charles II. Further, the present herein patent is to grant to the said Trevor and Eyton the office of Surveyor and Master Mason of all the works in and about the castle of Chester and the office of Comptroller of the Records within the counties of Chester and Flint and of Comptroller of the pleas, fines and amerciaments of North Wales in the county of Carnarvon ; which last said offices were granted 1683, April 5, to Peter Whitley, esq., which grant is become void in like manner.	King's Warrant Book XII, pp. 185–6.
	Same to the Clerk of the Signet for a privy seal for tallies of assignment to be levied and stricken at the Exchequer for 350*l.* for Sir Thomas Duppa upon the Bishop of Exeter for Tenths of the clergy in that diocese grown due at or before 1684, Christmas ; or in any way which the Treasury Lords shall think fit to cause the said 350*l.* to be allowed to the said Duppa : all upon condition that said Duppa do first assign to the King his right or interest in the sum of 350*l.* due from Edward Butler : all by reason that said Duppa has petitioned setting forth ut supra, p. 1411, and that he had procured a bond from said Butler to be given to Charles II for said 350*l.* and has since used divers. means to recover same, but without effect ; on which petition a report was made June 28 last by Richard Graham and Phillip Burton : the King being pleased to gratify petitioner's request as a mark of favour for long service to Charles II and James II.	Ibid, pp. 187–9.
	Same to Sir Denny Ashburnham, bart., to make a declaration in writing of the trusts as follow concerning the prize ship Dragon and to cause all the moneys arising by said ship and her lading to be applied and disposed of accordingly, viz. By privy seal of July 7 inst. the King directed an enquiry into the value or proceeds of tho ship Dragon and her lading (which ship etc. belonged to the subjects of the Statos General of the United Provinces and	Ibid, pp. 189–90.

July 20. Whitehall, Treasury Chambers.	Treasury reference to the Customs Commissioners of the memorial on behalf of the poor at Trinity House and [the poor pensioners of] the [Navy] Chest at Chatham; said memorial praying that for the greater benefit of said poor they may be eased of the charge of maintaining collectors appointed by his Majesty to collect the duty laid upon all foreign built ships and [for this saving] to be divided by equal portions between the [said two sets of] poor by allowing the brothren of the said Trinity House to collect the said duty by themselves.	Reference Book V, p. 125.
	Same to same of the petition of Tho. Jury, Keeper of Leighton Walk in Waltham Forest, shewing that going his rounds "the 27th of this inst. May" he met two waggons and a cart ladon with tobacco, which he seized and brought to the King's warehouse: therefore praying grant of a part of said seizure free from duty or charge "except such as he shall expend for recovery of the same in the Exchequer."	Ibid, p. 127.
July 20. Windsor Castle.	Treasury warrant to [John Fisher], Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, for a particular of the perquisites and profits of court in the lordship and soke of Kirton in Lindsey, co. Lincoln, parcel of the Duchy of Cornwall, in order to a new lease thereof under the Exchequer seal to John Rayner, esq., for 31 years on surrender of his term in being and at a rent of 12*l. per an.*: and with a clause for granting him again for the like term the manor of Hibaldstow at a fourth part rent and to have ten yoars' time for the recovery theroof to the Crown; also with a clause for granting him all such lands as he shall at his own charge discover to be escheated to the Crown within the lordship and soke of Kirton at the like rent of a fourth part of the full yearly profits thereof. Prefixing: the said Fisher's report on said Rayner's petition for same. By a former ratal and particular of said perquisites and profits I find that they were to bo granted to Willoughby Rooksby, esq., for 31 years from 1685, Lady day. There is a covenant for the rendering of a triennial account of the proceeds of the premises, "but this covenant is generally neglected by all lessees," so I propose to reinsert it in the new lease with a penal clause as there are no other means of coming to a true knowledge of the real value. The copyholders within this lordship claim their fines to be certain but they have been anciently accounted uncertain, and so the lessee covenants to charge and levy them. The deputy steward, who is now in town, has given me an account thereof for the last four or five years, from which it appears that the receipts do not amount to double the rent. The reserved rent is supposed to be the full value of tho premises. I therefore advise no fine. I also advise a lease as above of the manor of Hibaldstow (Hiberstow, alias Hybalstow), which was formerly	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 112–3.

Treasury warrant to John Fisher for a particular of the royalties of hunting, hawking, fishing and fowling in the manors of Tywarnhaile and Moresk, two of the ancient manors of the Duchy of Cornwall: with a view to a lease thereof to John Arundell (near whose house at Trerice the premises lie) for 31 years at 6*s.* 8*d.* and 3*s.* 4*d.* per an. rents respectively. Prefixing: report ut supra. The said royalties have been of late years granted by the Commissioners appointed for the assessioning of those manors, but not (according to the Custom) from seven years to seven years, but during pleasure, which grant became void at the late King's decease. I think it better to pass them by lease under the Exchequer seal for some small increase of rents (they being only honorary things and of inconsiderable value), viz. a noble a year for the royalty in the manor of Tywarnhaile and ten groats for that in the manor of Moresk. Particulars may be made out by the assessionary books and rated accordingly.	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, p. 114.

1687. July 21. Barbados.	Col. Edwyn Stede [Lieut.-Gov. of Barbados] to the Treasury Lords. On the first notification of your appointment as Treasury Lords I sent you a general account of the occurrences in this island and particularly what related to the revenue. Since then, little has offered worthy of notice. The Four and a Half per cent. Duty will this year fall much short of the two preceding years. This is occasioned by the smallness of the crop and not by want of care in the officers, for it is now under such a method that it is not possible to make a greater improvement of it. It will appear from the accompts which I sent some time since of that revenue that there is above 1,000*l.* remaining in cash here for want of means to return it, good bills being scarce to be had here, nor will anybody draw a bill under 10 per cent., which we count now the common exchange of this island for bills of oxchange. As I have no warrant to give that or any sum for the purchase of bills I am not qualified so to do. I await your commands herein. In my last I proposed that all Custom House salaries, rents and incidents should be paid out of the money here received "if they amount to more than the offal and course species of this country produce not fit to be sent to the English market." My own salary might also be so paid here to save the charge of purchasing bills of exchange, though otherwise it would be more commodious to me to receive my salary in England. As I have not hitherto sent a stated account of my receipts as Collector of his Majesty's casual revenue in this island I now lay the whole state of that receipt before you; desiring excuse if the method thereof is not agreeable to the Exchequer methods "which are not well known to us here." The greatest sums therein paid by me are vouched by Mr. Blathwayt and Mr. Guy, and I am ready to produce such vouchers for the other sums as you may require, desiring you to account them as well vouched by my oath. I have procured for his Majesty, whose right it was, 400*l.* sterling for a parcel of land escheated which my predecessor had contracted to sell to the same person for 100*l.* to his own account. With the general account I also send a particular account and list of debts outstanding in this island and due to the estate of one Moxon and Holloway etc. in Company, which Holloway was executed in England for a traitor. Sir Richard Dutton was ordered to get in those debts, but he delayed it so long before he gave me the papers that several of the debtors, being traders to and from this island, went off and died in remote parts, leaving no estate in this island. The balance resting in my hands on this and all accounts of the casual revenue is upwards of 2,000*l.* sterling, which is ready to be paid here at an hour's warning or remitted as you shall direct. But Treasurer Rochester ordered 800*l.* to remain in my hands (out of the 2,000*l.* received for the unlawful carrying away of Hanson, then the King's prisoner) in order to satisfy such of the inhabitants here as were injured by Hanson's being so carried away. I myself was so injured and I desire consideration in that particular. At the close of the accounts I have added some observations particularly relating to informers and the Attorney General [of this island] and desire your	Out Letters (Plantations Auditor) I, pp. 235–8.

1687.	directions therein particularly relating to the prosecution of concealments of forfeited or escheated estates. As for the deodands, it rests entirely with the King to order as to the disposal of them to charitable uses desired by the vestries of the several parishes. I have lately held a Grand Sessions for this island, at which the fines and forfeited recognizances amount to about 1,300*l.* sterling, but I fear little will be got from the forfeited recognizances which make up a great part of said total, for the parties are dead or gone off or little worth. Some of the fines are paid and charged in my present account, but the great fine of 500*l.* on Sir Timothy Thornhill (whose misdoing deserved a far greater one) he has appealed against to the King. I know no just pretence he has to hope for a pardon of it. The list of the said fines and forfeited recognizances will be sent by the next [boat] to Mr. Blathwayt with the rest of the Sessions papers, which cannot sooner be got ready.
July 22.	Henry Guy to the Auditor of the Receipt to issue to me [Guy] for secret service the 100*l.* paid into the Exchequer by Sir William Rook, late sheriff of Kent, for a fine set upon Thomas Gouldsmith, "notwithstanding any signification to the contrary."	Disposition Book VI, p. 86.

Price out of Ireland and by an order of the Exchequer Court the seizure for the said 10,600*l.* was to have preference of all other seizures: petitioner being informed that the estate so seized is able to satisfy both sums prays that said 4,203*l.* 17*s.* 0*d.* may be satisfied thereout and that he may be allowed the like sum upon his account of the Forces for the year ended 1685, Dec. 31. Memorandum: "this petition was enclosed in a letter to Mr. Graham, Mr. Burton and Mr. Noell, who made their report, which with the petition were again referred" as above.	Ibid, pp. 119–20.

	Same to William Hewer of the petition of John Boyle, shewing that John Chuter, a soldier at Tangie, assigned his Tangier pay to him in consideration of moneys lent: that Chuter is since killed in the West: therefore prays that Chuter's arrear of said pay may be stopped in Hewer's hands and paid to petitioner.	Ibid.

Please send the Treasury Lords an account how much you have so stopped, so that they may give order for the relief of said inhabitants.	Ibid, p. 156.
	Treasury reference to the Earl of Dumbarton of the abovesaid petition, together with William Hewer's report formerly made on the case. The Treasury Lords think it unreasonable to keep the poor inhabitants longer out of their money and therefore desire the Earl of Dunbarton to appoint his representative to meet Mr. Hewer and Mr. Alexander, agent to the said Regiment, and newly come from Ireland, and to attend the Treasury Lords with the result.	Reference Book V, p. 126.
	Same to William Hewer of the petition of James Alexander, shewing that he was appointed agent by the Earl of Dumbarton's Regiment when in Ireland and as such received from the late Farmers of the Irish Revenue, for the use of said Regiment, seven assignments on their respective collectors for [in all] 1,388*l.* 4*s.* 8¼*d.*, of which the said collectors have paid only 256*l.* 14*s.* 9*d.* as not having effects in their hands to pay the remainder : further that he received seven warrants from the Governor in Ireland in 1682 for remitting several cheques amounting to 75*l.* 15*s.* 6*d.*, which [sum] he never could receive from the Vice Treasurer, but is still also owing to the officers and soldiers [of said Regiment] : that he has applied to the Farmers for satisfaction, but is delayed on pretence that their accounts are depending before the Treasury Lords : and that he is daily threatened to be arrested for the said moneys : therefore prays payment thereof out of some certain fund either here or in Ireland.	Ibid, p. 121.

1687. June 28.	Treasury reference to the Auditor concerned, of the petition of Richard James, shewing that he can inform of several estates concealed from the Crown belonging to the Castle of Radnor; that he holds some Crown lands belonging to said castle from one Richards, his Majesty's auditor, of which one Watkins has endeavoured to deprive him: therefore praying that he may enjoy his estate peaceably.	Reference Book V, p. 124.
	The Treasury Lords to the Lord Deputy of Ireland. Mr. Strong, being ready to depart for Ireland to do his service, has been with us. In the Commission which appointed him he is named Robert Strong, whereas his true name is William Strong. We remember there was a subsequent warrant dated April 5 last for a new Commission which was to rectify this misnomer. Has this been yet done? If not, please give order for it to be done.	Out Letters (Ireland) V, p. 41.

	Same to Visct. Falkland [Treasurer of the Navy] to report on the enclosed petition and bills of James Pearse, Chirurgeon General of the Navy. Appending: note only of said Pearse's petition for 261*l.* 4*s.* 8*d.* for his salary before 1686, Mar. 25, as Surgeon General of the Navy, upon eight bills signed by the Navy Commissioners.	Out Letters (General) XI, p. 152.

July 29. Treasury Chambers.	Henry Guy to Mr. Whitfeild [Clerk of Foreign Estreats] to send a perfect and particular list of all the moneys which were issued in the summons of the Greenwax or other process into the counties of Durham and Northumberland and town of Newcastle within seven years last past for forfeitures incurred in that time or before on the statute of 5 Eliz. for executing the writ de excommunicato capiendo and the names of the respective persons against whom those processes were issued, "which forfeitures or some of them were estreated out of the King's Bench into your Office, as appears by the enclosed certificate" [missing]. You are also to specify the names of the sheriffs to whom they [said summons] were issued and what return they have made thereupon in each case.	Out Letters (General) XI, p. 153.
	Same to the Solicitor General. On June 18 last, supra, p. 1413, I sent to the Attorney General and yourself some considerations for settling the business relating to pedlars etc. for your report thereon. As the Attorney General is out of town and cannot join with you, please report your opinion singly.	Ibid, p. 154.
	Same to Mr. Hewer to stop in your hands all moneys due to William Hopton for his four years' arrears of pay at Tangier till he and Capt. Langston are agreed; upon your report on said Hopton's petition ut supra, p. 1440.	Ibid, p. 156.
	Same to Mr. Blathwayt. The Treasury Lords have considered the report of the Earl of Ranelagh and yourself on the petition of Col. Peircy Kirk, the Field Officers and Captains of the Queen Dowager's Regiment of Foot, praying allowance of the 500*l.*, ut supra, p. 1333, as within the measure of the King's bounty extended to other regiments in the like cases. You state that the royal warrant of 1685, June 21, directed Mr. Fox to advance said sum to the agent of the regiment for the use of the regiment and to be deducted out of their pay, but that by the subsequent royal warrant of 1686, Mar. 26, it is declared that same was intended for providing clothes for recruits of said regiment, which being presently after disbanded the said clothes were not made use of, so that no allowance could be made for same out of the pay of the private soldiers. My Lords have laid this matter before the King and received his pleasure that a warrant pass to allow said 500*l.* to said officers for the charges they were at in raising and disbanding their recruits without any deduction whatsoever out of their pay as aforesaid.	Ibid.
July 29.	Treasury warrant to Sir John Shaw, bart., Collector Inwards, London port, and to Sir Nicho. Crispe, bart., Collector Outwards ibid., to swear John Payne into office as deputy to John Needler, Comptroller of Great and Petty Customs ibid. (Cancelled and a fresh warrant issued 1687, Aug. 4, to the Customs Commissioners to admit said Payne as such deputy.)	Out Letters (Customs) XI, pp. 59, 60.

July 29.	Treasury reference to Sir Thomas Powys, Solicitor General, of the Customs Commissioners' report on George Clarke's petition, ut supra, p. 1441, desiring the King to grant a commission to certain persons for the sole importing of Spanish wool, with prohibition to all others, and that such Commissioners should undertake to pay 6*d.* per pound upon the importation of all Spanish wool.	Reference Book V, p. 122.
	Same to William Hewer of the petition of Sir Jo[h]n Mordaunt for money to be allowed him for his seven houses demolished at Tangier: with certificates annexed [missing].	Ibid, p. 123.
	Same to the Hearthmoney Commissioners of the petition of Mathew Hamerton for the place of Maurice Trant as Receiver General of Hearthmoney in co. Yorks, said Trant being in a decaying condition of health and petitioner and his family having been great sufferers for loyalty. In the margin, 1687, Aug. 5: petitioner is recommended to said Commissioners, who are to present him for said employment if vacant or for some other which he may be fit for.	Ibid.
	Same to Brook Bridges and Tho. Done, Auditors of Imprests, and to Auditor Aldworth, of the petition of Antho. Rowe and partners, late Farmers of Hearthmoney; petitioners shewing that the above referees have lately reported that several tallies were wanting to vouch the payment of 150,000*l.* advance money which they claim allowance of; that they are prosecuted on the said account, but have now produced other vouchers for payment of said 150,000*l.*: therefore praying that same may be allowed on their account.	Ibid.
	Same to said Bridges and Done of the exceptions of Mr. Cooper and Mr. Gibson against the report from Mr.Graham and Mr. Burton concerning Mr. Benefice's account for Sick and Wounded seamen in the late [second] Dutch war.	Ibid, p. 125.
	Treasury warrant to the Clerk of the Pipe for a lease to Mary Craven and Martha Allen of the premises ut supra, p. 1476, for 31 years at 36*s. per an.* rent. Prefixing: ratal by John Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, of the particular, ut supra ibid. of said premises. Petitioner's father, Francis Allen, was actually in service for Charles I against the rebels and suffered in his estate and several years' imprisonment "though probably not at Oxford, which, as Mr. Graham and Mr. Burton observe, seems to be a mistake, but rather in some garrison of the rebels." I conceive 36*s.*, a tenth of the value, will be a reasonable rent, as they are likely to be forced to a suit at law before they recover quiet possession. Followed by: entry of the Treasury Lords' signature, dated 1687, Aug. 15, of the docquet of this demise; the lessee being Bernard Foster, esq., at the nomination of said Craven and Allen.	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 122, 130.

July 30.	Privy seal for [sums up to a total of] 10,000*l.* to Sir Robert Vyner for gold works, gilt and white plate and other things which he has delivered or shall deliver into the Jewel House; according to such certificates as he shall from time to time produce under the hand of the Master of the King's Jewels and Plate from the books of that Office. (Royal warrant, dated July 20, to the Clerk of the Signet for said privy seal.)	King's Warrant Book XII, p. 187.
	For William Constable's royal warrant see supra, pp. 1467–8.	Ibid, pp. 193–4.
	Treasury reference to Mr. Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, of the petition of Henry Grey and Dionisius Andrews to the King; petitioners shewing that there are several derelict lands in Essex and several rivulets and creeks in some of them fit for oyster beds, not yet granted; and that there are several other derelict lands in Kent and several thereof are enclosed, built upon and concealed; therefore praying a lease of a moiety of same for 61 years [on their vindicating the Crown's title and] rendering the other moiety to the King free of charge.	Reference Book V, p. 125.
	Report to the Treasury Lords by William Blathwayt on the petition of Lord Colepeper, ut supra, pp. 1460–1. Upon a like reference, supra, p. 709, I roported (ut supra, pp. 810–12) to Treasurer Rochester, who was thereupon of opinion that Colepeper's orders for payment of the soldiers did not reach further than to 1683–4, Jan. 1, and that after the item of 2*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* for building a shed at the Guard House and 2*l.* 17*s.* 0*d.* paid by Lord Effingham's order at the raising of the flag, there would only remain 121*l.* 6*s.* 6*d.* (instead of 233*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*) to be deducted out of the 700*l.* on account of the soldiers, whereby there would remain to be allowed to Mr. Bacon 112*l.* 6*s.* 10*d.* "upon his satisfying the same to Lord Colepeper." As to the alleged arrear of perquisites and several escheats and money on bond, he [the late Treasurer Rochester] did at the same time think it reasonable that the King's orders be signified to the present Governor of Virginia to procure all just satisfaction to Lord Colepeper "in both which particulars all necessary directions would have been given if the Lord Colepeper had solicited the despatch [thereof]."	Out Letters (Plantations Auditor) I, pp. 234–5.
July 31.	Henry Guy to the Customs Commissioners. On the 14th inst. I sent you a letter concerning the Duchess of Mazarin's goods. You have not yet delivered same. 	Same to the Attornoy or Solicitor General to acknowledge satisfaction upon record of the fine of 50*l.* set upon Henry Bridge in 1684, Trinity term, in the Crown Office for a riot and entering the house of Mary Quartermain and taking thence divers parcels of lace; the said Quartermain having by instrument dated April 15 last released said Bridge of all actions against him; and he being unable to pay the fine and his wife and children being undone by his being kept prisoner in the King's Bench. Aug. 9.	Report to the King from the Treasury Lords on the proposal of Sir William Creagh referred ut supra, p. 1370. The Customs Commissioners have thereon reported as follows, and we concur with their said report. Appending: (1) said report, dated Custom House, London, 1687, July 8. The [petitioner's] printed book on the subject is herewith returned. The purport is to persuade the reasonableness of an abatement of the duty on coals exported to foreign parts to reduce it to some equality with the duty on coals exported from Scotland. By a former memorial of the said Sir William Creagh's in Nov., 1684, we observe that the abatement then proposed was a fourth part; which though a considerable part of the duty, yet considering the great inequality between the Customs in England and Scotland upon that commodity, is not sufficient to give balance to the coal trade as is proposed. But the same must, as we conceive, depend upon other circumstances, such as the usefulness of the English coal beyond that of Scotland or the difficulty of the Scotch navigation and the distance that the Scotch coals are brought to the place of lading. And although by the said former proposition in Nov., 1684, we were told that unless some speedy remedy were had the said trade and the King's revenue [arising thereout] would be greatly impaired, yet upon examining the accounts since that time we do not find any considerable alteration therein. We therefore cannot advise so great an abatement of the duty without some more certain prospect of advantage than yet appears.	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, p. 133.

	Royal warrant to the Lord Deputy of Ireland to to pass a patent under the great seal of Ireland to grant to Rowland White of the Middle Temple, London, and John Bagott of Dublin, their heirs and assigns for ever [in trust as follows], 944 acres of land as follow, commonly called the Thirteenth Quarter of land in the Barony of Dunluce "that is to say in the Quarter of Cross, Glenstall, Dromneagh, Ballynecrebegg, Drumnehesky, Bonderog, Cabragh, Lower and Upper Enagh, Drumskea and Unshinagh, Ballynovy and Claghy, 944 acres profitable land, plantation measure according to the Down survey, lying and being in the barony of Dunluce and county of Antrim," by what[ever] names, quantities of acres, bounds and divisions "as is or shall be thought proper and fit": [this grant to be] to Capt. Randall Macdonnell as follows: with all rights, fishings etc. etc.: and of the reversion thereof and all the Crown's title thereto: to hold for the following purposes, viz. to the use of Capt. Randall Macdonel and of Hannah his wife for their lives without impeachment of waste and after them to the use of their first son and the heirs male of such son, in default whereof then to the second son and his heirs male and similiter for the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and every other such son successively; and in default thereof then to the daughters of said Randall and Hannah and the heirs of their body: and in default thereof then to the use of the right heirs of said Randall for ever: to be holden of the Crown as of the castle of Dublin in free and common socage under the rent of 5*l*. sterling per an.: and with a clause to discharge the said Randall and Hannah and their successors herein as above of the 900*l*. arrears of rent heretofore incurred and due to the Crown: and likewise with a clause to empower any of the persons, entitled as above, to make leases of any part of the premises not exceeding 21 years "so as that there shall be reserved and payable thereupon the best and most improved yearly rents that can be had or gotten for the rents so leased," but no fine to be taken for such leases and no tenant to be dispunishable for waste. Massareene or his tenants up to the time that said lands were seized into the King's hands: but the said Randall is hereby to be empowered to sue for and receive or compound samo to his own proper use. The present grant is by reason that said Randall lately petitioned the King, setting forth that his father, Sir James Macdonell, in 1641 had a plentiful estate in co. Antrim, which was seized in the late Usurper's time and set out except about 900 acres in the barony of Dunluce, which petitioner now holds of the Crown at 60*l.* per an. rent by virtue of a lease from the Crown to the Marquess of Antrim and by said Marquess assigned to petitioner: that said Marquess during his lifetime was constantly in suit for said 900 acres and was kept out of possession of them for 20 years by John, Lord Massareene, and expended near 2,000*l.* in defending the Crown's right to said lands: that since said Marquess's death petitioner has recovered possession of said lands from said lord: therefore prays a grant of the [Crown's right of] reversion thereof and that the arrears of the outrent accrued since the said [Marquess of Antrim's] lease may be remitted. The said petition being referred by the Treasury Lords, England, May 19 last, to the Lord Deputy of Ireland and by him to the Attorney and Solicitor General, Ireland. Whereupon the said Attorney General reported June 6 last that the abovesaid 944 acres were sequestered; that the Duke of York, now King, claiming same under the Acts of Settlement and Explanation, as belonging to one Andrews, a regicide, made a lease as above to said Marquess, who sued for same against said Lord Massareene, who pretended a right thereto as a purchaser under said Andrews: that said lands were seized into the King's hands for the said arrear of 900*l.* accrued up to 1685, May, and a custodiam thereof granted to John Ellis in trust for the Crown: that said Ellis leased to petitioner at 60*l.* 5*s.* 0*d.* per an. rent and the Revenue Commissioners, Ireland, put him in possession under the said custodee Ellis, and petitioner gave security to discharge the arrears and has since paid the accruing rent. The Lord Deputy agreeing with the said report of the Attorney General, the King hereby orders the grant as above in consideration of the loyalty and great sufferings of petitioner and his father.

This authorisation to be retrospective and to cover all such payments made since the King's accession, although no authority to warrant same has been given in their commission or in late Commissions of the Revenue, Ireland: the King being well satisfied that such payments have been necessary.	Out Letters (Ireland) V, pp. 46–8.

1687.	Prefixing: report, dated June 21, by said J. Fisher on said Hales's petition for same. The ground in question is part of the strip of land that has been of late years used with the house Mr. Webb lives in and anciently belonged to St. James's Park, though it lay outside the East side of the wall, and the benefit thereof was formerly taken by the keepers of the park and was in the possession of one Mr. Edward Jolley by licence from Philip, Earl of Pembroke, keeper of the park in the reign of Charles I and when the Duke of Albemarle had that keepership Mr. Jolley compounded with his Grace for his continuance therein, and having bestowed cost on the house and been an old servant to Charles I, the late Treasurer Southampton thought fit to buy that permissive or equitable interest of Mr. Jolley for 260*l.* and then Webb came into the house and had the benefit of this strip of ground, which was then computed at about 570 foot long and 30 foot broad and bounded on the east by an old drain or sewer, which has been since filled up, and encroached upon by the late builders of the new street next adjoining now called Duke Street, and [it is] not left now above 25 foot in depth and has been often petitioned for since the Restoration, particularly in 1681 by Mr. Henry Vaughan, and since by Mris. Mary Gounter, on which latter petition I reported 1685, Nov. 14, to the late Treasurer Rochester. Since the building of this new street several parts of this ground have been gotten and used with those houses that are against and contiguous to it, for which it lies exceeding convenient. The house which the present petitioner has purchased and lives in is one of the four built there by one Mr. Banks of London, timber merchant, whereof the most southerly is now inhabited by the Countess of Plymouth and is of equal dimension with this, 40 foot wide a piece; the third on the north side of this is but 30 foot wide and uninhabited; the last most northerly is in the possession of the Earl of Scarsdale and of the like dimension with the two first. I am informed that the Countess of Plymouth's part of this ground (which is separated from the rest by a brick wall) is valued and [has] been let at 10*l. per an.*; that part against this [present petitioner's] house is likewise severed [by a wall] and some sheds and necessary houses built upon the north end of it and may be of equal value with the Lady Plymouth's "and [a further part] which lies against the next house more northerly, desired likewise by this petitioner, containing in length 30 foot, is not taken into that house, but lies open with that part that lies against the Earl of Scarsdale's house and may be divided from it by a wall and this 30 foot in length by the same proportion will be worth 7*l.* 10*s.* 0*d. per an.*, which I conceive are great rates, being 5*s.* a foot [for] but 25 foot deep; yet considering their conveniences of letting them into the park whereinto this petitioner has obtained a door from his Majesty and to prevent others from building thereon which would blind their houses and hinder their prospect into the park, it may not be thought unreasonable; and accordingly this 70 foot desired by this petitioner, being thus valued at 17*l.* 10*s.* 0*d. per an.*, the chief part whereof he informs me he intends for a little garden and passage into the park and upon the rest to erect some low buildings against the park wall for a kitchen and other out offices."

	Treasury warrant to John Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, for a particular of two small tenements in Austell Prior, parcel of the Duchy of Cornwall, with a view to a fresh lease thereof to Joseph Saule for 31 years at 46*s.* 8*d.* per an. for the tenement and mill and 9*s.* per an. for the other small tenement and fine of 25*l.*; all on surrender of his present interest. Prefixing: said Fisher's report, dated July 14, on said Saule's petition for said fresh lease. The tenement and mill were leased to Mr. Seymour from 1661 and petitioner, being the ancient tenant, was forced to purchase from him at a dear rate in June, 1662. The second is a small tenement in decay and 1½ acres of land which Mr. Seymour thought not worth his taking, being formerly in 2 Car. I granted in the same lease with the first tenement: petitioner has been a tenant at will therein ever since 1657, when the lease granted in 2 Car. I expired.	Ibid, pp. 134–5.
	Same to Coningesby Williams, Henry Wynn, Thomas Roberts, Cadwalader Lloyd, gent., and all other the freeholders as follow. It is the King's pleasure that the said Coningesby Williams have full power and licence of the King by and with the consent of the freeholders and inhabitants who have right of feeding upon the common or waste called Porthaetwy Common near the banks of the river Menaij to build on any part of said common a house near the ferry there convenient for the habitation of the men who ply and attend the said ferry; reserving a rent of 12*d.* to the Crown, payable yearly to the Receiver of North Wales: all by reason that the said Williams, who is his Majesty's tenant of the said ferry upon the river Menai between the counties of Carnarvon and Anglesea, has represented to the King that said ferry is the principal passage between the said two counties and therefore much frequented by passengers and inhabitants thereabouts, but in regard there are no houses for the habitation of the ferrymen the passage is much incommoded and many times by their [the ferrymen's] absence passengers are retarded; wherefore he prayed a licence to build such a house as above with consent as above: on which petition the Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands has certified that the soil of the said common called Porthaetwy is acknowledged to be in the Crown, but the feed and grazing thereupon belongs to the freeholders and inhabitants of the parish of Llandesilio, co. Anglesea, and others the commoners there, wherein that common lies; and that it is a convenient place for the erection of such a house.	Ibid, pp. 135–6.

Oct. 20.	Treasury warrant to the Attorney or Solicitor General for a great seal as follows for a Commission to John Phelipps, Col. Thomas Napier, Thomas Price, Richard Sheldon and Jerome Nipho for licensing and regulating hackney coaches. By the Act of 13 and 14 Car. II [14 Car. II, c. 2] the number of licensed hackney coaches for London, Westminster and suburbs and the parishes within the bills of mortality should be limited to 400 under the penalty of 100*l.* for each coach licensed above that number. Since the expiration of said Act divers persons taking advantage thereof have in great numbers presumed to set up and do daily multiply supernumerary hackney coaches to drive for hire about the said cities and suburbs without any order, rule or government to the great annoyance of the streets, obstruction of passage and trade and the frequent occasions of strife and quarrels as also by reason of their numbers and their standing frequently in places inconvenient, in expectation of hire: all which having been taken notice of by the Grand Jury for Middlesex they did in Michaelmas term last present into the King's Bench Court at Westminster that the number of the said hackney coaches was a nuisance and a great grievance to the subjects: and further complaint of the said grievance to their trades and businesses has been made to the King by divers of the said subjects and of the great want of good rules and orders to be observed by the drivers thereof. The King therefore "to whom the undoubted power of punishing, removing, correcting and restraining all public nuisances, annoyances and disorders in the common streets, highways and passages doth of right belong" does hereby constitute and authorise the said Phelipps et al. as above as Commissioners for licensing, regulating, ordering and governing all hackney coaches to be let or driven for hire about the said cities, suburbs and parishes: with power to licence such and so many as shall be thought fit to keep and drive hackney coaches for hire in and about said cities and places and so to regulate all such licensed persons as may be most for the benefit and ease of the people. Herein the said Commissioners are to observe such orders as they shall from time to time receive of the King or the Treasury Lords. Followed by: instructions to be observed by said Commissioners. (1) You are to take care that no more than 400 hackney coaches be suffered to drive for hire within the abovesaid places. (2) You are to licence 400 such coaches and no more, taking care that the 400 now licensed by the Lord Mayor of London and Court of Aldermen be in the first place provided for and that their widows (if any) have their husband's licence and figure continued to them and renewed yearly with the rest, if qualified; and if any person be by losses disabled from keeping such coaches they are to be permitted to transfer their licences and figure to some fit person in like manner as hath been heretofore used.	King's Warrant Book XII, pp. 274–7.

1687.	(3) No gelding, horse or mare of less than 14 hands high according to the standard are to be used in any of the said coaches. (4) The perch of each figured coach is to be 10 feet long and they are to have cross braces before and not braced down but to hang upon a level and not with the hinder part higher than the former part thereof. (5) No such coach to stand nearer than eight feet of the houses, walls and shops in any the abovesaid places and no two coaches to stand abreast in any street, but so far asunder that passengers may with ease pass between them. (6) A figure or mark of distinction to be fitted, visible and plain, upon the middle of the hinder part of the body of each coach. (7) No licensed coachman to allow his number to be put upon any other coach or to drive two coaches at one and the same time with the same figure or to drive any coach with any other man's figure but his own, on pain of being suspended for a month for first offence, three months' suspension for the second and forfeiture of licence for the third offence. (8) No licensed coachman to use any other trade during continuance of his licence. (9) "You are to take care that every licensed coachman do (according to the voluntary offer by them made by their humble petition presented to his Majesty) pay 5*l.* per an. by four quarterly payments, to be disposed to such use or uses as his Majesty from time to time shall direct and appoint." (10) No licensed coachman to take more than 10*s.* a day reckoning 12 hours to the day and not above 18*d.* an hour for the first hour and 12*d.* an hour afterwards "nor shall take from any of the Inns of Court or thereabouts to any part of St. James's or the city of Westminster (except beyond Tuttle Street) above 12*d.* and the same price from the same places to the Inns of Court or places thereabouts; or from any of the said Inns of Court or thereabouts to the Royal Exchange above 12*d.* and if to the Tower of London or Bishopsgate Street or Aldgate or thereabouts not above 18*d.* and so from the said places to the said Inns of Court as aforesaid: and the like rate from and to any place of the like distance with the places beforementioned and if they shall refuse to go at or shall exact more for their hire than the several rates beforementioned" they are to be suspended for a week, a month or three months for the first, second and third offences respectively and forfeit their licence for the fourth offence. (11) No licence to be granted for longer than a year: and a clause to be inserted therein for same to determine sooner than the year "if his Majesty with the advice of his parliament shall otherwise provide." (12) You are (at the charge of the 400 licensed coachmen) to prosecute all offenders driving coaches for hire without special licence, contrary to the King's proclamation. (13) No coach to be driven about the street for hire but what shall be decent, cleanly, strong and large enough to carry four persons at least; the harness good and plain and the tackle substantial; and no licensed coachman's servant to drive any

1687. Oct. 21. At our Court at Whitehall.	Royal instructions to Sir Robert Robinson, kt., Lieutenant Governor and Commander in Chief of the Bermudas or Summer Islands in America, concerning the King's moiety of silver taken out of the wreck near Hispaniola. We understand by your letter of the 10th Oct. inst. that there was come into those islands two small vessels from the said wreck laden with three tunns of plate [plata, silver] for which you had taken the King's tenths; further that five or six vessels more were gone to the wreck with your permission, having first given bond for their returning to Bermudas and paying the King's duties. We approve of said bonds, but hereby inform you that not a tenth but one full moiety of all treasure or riches taken up from the bottom of the sea is by the ancient ordinances of the Admiralty due unto us as Lord High Admiral according to the report of the Judge of the Admiralty Court and the Judge Advocate. We therefore hereby charge and direct you and all officers under you to take care that said moiety be recovered as well from the lading of the said two sloops as from the lading of all other ships coming within your government with any such plate or riches. And as we find by your letters that there is no able lawyer within your government fit to be employed for the administration of justice and recovery of the King's rights we have appointed Henry Hordesnell, esq., to be chief Judge within the islands under your government. Give him all assistance therein and more particularly in the ascertaining and recovery of such full moiety, which is to be transmitted to us by our frigate the Swan, appointed for that purpose; without admitting of any excuse or pretence whatsoever "either of paying our tenths, or of any contract, commission or order from any person or persons under colour of letters patent or any other grant from us, we having reserved all matters of dispute in that behalf unto our royal determination." If any of our subjects under you make difficulty herein you are to give notice to Frederick Frowd, commander of the Swan frigate, and to the commander of the foot soldiers on board said frigate, who are to assist you to the utmost of their power in the recovery of our royal rights and rights of Admiralty.	Out Letters (Plantations Auditor) I, pp. 246-7.

	The Treasury Lords to the Earl of Derby. In reply to yours of the 4th inst. we are sensible that your granting to the King a farm of the Customs of the Isle of Man may be a service to the King and no disadvantage to you. We take leave to trouble you again in that matter, being persuaded that it is in your power to make such a lease as will endure for your life, although the island (as your letter has satisfied us) may be so strictly entailed as to disable you from making any longer lease. If you will grant a term of years determinable on your decease we desire that your former treaty with the Customs Commissioners may be renewed.	Ibid.

Villiers for same or whether the Treasury Lords will direct payment of said sum out of any the King's treasure "for Col. Villiers pretends (by reason of the grant made by King Charles II in 1664 to his now Majesty which as is conceived is of no force against the Queen Dowager) he paid that rent to her [sic, ? for his] now Majesty that grew due the 21st of July, 1672, till his assignment to his now Majesty; and since that assignment Col. Villiers allegeth his now Majesty ought to pay the rent that grew due between that time and the expiration of that lease for that the rents and profits have all that time been received to his Majesty's use."	Ibid, pp. 141–2.

The premises are his Majesty's palace or mansion house under the walls of the city of York with the yards and grounds thereto belonging, containing about 13 acres which was anciently the scite of the monastery of St. Mary's and is now ruinous and in decay, the revenue belonging to it being not sufficient to maintain it and so yields at present no	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, p. 143.

It has been formerly made use of when there was a President of the North for his Majesty's Council [of the North] to sit in, but that being dissolved I think that his Majesty's Courts Baron and Leets are kept there still by the stewards, there being divers rents and dependencies of several townships belonging to the King's manor there. The premises were petitioned for in 1682 by Castilian Morris, son of Col. John Morris, governor of Pontefract Castle for Charles I (who was afterwards taken and barbarously executed by the rebels), and I reported thercon, but no furthor preceedings were had in it by reason of some obstructions therein made by Sir John Reresby, the Governor of York, who claims the use and benefit thereof as belonging to his said governorship [together] with a fee of 20 nobles a year for keeping the same, but what his right is therein the Auditor could not then certify. The house and land are not worth above 30*l. per an.* if made habitable. I advise a small rent and the discharge of said fee with reservation of rooms as above.
Oct. 27.	The Treasury Lords to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland. As Sir John Temple, Solicitor General of Ireland, is now in England, the King thinks he should remain here for some time until the disputed articles in the account of the late Farmers of the Irish Revenue are adjusted, so that it may be despatched after having depended so long.	Out Letters (Ireland) V, p. 52.

	Treasury reference to the Customs Commissioners of the petition of Jo[h]n Jones for the next vacancy of a tidesurveyor's place.	Reference Book V, p. 143.
	The Treasury Lords to the Duke of Albemarle. The Treasury Lords have notice from several of the King's Plantations in America and particularly from Col. Hender Molesworth, Lieut. Governor of Jamaica, that divers ships and sloops are gone out from thence to tho wreck lying near Hispaniola. This has occasioned the King's orders to the Governor and Proprietors in America touching the King's full moiety of all treasure taken up from said wreck [ut supra, p. 1554]. These orders are to be observed by yourself and every Governor respectively without admitting of any pretence of paying tenths only to the King. "To the end therefore that your Grace may not conceivo any derogation to be hereby intended from the particular covenants that have passed between his Majesty and your Grace, we have thought fit to give your Grace this assurance that upon the punctual execution of these orders his Majesty, having reserved to himself the determination of all matters in dispute, will cause his letters patent to be duly complied with on his own part."	Out Letters (Plantations Auditor) I, pp. 247–8.

You are forthwith to repay the 122*l.* 15*s.* 0*d.* ut ibid. with such further sum as you think reasonable for their loss and charges in this prosecution. The Treasury Lords are of opinion that the messenger hath behaved himself very injuriously towards the tenants in the whole transaction of this affair and does deserve to be no longer employed in the King's service. Appending: (1) order of the King in Council, dated Windsor, Sept. 25, made upon reading the Treasury Lords' report, ut supra ibid., and directing the said Lords to give directions therein as they think requisite. (2) A fresh petition from said Dickinson et al., shewing that they have been at 64*l.* 14*s.* 0*d.* charges in the above affair and have since disbursed 20*l.* more, making [their total loss] 207*l.* 9*s.* 0*d.*; for payment of which they pray.	Out Letters (General) XI, pp. 180–1.

The constituting a steward of the said Honor and manors thereto adjoining will be to his Majesty's service and the benefit of the country, for if no Courts are kept the King will lose the benefit of all issues, fines etc. of said Courts; and the bailiffs and collectors of the King's rents cannot be elected till a steward be constituted, "but those and other officers who ought to be discharged from their trust must undergo the burthen of longer service." Please advise the Treasury Lords what is fit to be done herein.

	Same to Mr. Toll et al. of the petition of Mary Morris and four other trumpeters' widows, petitioners shewing that about a year since the King gave order that ten trumpeters should be paid their respective half years salaries, then in arrear; but only five were paid, as appears at Mr. Griffin's Office [of Treasurer of the Chamber]: therefore praying to be paid as the others were, petitioners being in a very lamentable condition.	Ibid, p. 148.

The said petition being referred to the Lord Deputy, he referred same to Sir John Temple, Solicitor General of Ireland, who reported thereon June 20 last, shewing that (the right of redemption of said lands from said 5,496*l.* 11*s.* 11*d.* being by a clause in the Act of Explanation forfeited to Charles II to the use of the 1649 officers), the late Sir George Hamilton was by a certificate dated 1668, July 10, of the Commissioners for executing said Acts [of Settlement and Explanation] decreed the said right of redemption in consideration of 1,500*l.* paid by him to the use of the said 1649 officers to be held by him under the quit rents [after the rate] due, by the said Acts, for forfeited lands in the province of Munster, which amounted to said 93*l.* 15*s.* 0*d.* The lands have hitherto not been thought worth redeeming because of this annual rent and the arrears thereon which will become payable to the Crown upon such redemption: further that the said lands do not appear to have paid any rent to the Crown before 1641: with which report of the said Solicitor General the said Lord Deputy agreed in his report of June 23 last to the King.

	Royal letter to Sir Edmond Andros, Captain General and Governor in Chief of New England, empowering him to raise taxes in New England for the support of the government there : as follows. By the royal Commission of 1686, June 3, you were given full power with the advice and consent of the Council or major part thereof to impose, assess, raise and levy such rates and taxes as you shall find necessary for the support of our government in our territory and dominion of New England. And further by our instructions [issued to you] you were directed to continue to raise and levy such rates and impositions as now are or have lately been laid and imposed within our said Colony until upon further examination and enquiry you should represent to us the nature and quality of such rates, taxes and impositions, how the same are raised and levied and what other taxes might be raised and levied and to what value yearly, as also what should be necessary for the support of the annual charge of the government. In pursuance thereof you have transmitted to us the present state of our revenue in New England to the effect following, viz. : The state of his Majesty's revenue in New England [being exactly as printed in full in pp. 104–5 of the "Acts of the Privy Council," "Colonial series," Vol. II, save that the said reprint is incomplete and is here completed by the following addition]. (1) that the impost upon wine being at present 10*s.* per pipe, 13*s.* 4*d.* per pipe and 1*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* per pipe may be raised to 1*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* per pipe equally [uniformly]. (2) that the Excise upon wines retailed being at present 2*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* per pipe may be raised to 1*s.* per gallon, which is 6*l.* 6*s.* 0*d.* per pipe. (3) similarly that the Excise on brandy, rum etc. retailed be raised from 8*d.* per gallon to 1*s.* per gallon. (4) that the Excise of beer, ale and cider retailed be raised from 1*s.* 3*d.* per barrel to 2*s.* 6*d.* per barrel. "And whereas the Country Rate by reason of the great disproportion of the prices and value of horses and cattle, sheep, corn etc. in the several parts of the Government being unequal and contrary to the usage of several places under your government, which occasions great trouble and expence in the collecting and bringing in the revenue, you have therefore proposed that we would please instead thereof for the future to order a certain sum, or authorise our Council to do it, for so much as shall be wanting yearly to defray the charge of the Government (after the Customs, Imposts and Excise paid as aforesaid) [the said sum to be levied] by equal shares and portions on the several counties and towns and that the manner of assessing the same be according to former usage:" We do hereby approve of your proceedings and do by the present royal order charge and require you and the Council [of New England] to cause the said Customs, Imposts, Excise, County Rates and other duties mentioned and proposed as above to be forthwith settled, levied and collected for the discharge of the necessary expence of our government, "so as that you do not fail every six months or half yearly to transmit an accompt thereof unto us according to our instructions [given to you] that we may be satisfied of the due application of our said revenue and to the intent that we may give you such directions for the ease and benefit of our subjects under your government as from time to time shall appear requisite. And inasmuch as there are several casual profits and rights of the Crown that may and do happen and accrue from time to time, not mentioned in the aforerecited state of our revenue, our further will and pleasure is that you cause an exact accompt to be kept and transmitted unto us as abovesaid without disposing of any part of such Casual and Contingent Revenue until you shall have received our particular directions therein." Appending: a later memorandum to the effect that on 1688, July 21, a warrant was passed in the Treasury for 1,000*l.* to Sir E. On an information in the Exchequer in Michaelmas term, 23 Car. Since his death suit has been made to the King on behalf of his children, Thomas Sawyer, Anne Sawyer, Katherine wife of Benjamin Godfrey and Jane Sawyer and 13 more such children and grandchildren, praying a discharge from liability under the above decree. Being moved in compassion, the King hereby grants and orders such discharge of said executors and of the estate of said John Sawyer from the said debt of 47,881*l.* 8*s.*9*d.* and upon entry of the privy seal as herein in the office of the King's Remembrancer the said heirs, executors, their lands etc. are to be absolutely and fully so released, acquitted and discharged.

	Same to same for a same for regulating as follows Charles Fanshaw's accounts of the Queen Dowager's Portugal portion and the allowances thereon; all as follows. The said Fanshaw was appointed Envoy Extraordinary to the King of Portugal in 1680 and then had a commission given him to receive the remainder of the Portugal marriage portion of Katherine, then Queen, now Queen Dowager of England. By virtue thereof Fanshaw received 301,807 crusadoes 109 reis, which at 400 reis the crusado makes 120,722 milreis 909 reis. Towards discharge thereof he craved allowance of 86,523 milreis 425 reis, being the value of 216,308 crusadoes 295 reis sent by him to England by the frigates Newcastle and Dartmouth and paid into the Exchequer as follows, viz. 7,454*l.* 14*s.* 5*d.* on 1682, Oct. 24; 12,500*l.* on 1685, Oct. 15; 11,130*l.* on 1685, Nov. 25, or 31,084*l.* 14*s.* 5*d.* in all: thus leaving 34,199 milreis 414 reis, which being reduced into sterling at the rate of 6*s.* 6*d.* the milrei (according to a rule made on the 4th Nov., 1686, by Treasurer Rochester) makes 11,114*l.* 16*s.* 0*d.* sterling. Against this remain the said Fanshaw craves allowance of 10,140*l.* for his ordinary as Envoy Extraordinary at 5*l.* a day for 2,119 days 1680, July 23 (being the day he kissed hands in order to his journey to Portugal) to 1686, May 12 (the day he returned into his Majesty's presence); and 445*l.* [ordered to be] advanced to said Fanshaw out of the Exchequer before his departure out of England; and 805*l.* 11*s.* 0*d.* by him paid for a merchant ship to transport himself, goods and family to Portugal and for postage of letters, and for gazettes, intelligence, stationary wares and putting himself, family and equipage in mourning on the death of Charles II and of the King of Portugal (as by two bills of extraordinaries allowed by Sir Lionel Jenkins, then a Secretary of State); and 562*l.* 6*s.* 6*d.* for commission money at the rate of 2 per cent. on the said sum of 86,523 milreis 495 reis	Ibid, pp. 291–3.

These allowances amount to 11,720*l.* 17*s.* 0*d.*, thus leaving finally due from the King to said Fanshaw the surplusage of 606*l.* 1*s.* 0*d.* The King being satisfied with the above account, as so stated by Auditor Aldworth, hereby confirms the abovesaid items of allowance and gives said Fanshaw a full discharge for the whole sum of 301,807 crusadoes 109 reis and from all further liability to accompt for same or any part thereof. And further hereby the said surplusage of 606*l.* 1*s.* 0*d.* is to be paid him out of any unappropriated money in the Exchequer, without accompt. 	Same to Mris. Agar. The toll [tolls] of Knighton were granted 1603–4, Mar. 20, to Missey [Messey] and Pursill for their lives without rent. The last life died nine years since and [since then] no rent paid to the Crown. The rent paid before the lease was 13*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* [per an.]. The heriots of Cantermelenydd were demised anno 6 Car. I by Sir John Walter et al., the Prince [of Wales's] Trustees to Tho. Wynn at 10*l.* per an. rent for 31 years, which lease expired about 20 years since, but the rent has been answered. "The toll of Presteigne was demised to my father and others for 31 years at 4*l.* 1*s.* 0*d.* per an., which lease expired about 1660. It appears by the records of the Auditor of Wales that the same did belong to the Crown and I am of opinion his Majesty may lease the premises and that it may be of service to the Crown for the regaining of the possession at the lessee's charge."	Reference Book V, p 159.
	Same to the Customs Commissioners of the petition of Joseph Jorden, praying for his place as a King's waiter, London port, to be transferred to his younger brother Oake Jordan, who is left destitute of estate.	Ibid.
	Indenture between the King of the one part and the Treasury Lords (John, Lord Belasyse ; Sidney, Lord Godolphin ; Henry, Lord Dover ; Sir John Ernle, kt. ; Sir Stephen Fox, kt.) of the second part and the Honble. Peregrine Bertie, Sir Edmund Turner of the Inner Temple, kt., and Edward Courthopp, of the third part, for a grant to said Bertie, Turner and Courthopp to be deputies to said Lords in the farm of the Alienation Office. By a patent of Mar. 21 last under the great seal the King demised in farm to the said Lords the said Office (the fines on writs of covenant and writs of entry). By the present indenture the said Lords, confiding very much in the experience and fidelity of the said Bertie, Turner and Courthopp, who have been employed for many years in the said revenue, do constitute them their deputies concerning the premises : they on their part covenanting to observe the instructions of said Treasury Lords from time to time.	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 154–6. King's Warrant Book XII, p. 294.

	Same to Sir Christopher Wren, Surveyor General of the Works, and to the other officers of the Works, to dispose and sell to the King's best advantage the timber and other perishable materials as follows belonging to the late [King's] building at Winchester: it being represented that there is a considerable quantity of rough timber in the timber yard at Winchester and some lying at Painsfoot Hill in the [New] Forest, not brought home, which decays in lying; that the scaffolding begins to be rotten and were better taken down and disposed of; and also that there remains in the stores of the Works at Winchester 690 loads of oaken timber of which great part will prove very rotten and likewise that there remains felled and squared in the forest, with what is brought to Painsfoot Hill, 220 load of oaken timber more intended for said building, of which great part may be decayed but cannot [so] appear until it be broke. The moneys arising by sale hereof are to be paid to Thomas Lloyd, Paymaster of the Works, to be by him paid to the several workmen, artificers and merchants employed in the late buildings at Winchester. An account of the receipts is to be certified to the Auditors of Imprests.	Ibid, p. 158.
	The Treasury Lords to tho Lord Deputy of Ireland to report on the enclosed petition to the King from Capt. Randall McDonnell and Hannah his wife. Appending: said petition, shewing that the late King granted to Henry Guy in trust for petitioner Hannah several lands in Ireland then in possession of Sir Theophilus Jones; that by a surreptitious grant obtained by said Sir Theophilus he and his son Sir Arthur Jones have so perplexed the matter that petitioners after great expense are forced to relinquish their just pretensions. Therefore, in lieu thereof, pray a grant of the perquisites of the Pell Office [Ireland] (over and above the salary, reserved upon a former grant, issuable thereout to the said Sir Arthur) "which perquisites depend upon the Military List and are absolutely at his Majesty's disposal; and that a [royal] letter may pass for placing the same on the establishment of that kingdom."	Out Letters (Ireland) V, pp. 56, 57.

	Treasury reference to Sir Robert Sawyer, Attorney General, of the petition to the King from Sir Alexander Fitton, shewing that by mesne assignments the manor of Bosley and Siddington came to one Mr. Joliff in trust for petitioner; that the Earl of Macclesfield obtained an injunction against petitioner and kept him 25 years out of possession and put him to 500*l.* charge; but by reason of said Earl's many delays said injunction was dissolved and petitioner was put into possession and made leases, but now Lord Brandon threatens to sue petitioner and ruin the tenants: therefore prays the King to interveno in the matter.	Reference Book V, p. 160.
	Same to same of the petition of the Governor and Company of White Paper Makers, shewing that by the King's directions they prosecuted one Theodore Johnson, merchant, for endeavouring to ruin their work here in England; whereof being [found] guilty [he] was fined 500*l.*; that petitioners proved their damage to be above 10,000*l.* and have expended above 400*l.* in [said] prosecution and therefore hoped for a grant of said fine, but are informed that the said fine is remitted to said Johnson save 100*l.*, which is reserved for the King, "without allowing the petitioners any part, although a third part by virtue of a privy seal recorded in the Crown Office belongs to them": therefore pray a third of the said fine towards their charges.	Ibid.
Nov. 19.	Royal warrant, dated Whitehall, to Brooke Bridges and Thomas Done, Auditors of Imprests, to take care that no part of the 500*l.* advanced by Charles Fox, late Paymaster of the Forces, to Piercy Kirke, esq., Colonel of the Queen Dowager's Regiment of Foot (for clothing etc. the recruits thereof during the late rebellion) be charged on the said Kirke or any other of the said Regiment: the King being pleased to allow the same, ut supra, p. 1350.	King's Warrant Book XII, p. 307.

Nov. 19.	Henry Guy to Nicho. Yeates. Your sister Ann Tonkes has applied to the Treasury for a share of the annuity of 100*l.* lately allowed you by the King, according to your written promise to her in that behalf. Unless you allow her some share of the said bounty my Lords will move the King therein.	Out Letters (General) XI, p. 199.
	Treasury reference to the Attorney General of the petition of Theo. Johnson, shewing that in Trinity term last he was fined 500*l.* for enticing away a servant of the paper makers; that he paid 100*l.* into the Exchequer as a composition and thereupon a warrant issued for entry of satisfaction upon record, but same is now stayed by the importunity of the prosecutor, who pretends a right to a third part of the fine: therefore prays that said warrant may be executed.	Reference Book V, p. 160.
	Same to John Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, of the petition of Robert Forder of Priors Barton, near Winchester; shewing that Charles II purchased lands of petitioner to make the park at Winchester, who had directions to keep sheep thereon for three years for the improvement of the turf, in lieu whereof 100*l.* of the purchase money was left in the hands of said King's officers; that notwithstanding this the said ground is used like common, whereby petitioner is deprived of the advantages designed him; further that he has expended 10*l.* 12*s.* 4*d.* in charges thereabout and in tithes paid to the minister: prays quiet enjoyment for three years as above and some allowance for said charges.	Ibid, p. 161.
	Same to Auditor Aldworth of Serjeant Price's account of money disbursed for [works at] his dwelling house, lodges and Park of St. James's since Michaelmas, 1673, amounting to 1,645*l.* 18*s.* 4*d.* Hereon the referee is to report what directions were given for the [said] works.	Ibid.
	Same to the Commissioners for Licensing Hackney Coaches of the petition of the churchwarden of St. Andrew's, Hol[born], St. Giles in the Fields, St. James's and St. Margaret's, Westminster; shewing that they are informed the King is minded to grant a Commission for licensing the 400 hackney coaches lately licensed by the Lord Mayor and Aldermen; that if the Commission do pass, many other loyal coachmen with their wives and children must be utterly ruined and left a charge upon the parishes; that they doubt not to make it appear that 500 hackney coaches are scarce enough to answer the occasion of his Majesty's subjects within the city and suburbs considering the vast increase of buildings and people since the Restoration; therefore pray for 100 more [licences] to be added to the said 400 "they paying the yearly rent."	Ibid, p. 162.
	Same to Mr. Nicho. Sugar of the petition of Ann Jegon, widow, shewing that she holds the farm of Nafferton, co. Yorks, being an impropriation by lease from the late Archbishop of York, and pays a corn	Ibid, p. 163.

The lease in being, passed to Cludd at the nomination of Col. William Morgan, has been hitherto very chargeable and has yielded the lessee no profit, there being several claims to all or most part thereof, which he must recover at law, and likowise new build the houses thereon and erect new ones in the vacant places before he can reap any benefit. 	Same to Thomas Done, one of the Auditors of Imprests, to make allowances as follow in the account for the year ended 1685, Dec. 31, of Charles Fox, late Paymaster of the Forces, viz. the items as follow to a total of 328*l.* 8*s.* 0*d.* and " all such other sums of money paid to the officers of the Scotch regiment who have been appointed to fill up the vacancies happening by the death or removal of Lieutenants." Prefixing : report, dated Nov. 22 inst., from said Auditor Done to the Treasury Lords concerning the objections which hinder the completing of Fox's said account. They are as follows : (1) by the Establishment of the Pay of the Forces it is directed that as any of the Lieutenants or Sergeants of the Scotch Regiment should be removed or die the Lieutenants should be reduced from two to one in a Company and the Serjeants from three	Ibid, pp. 163–4.

1687.	to two in a Company. Notwithstanding this direction the vacancies of such officers happening within the time of this account have been supplied. To this objection Fox, the accomptant, answers that the [Army] Establishment[s] made by late and present King appoints two Lieutenants and three Serjeants in each Company of the said Regiment, but, in both the said establishments, with the direction for reduction as above, but notwithstanding this reduction their [said] Majesties have by commissions filled up such vacancies. (2) At the end of the establishment there is direction given for regulating the allowances for fire and candles to the forts and garrisons in these words, viz. "it is his Majesty's pleasure that notwithstanding the foregoing establishment the allowance for fire and candle in the several forts and garrisons do not at any time exceed 1*s.* for every Company, which is to be paid for the time such Company or Companies shall actually be there in garrison and no longer." I conceive there is paid to the following forts and garrisons more as follow than the said regulation will bear, viz. 44*l.* to Berwick; 18*l.* 5*s.* 0*d.* to Calshott Castle; 18*l.* 5*s.* 0*d.* to the Cinque Ports; 15*l.* 4*s.* 6*d.* to Guernsey; 45*l.* 14*s.* 0*d.* to Hull; 36*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* to Jersey; 44*l.* to Plymouth; 36*l.* 11*s.* 6*d.* to the Tower of London; 42*l.* 12*s.* 0*d.* to Windsor; 9*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.* to Upnor; 9*l.* 1*s.* 0*d.* to the Isle of Wight; 9*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.* to Sheerness. To this objection the Accomptant answers that in several of the garrisons (viz. Berwick, Gravesend, Guernsey, Hull, Plymouth, the Tower, Sheerness and Tynemouth) there were upon the increase of the Forces in 1685 more Companies quartered than allowed upon the establishment, so that the above direction for regulating the allowance for fire and candle could not be punctually observed "and that the allowances by the present [Army] Establishment do so far exceed the sums set down in this account for fire and candles for the Garrisons that if he should have presented the same according to the said [present] Establishment his demands would have come to 150*l.* at the least more than the abovesaid sum of 328*l.* 8*s.* 0*d.*" "As to the account of the Hospital at Chelsea, it is examined and will be ready for declaration so soon as your [the Treasury] Lordships will please to give directions in this [the above Army account], it being an account on which it depends."

We have laid same before the King and he approves your care and diligence in the collecting and recovering the said casual revenue; and for your encouragement therein he is pleased to allow you in the said account and [similiter in accounts] hereafter 6 per cent. on your receipts as in lieu of all fees and salaries for that service. The King likewise directs that for the future an allowance of 5 per cent. be made to informers for discoveries made by them and for their attendance upon the Courts and juries whereby any such lands or escheats shall be recovered for his Majesty's use; as also 3 per cent. to the Attorney General for all such recoveries wherein he shall be employed, for his care and pains in prosecuting and recovering same. Further, his Majesty orders that the several deodands mentioned in the said accompt be applied to charitable uses in the respective parishes as above; "his Majesty intending also to apply all moneys arising by the killing of negroes unto charitable uses here in England." According to the said account, as follows, there remains 2,509*l.* 7*s.* 9¼*d.* due to the King. (c) Report, dated 1687, May 6, from the Auditors of Imprests to the Treasury Lords on said accompt. The profit arising to the King by this coinage (over and above all charges and the 1,800*l.* for salary) is 5,500*l.* paid into the Exchequer (besides and in excess of the 8,000*l.* repaid there), 567*l.* 18*s.* 9*d.* interest, 189*l.* 6*s.* 2*d.* gratuity, 446*l.* 15*s.* 11*d.* remaining in accomptants' hands and 127*l.* 9*s.* 8¾*d.* secured debt of Mr. Dorvill. For the greater part of the tin purchases (for which they paid about 3*l.* 9*s.* 10*d.* per cwt.) the accomptants have produced bills of exchange drawn by one Worth (a person employed by them) upon Sir John Buckworth, Mr. Hartop and others, but therein mention is not made that it is for tin for his Majesty's service. The other items are vouched by acquittances etc. As to Duncombe's and Hoare's craving of salary, an allowance of 300*l.* per an. was by warrant of Lord Clifford and the Earl of Danby made to Mr. Hoare for the making copper farthings and halfpence under the late King.

	Same to the Earl of Moray, enclosing the petition and case [both missing] of Lady Hamilton, which the King has commanded the Treasury Lords "to transmit to your Lordship as a matter that concerns the kingdom of Scotland and lies not properly before their Lordships."	Ibid, p. 202.

A Proclamation for putting in execution the additional Act for improvement of tillage has been this day approved at the [Privy Council] Board and ordered to be published. II.
Nov. 25.	Treasury reference to the Customs Commissioners of the petition of John Perry, Tho. Pitt and Char. Price, freighters of the ship Andaluzia, shewing that they sent said ship and her cargo to India before the judgment given against private traders, and therefore hope they are within the intent of his Majesty's pardon; "that by many disappointments their stock was not able to bear 20*l. per cent.* detained from them in the East India Company's hands, amounting to 7,034*l.* 7*s.* 8*d.*, the cargo and assurance did amount to 38,000*l.* and they divided among them but 29,000*l.*, so that they are losers 9,000*l.*": therefore in consideration of their great losses they pray the King to remit the said 7,034*l.* 7*s.* 8*d.*	Reference Book V, p. 166
	Same to the Commissioners for managing the revenue of [his present Majesty when] the Duke of York of the petition of John Poictuine, shewing that he received order and damask to make two beds for the Queen then Duchess of York and did deliver same, but has had no payment: therefore praying payment of his bill amounting to 200*l.*	Ibid.
	Same to Mr. Duncomb of the petition of Mary Webster, shewing that John Portman, goldsmith, owed her 150*l.* upon bond, and that he refused [to pay her] so much of the interest thereof as he had received from the King and to give her an assignment of the principal as directed by the late King's patent for bankers' perpetual interest; that thereupon the late Lord Treasurer [Rochester] gave order that said Portman's executors should have no more tallies for his interest until petitioner was satisfied, nevertheless the executors refuse to obey said order: therefore in consideration of her poverty petitioner prays that they be summoned to shew cause why they refuse her the said benefit.	Ibid.
	Same to the Customs Commissioners of the petition of Richd. Sprig of London, merchant, shewing that he was encouraged to import red Saunders wood from Holland for a supply here [in London] and for the improvement of the King's Customs; whereby he lost 4,000*l.*; that he contracted with the East India Company for all their red Saunders wood for three years, thereby hoping to retrieve somewhat of his loss; yet, notwithstanding, small parcels are still imported by stealth from Holland to the utter ruin of petitioner; that he is willing at his own charge to endeavour the preventing all such importation: therefore prays a moiety of all [such seizures of all] such red Saunders wood as shall be imported from Holland for three years.	Ibid, p. 167.
	Same to Charles Toll of the petition of Francis Bowles for payment of 195*l.* due to him at Christmas, 1684, for his salary as Yeoman of the Tents and Pavilions to the late King.	Ibid.

	Same to the Attorney General of the petition of Sir Jo[h]n Webb, bart., shewing that he is lord of the manor of Canford, co. Dorset, of which the town of Poole is part; that his ancestors have always kept Courts and enjoyed other franchises until 5 Eliz., and did by their stewards always choose and swear a Major [Mayor] for the said town: but in 5 Eliz. the inhabitants of Poole obtained a charter with the right to choose a Mayor annually and to be a town and county of themselves, by means whereof they have made several encroachments on petitioner, "who being a Roman Catholic could not appear to defend his just rights against so powerful a corporation," but the same being now seized into the King's hands for their disloyalty petitioner prays a grant of the revenue of said Corporation, "the particulars whereof [missing] are hereunto annexed."	Ibid, p. 174.

(In the Out Letter Book General, this letter is entered under Nov. 26 as directed to Mr. Blathwayte, but the date is altered to Dec. 15 and the direction is altered to the Attorney General.) Prefixing: (a) Henry Guy [to William Blathwayt], dated Treasury Chambers, 1687, May 9, enclosing three letters of Col. Dungan to the Earl of Sunderland and one to the King, together with a letter from Lucas Santen to the King. You are to direct the agents of Col. Dungan and Mr. Santen to attend you; and then certify a true state of the case to the Treasury Lords. (b) Letter, dated New York, 1686–7, Feb. 22, from Col. Dungan to the Lord President of the Privy Council. The continued delay of the collector to give in his accounts has hindered Mr. Spragge for at least these twelve months from going to England with the Acts of Assembly; but I have at last forced his books and papers from him and his accompts are audited; by which he is found indebted to the King near 3,000*l.*, which is a great hardship upon me coming hither in times when all things were in great disorder and before a settled revenue, so that I was obliged to disburse all that little stock I had and engaged my credit to perform what was necessary for the King's service. I refer you to the [following papers, missing, viz. the] charge against the collector, the order of Council relating to him, my answer to the heads of inquiry which were sent to me and several other papers which I beg his Majesty to hear, they relating to his Majesty's affairs not only in this [government] but some other parts of America. The Council here have been much straitened by obliging the number to be seven. Mr. Santen, one of them, was not thought fit by the Council to have the oath given to him. Mr. Young, another of the Council, is very old and lives 150 miles from this city: two others are men of so great business and trade that it is impossible they should always attend the Council: and it is necessary that either Capt. Brocholls or Capt. Baxter be at Albany, and therefore [I] desire, if his Majesty pleases, that Mr. John Palmer, Mr. James Graham, Mr. Nicholas Bayard, Mr. Gabriel Minvielle, Mr. William Smith, Mr. Francis Rumboats, Mr. Matthias Nicholls, or so many of them as his Majesty pleases, may be added to the five, with some yearly allowance to the Council, it being very reasonable, because they neglect their own to follow his Majesty's business. If Connecticut Colony and East Jersey be added this Government will defray all requisite charges. I beg you to despatch Mr. Spragge with all speed, several occasions very much requiring his sudden return hither. All my accompts, audited here, shall be sent to Mr. Blathwayt by the first opportunity. I have been a better husband in managing the little revenue of this place than I ever was in any affair of my own and doubt not his Majesty will be very satisfied with me. In searching for the papers relating to the revenue (of which we could not find many) I saw a charge against myself with some other papers, a letter to his Majesty and a letter to your Lordship, which I take the liberty to send. Postscript.—I send your Lordship a petition from the judges of this place. I desire that something may be done for them. It is otherwise impossible

1687.	they should live in so expensive a city: [also I enclose] one from the French inhabitant[s] and another from Judge Palmer in particular relating to a suit of his in Chancery. I recommend him to you as I could not give him leave to go home, as his Majesty's affairs require his stay here. Since I began my letter Mr. Santen has been so troublesome that I am forced to send him home and desire you to give order to John Wake, master of the Elizabeth and Katherine, [as] to whom he shall deliver him [to]. I find now that of all the debts Mr. Santen pretends to have been standing out none will be received, they having either been received by him, or such as have not are so bad that nothing is ever to be expected of them. He is very abusive. Rogue and rascal are the civilest terms he give me or any of the Council, threatening us with chains at least for what we have done to him. "It proves a mistake. There was no letter for your Lordship; only one for his Majesty." (c) Letter, dated New York, 23 Feb., 1686–7, from same to same. Mr. Santen, late collector here, has been found by the auditors of his accompts to be very considerably indebted to the King and likewise is convicted by the judgment of the Council on several articles exhibited against him of several other crimes and misdemeanours. He was therefore by me with the advice of the Council suspended from his office of Collector and Receiver until the King's pleasure be further known. It has since been thought fit (he too desiring it) to send him home to abide the King's pleasure and he not being able to give the security required I have sent him a prisoner to your Lordship by John Wake, commander of the abovesaid ship. Please give Wake orders as to the delivery of the prisoner. (d) Letter, dated New York, 1686–7, Feb. 28, from Lucas Santen to the late Treasurer Rochester. In my letter of Nov. 25 last I gave your Lordship an account of the hard usage I met with from Col. Thomas Dungan, his Majesty's Governor, and the reasons which I supposed was the occasion of it and herewith enclose a copy of same. The original I sent by John Smith, my former deputy, in the ship Mariner's Adventure, Capt. Wolliford commander; together with all his Majesty's accompts to William Blathwayt. But after I had taken passage for said Smith and he was ready to embark the ship by a stratagem of Col. Dungan's was sent away and his voyage stopped. Since which time there hath been such things transacted here that was never heard of in America nor acted in Barbary. I have been imprisoned and suspended without either process, trial or hearing, only for sending home my account to Mr. Blathwayt. The original letter to you, together with one enclosed therein to the King, containing my complaint against his Excellency for my manifold injuries, was forcibly taken from me, my doors broke open, my house ransacked and all my papers, public and private, seized and are still detained by his Excellency. The books and papers will be restored to me to-morrow, but my letter to your Lordship and the Lord Chancellor, with several others, his Excellency declares shall be sent by Secretary Spragge to the Earl of Sunderland. I am ordered to be sent home a prisoner to the said Earl notwithstanding I offered 5,000*l.* bail, but was refused. I wish your Lordship all health, happiness and prosperity.

1687.	(e) Report, dated Whitehall, 1687, July 20, to the Treasury Lords from William Blathwayt touching the said Santen. I have perused the several papers from New York containing Col. Dungan's complaints against Santen, who has been suspended by the said Governor and Council for neglect of duty and disobedience of the Governor's orders. I have also examined Santen's accounts of the receipts and disbursements of the revenue under his charge from 1683, Nov. 3, to 1686, Dec. 13, "as they were audited in New York [whereby there appears to be a debt from Santen to the King] amounting to 1,758*l.* 15*s.* 3⅝*d.*, together with another account whereby several officers are indebted to the revenue in 942*l.* 17*s.* 10¼*d.*: the whole debt within the said time amounting to 2,701*l.* 13*s.* 1⅞*d.*; against which the said Lucas Santen craves an allowance of 1,849*l.* 5*s.* 11*d.* upon several articles expressed in his answer and does further allege that he is not answerable for the said debts as having been hindered by his imprisonment from receiving the same and that they have likewise in part been made good to the Governor since that time." All these matters are ready for your Lordships' determination when you shall appoint a hearing.
Nov. 28.	Henry Guy to Sir Charles Porter, enclosing a copy [missing, see infra, under date 1687–8, Jan. 16] of the instructions intended to be given by the Treasury Lords to the officers of the First Fruits [Office].	Out Letters General) XI, p. 202.

	Same to Lord Dartmouth. The enclosed warrant [missing] is sent hither by the Lord Deputy of Ireland for some alteration in its preamble, "there never having been any repairable arms sent from thence hither" [see supra, p. 1549]. Send my Lords your answer hereto.	Ibid.
	Same to the Board of Greencloth to report on the enclosed petition of Mris. Eliz. 	Royal letter, dated Whitehall, to the Lord Warden of the Stannaries. You were lately commanded by privy seal to call a Convocation of Tinners in Cornwall and Devon for reforming the abuses of the Stannaries etc. You have thereupon given an account that you have summoned a Parliament or Convocation of Tinners in each of the said counties and have revised the old and proposed certain new laws for the general good of the tinners and to remedy abuses etc. You are hereby at the next meeting of the said Parliament or Convocation to transfer to the Treasury Lords an abstract of such new laws for the royal consent as the King shall think fit, as is accustomed. Further, you have presented to us [the King] several petitions and addresses as well from the body of tinners in general as from the said Parliament representing their low estate and desiring to treat in each county for the farm of all the tin, in Cornwall at 3*l.* 12*s.* 6*d.* and in Devonshire at 3*l.* 15*s.* 0*d.* per hundred stannary weight, "which you can truly bear us witness we did not only very graciously receive, but recommended the same to the Lords Commissioners of our Treasury as effectually as we could, who used all possible endeavours though without effect to procure merchants to undertake the said farm at the said rates, but none could be found willing to engage therein at a much inferior price." This being found hopeless you have made proposals to us, in behalf of the said tinners, [for us] to buy the said tin ourself and manage the farm by commission, "which though we were not willing to do, having so many great and weighty occasions for employing our treasure, yet out of consideration of the constant loyalty of our said tinners and out of just compassion of their present ill circumstances" we declared by order, dated Windsor, Aug. 16 last, that we would advance a half the money necessary to carry on the partnership with other responsible persons to be Commissioners and equal sharers in profit and loss at 3*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* per hundred stannary weight for all the tin arising in both counties, "it being inconvenient and impracticable and contrary to former farms to give any more for the tin in one county	King's Warrant Book XII, pp. 302–4.

But before we grant you our commission to treat with the said Convocation about the said farm we think it prudent that you first signify us whether the tinners will accept the said price of 3*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* If they do we will then grant you a commission to treat and conclude accordingly. You are to return their positive answer with all speed. (A duplicate of this letter signed, with the difference only of placing the county of Devon before that of Cornwall.)
Nov. 29.	Royal warrant to the Attorney or Solicitor General for a great seal to constitute John West, Charles Wells, Henry Slingsby, Edmund Perkins, Richard Carter, Thomas Bilson, junr., and Samuel Ely, esqrs., as Commissioners for perambulating, supervising and ascertaining the King's forest of South Beire, alias East Biere, co. 	(c) Statement of the Duchess of Cleveland's case. There was brought to the Duchess of Cleveland the reversion of Sir William Waller's present interest in the Prizage and Butlerage, being about 27 or 28 years to come. This Sir John Coppleston brought, which if her Grace could procure a grant of from the King she should receive a considerable sum of money for it, being now rented [and valued] at 3,000*l. per an.* or thereabouts, and he to receive a reward for the discovery. The Duchess, judging this a fit matter for the Duke of Northumberland, then very young, against [the time] he grew up, begged it of the King for him, which was granted and [she] gave to Sir John Coppleston herself 500 guineas and 500 more to a friend of his, which he pretended was an assistant in finding out the business. He in gratitude for that reward discovers further to her Grace that there was a reserve rent to the Crown of 500*l.* a year [charged on Waller's farm of said Prizage and Butlerage], which she begged of the King for herself, and he granted it to her. Two several patents being thus to be passed, one [for herself] of 500*l.* a year for the present, the other [for her son] of the reversion of the Butlerage, the Duchess (intending to give it [her 500*l.* grant] said Duke at his marriage or coming of age) ordered her solicitor to pass it in the same patent, but the said son being then a child there was no declaration of trust therein [for his or his trustees holding said 500*l. per an.* as in trust for his mother], the Duchess not thinking that her interest should ever be questioned. Visct. Grandison and Sir Edwd. Villers gave the acquittances for the rent and it was paid to her till about the time of the siege of Luxembourg, when the late King [allowed] said Duke to make that campaign, in order whereto he [the King] gave him 1,000*l.* for his equipage; but the Duchess thinking that too small told him she would make an addition to it and declared she would give him 100*l.* [per an.] of the abovesaid rent then and at his return relinquish the whole 500*l.* a

Nov. 29.	Treasury reference to William Blathwayt [as Secretary to the Forces] of the petition of Capt. John Macgreagh; petitioner shewing that he was deprived of his estate by Cromwell for his service to the lato King and was a captain under the States of Holland and left his command in obedience to Charles II's proclamation calling his subjects from that service; in consideration whereof he had a pension of 4*s.* a day, which he received till he refused the Oaths and Test; he afterwards obtained the late King's special warrant for said allowance, but has received only half thereof ever since 1675, whereby 474*l.* 10*s.* remains due and in arrear thereon; therefore prays payment thereof or that he may henceforth receive his full allowance of 4*s.* a day.	Reference Book V, p. 173

1687. Dec. 13.	Royal warrant to the Attorney or Solicitor General for a great seal to appoint Gerald Russell a Commissioner of Wine Licences as follows, viz.: by indenture of 1682, Sept. 12, Henry (now Sir Henry) Dering, William Young, esq., John Taylour, esq. (since deceased), Michael Brighouse (since deceased) and Robert Ryves (and such as they should nominate by Treasury consent in place of their deceased members) were appointed Commissioners, Managers and Agents for $8\frac{1}{2}$ years from 1682, Sept. 29, for granting licences for selling wines by retail. Upon the death of said Brighouse the surviving Commissioners, Dering, Young and Ryves, as above, have by indenture dated Dec. 2 inst. nominated said Gerard Russell as a Commissioner for said revenue. To this the King does condescend and hereby constitutes him as such with the advice and approbation of said Commissioners; during pleasure and for no more than the remainder of the abovesaid term of years unless by special agreement and consent of the Treasury Lords: and during his continuance in said Trust said Russell is not to exercise the trade of a merchant or vintner of wines and shall not give any power to the Company of Free Vintners of London or Company of Coopers of London to grant or restrain the granting of wine licences whereby the Customs revenue may be prejudiced in hindering the consumption of wines.	King's Warrant Book XII, pp. 336–8.
	Treasury warrant to Mr. Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, for a particular or constat of some lands in Cheshire called Symondshill and Grangehill, with a view to a lease thereof to George Moore, merchant, for 31 years at 5*l. per an.* rent, payable from and after his recovery of the premises to the Crown; and without fine in consideration of the great charge said Moore has been and may be at in such recovery of the King's title. Prefixing: said Fisher's report, dated 1687, April 2, on said Moore's petition for such lease. I have seen the inquisitions concerning the bounds of and encroachments within the Forest of Delamere and Thomas Dawson's rough draft of a map of said forest annexed to said inquisition. The Commission of Inquiry was dated March last, but was only executed 1687, Oct. 20, the very day of its expiration, and the bounds of the forest only were found, excluding [those of] the land desired by this petition; and no encroachments are presented; whereas the next day after the inquisition was taken this very land was surveyed by the said Mr. Dawson and found to contain about 80 Cheshire acres, which makes 165 statute acres, "and that it was believed to be encroached and enclosed out of the said forest of late years, lying contiguous thereto on the west side thereof and is now enjoyed by Mr. John Davys, and it is very probable that it belongs to the Crown as part of said forest and that Tho. Dean, one of the Commissioners [for this Inquiry], states in his paper that it is worth 2*s.* 6*d.* an acre, which comes but to 10*l.* a year, yet the surveyor [Dawson], who is an intelligent man and has viewed all the ground and finds marl pits therein, conceived it may be improved by marling to 40*l. per an.*, but this will require time and charge, and petitioner has been at great charge already and has further promised to satisfy Dawson for his survey of this	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 189–90.

	The Treasury Lords to the Lord Deputy of Ireland. We have prepared a draft of a new establishment of the expense in Ireland. Before we offer it to the King for his signature we think it necessary to send it to you. We desire you to consider the observations we have made in the margin. Send us with all speed any objections you may have, as this establishment has to take effect from Jan. 1 next.	Out Letters (Ireland) V, p. 63.
Dec. 17.	Henry Guy to Lord Dartmouth, enclosing the petition [missing, see supra, p. 1655] of Gregory Petrous, Armenian merchant, for delivery of a parcel of sword blades, and the Customs Commissioners' report [missing] thereon. Have you any objection to either of these papers?	Out Letters (General) XI, p. 221.
	Same to Mr. Hutchinson. The Treasury Lords have referred to the Attorney General the orders of Council and other papers relating to the importation of hair buttons. You are to fetch the said papers and attend the Attorney General with them.	Ibid, p. 222.
	Treasury reference to Mr. Fisher [Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands] of the petition of Jo[h]n and Mary Stubs, shewing that said Mary was executrix to her uncle, Sir John Webster, who furnished the late King during his exile with money etc. to the value of 12,000*l.*, for which the King promised a reward suitable to his merit, but he died before anything was done; therefore praying a grant of some lands which they have discovered unjustly detained from the Crown.	Reference Book V, p. 192.
	Same to the Customs Commissioners of the petition of Rowland Woodyear and William Chaloner, shewing that Charles II granted to Sir Joseph Wagstaff for 31 years the sole benefit of transporting lampernes alive; that Sir Joseph assigned same to one Dighton, who being both since dead, petitioner enjoyed same, as Dighton's executor, up to the late King's death; that all the petty farms of the Customs have been duly paid except petitioner's: therefore praying a privy seal for payment of the arrears thereon and for continuance of the growing	Ibid, p. 193.

Dec. 17.	Treasury reference to Sir Benj. Bathurst of the petition of Chris. Dodsworth et al. owners of the ship Hawke; shewing that said ship was taken by a privateer, and there being a small parcel of dust gold sent from aboard her by the ship's master to Sheare [? Sierra or Sherbro] in Guinea, same was unjustly condemned by the Court of Admiralty there; that on a hearing lately before the Barons of the Exchequer they made a decree for the King which yet stands respited "for them to apply to his Majesty for relief"; therefore praying remission of the severity of said decree and that the gold may be restored.	Reference Book V, p. 193.
	Same to the Attorney General of the petition of the merchants of Exeter and the order in Council of reference thereon, ut supra, pp. 1647–8, and the Customs Commissioners' report thereon.	Ibid, p. 194.
	Same to Mr. Toll, Mr. Twitty, Mr. Lowndes, Mr. Townsend and Mr. Done of the petition of Sir William Cooper, shewing that he and his father served Charles I and suffered above 18,000*l.* in his estate; that petitioner was one of the Band of Gentlemen Pensioners under Charles II until by reason of age and infirmities he assigned his place some few months before the death of Charles II and that there is 475*l.* [arrears] due to him [thereon]: therefore praying "the same favour as hath boen done to Sir Tho. Row."	Ibid.
	Same to Mr. Fisher [Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands] of the petition of Philip Waldgrave for a fresh grant of the manor of Langenhoe, co. Essex, which has been confirmed to him and his heirs with the right of fishing in the waters thereto adjoining, but said fishery not being particularly bounded and so in danger of being avoided: therefore prays a fresh grant "circumscribed by the bounds mentioned in the draft annexed" [missing].	Ibid, p. 198.
	Same to William Hewer of the petition of Capt. Charles Johnson, shewing that he had a Company in Tangier and after its arrival in England six months' pay was ordered to the Forces which came thence, but upon a pretence of debt from the several soldiers in said Campany the same was stopped in Hewer's hands, who refuses to pay same without Treasury order: therefore prays for his Company to be paid as the other Companies were "that so he may not be liable to the censure of the soldiers who are of opinion that the same hath been long since paid."	Ibid.
Dec. 19.	Treasury warrant dormant to Auditor Sir William Godolphin or his deputy as Auditor of Wales to make out debentures from time to time for Sir Edward Mansell, bart., for his fee or salary of 13*l.* 6*s.* 8*d. per an.* as steward of Pembroke and other manors and his allowance of 35*l.* 11*s.* 8*d. per an.* as Chamberlain of Carmarthen etc.: which fees etc. have usually been paid out of the revenue of South Wales.	Money Book VIII, p. 333.

1687. Dec. 19.	Henry Guy to Lady Wood. In reply to yours of the 12th inst. the Treasury Lords expect you to send the order to me by bearer and to give security in 200*l.* by Friday next to abide by tho award of Mr. Lowndes and Mr. Squibb on the matter in difference between you and Mr. Robinson: the award to be made Jan. 28 next. Mr. Robinson will deposit the like security.	Out Letters (General) XI, p. 222.
	Same to Mr. Hewer. Some time since Col. Peircy Kirke gave bond for his paying 472*l.* 2*s.* 8*d.* to Sir Tho. Fitch. Same has not been paid and Kirke has agreed to that sum being paid out of his Tangier arrears. You are to satisfy said bond out of the first money payable to Kirke on account of said arrears.	Ibid.
	Same to the Navy Commissioners. On Nov. 2 last the King ordered that you should certify the Treasury Lords once a month what [Navy] contracts are made in that month, at what rates, with whom and when the goods are to be delivered and the times of payment: and also that you should certify them what former contracts made by you were in being that are not complied with. Send such certificates to-morrow before noon so that my Lords may lay them before the King.	Ibid.
	Same to the Commissioners of the Victualling to report on the enclosed paper [missing] concerning the droit of 6*d.* per tun "demanded of the Victualling for shipping of beer at Dover."	Ibid.
	Same to the Board of Greencloth to report on the enclosed petition [missing] of Mr. Jacob Hasinus, the Russian interpreter, praying allowance for his pains and charge in attending the Russian Ambassador.	Ibid, p. 223.
	Same to Mr. Plowman. Your instructions aro agreed to by the Treasury Lords, but you are first to give security. My Lords think that your salary of 200*l.* per an. should be paid at New York "according to the usual payment of that place."	Ibid.
	Same to Sir Robert Clayton. The executors of Dame Barbara Villiers have a pension of 500*l.* per an. out of the Post Fines. They complain that it is in arrear since 1686, Lady day. By the patent it ought to have been constantly paid. You are forthwith to satisfy the arrears thereon and to pay the growing payments thereon for the remainder of the term.	Ibid.
	The Treasury Lords to the Earl of Derby at Knowsley, co. Lancs. Send us the Book of Rates by which the Customs in the Isle of Man are collected, as without it the Customs Commissioners cannot offer their opinion concerning the treaty with you for the farming of said Customs.	Ibid.
	Same to the Dean and Chapter of York. Several sums of money collected in 1680 for the Redemption of Captives [in Barbary] have been concealed and detained in the hands of divers persons. In order to a discovery thereof direction has of late been given to examine all the accounts in the Council Chamber sent up by the bishops and their deputies for that purpose. But from the diocese of York	Ibid, p. 224.

1687.	there is only a letter to be found, which now lies before us, and by the contents thereof we have great reason to believe that all the said moneys collected in your diocese were not truly answered. Nothing is expected of you but to communicate the contents hereof to the several Registers, who are required to send up an exact account of what was collected for said purpose in their respective jurisdictions in the manner and form of the other accounts now in the custody of Mr. Middleton ; and further to send a copy hereof to the Register at Nottingham. "What may be further necessary to be said on this occasion we leave to Mr. Middleton."
Dec. 19.	The Treasury Lords to Dr. Montagu, Vice Chancellor of Cambridge, on the above matter. It appears that no [Redemption collection] moneys have been returned from your University. The collections of the several Colleges in Oxford were returned distinctly by themselves, and Mr. Middleton informs us that for several years past your university has been very liboral in their contributions to pious and charitable uses. This gives us great reason to think that there was money collected and hitherto detained. You are to inform yourself herein and satisfy us what was collected and to whom paid.	Out Letters (General) XI, p. 224.
	Same to Dr. Parham of Norwich. The abovesaid Mr. Middleton has written several times to Norwich about Redemption moneys as above collected in that diocese and not paid into the Chamber of London pursuant to the late King's patent. We are informed that all the said moneys were paid to the late Bishop and his secretary save 190*l.* which was returned to his lordship's correspondent in London, "who paid into the said Chamber all moneys collected in the said diocese by the said bishop's order and hath discharges for the same." As divers of the King's poor subjects are under Turkish slavery, it is just and reasonable that all the said moneys be truly answered. "We are informed the sum is 34*l.*" This must speedily be sent up and paid into the Exchequer or to Mr. Middleton as the [late bishop's] executor shall think fit.	Ibid.
	Same to Dr. Jones, Chancellor of the diocese of Bristol. The sum of 27*l.* 6*s.* 0*d.* was paid to Dr. William Gulston, late Bishop of Bristol, by Dr. Jroinpde [sic for Ironside], late Archdeacon of Dorset, being Redemption moneys as above collected in co. Dorset, as by a certificate dated 1682, April 1. No such sum was paid into the Chamber of London by said bishop and the bishop's executor neglects to answer letters thereon. We desire your assistance herein.	Ibid, p. 225.
	Henry Guy to Mr. Blathwayt. The Treasury Lords agree to advancing Mr. Horsdeznell (Horsdesneel, Hordesnel, Horsdernell) 20*l.* for supply of his present occasions, but same is to be deducted out of his salary when due.	Ibid, p. 228. Out Letters (Plantations Auditor) I, p. 279.
	Treasury warrant to the Customs Commissioners to employ Francis White as landwaiter, London port, loco Robert Willy, a good officer but infirm and to be superannuated with 40*l.* per an. out of White's salary.	Out Letters (Customs) XI, pp. 102, 102*b*, 103, 104, 105.

Marke Wildbore as collector of Whitehaven port at 60*l. per an.*; the collection thereof having been hitherto managed by Mr. Christian, customer of Carlisle port, at his present patent salary and 30*l. per an.* for a clerk, but he not having so constantly attended that service as that place requires, being a place of growing trade, but under him chiefly managed by uncertain deputies; and a deputed collector being absolutely necessary now to be established there. The premises are both called Frogmore in Windsor. The first [messuage with several lands thereto] was granted by Charles II to his [petitioner's] father in 1680 for 41 years on surrender of a grant of 71 years therein to his father and grandfather, but upon taking the last lease there were eight acres, the chief of the arable land, taken out of this farm and laid into his Majesty's Little Park by the Castle and a proportionable part of the rent abated, "but still there is 9*l.* 9*s.* 11*d. per an.* reserved upon that lease, which is a great rent, the whole when it was all together being hardly worth 40*l. per an.* and the houses thereupon being formerly built with elm timber taken off the ground were fallen into decay and rotten, but were so substantially rebuilt of brick by the petitioner's father and with so handsome a prospect [front] towards his Majesty's park, against which they are situate, that it's believed he laid out thereupon at least four times the value of the inheritance of the farm." The other [part of the premises] is a farm adjoining to it but of more land and formerly valued at near 80*l. per an.*; but out of this there has been 11 acres likewise taken into the same [Windsor Little] Park and four acres of the best meadow laid into the avenue [leading from the Great Park to the Castle] and yet the whole rent, which is very high, being 14*l.* 15*s.* 5*d. per an.*, is still continued, and upon this tenement the houses also are of timber and very mean and decayed. The last lease thereof was granted in 1683 to Widow Franklyn for 31 years, which [lease] the present petitioner, for the conveniency and enlargement of his farm, purchased at a very dear rate, as he also did for his mother's interest after his father's death, both which cost him much more than the inheritances are worth. Petitioner is willing to re-edify the houses on this latter farm both substantially with brick and gracefully towards the view of the said [Little] Park "to make it fit for his own habitation, or (as the other is) for the accommodation of persons of honour that have dependence upon the Court, to which these houses standing a little without the town are more desirable than most of these within, being almost as near and more private and having a pleasant walk through the Park up to the Castle." In this building he will expend four times the value of the fine on the present renewal, which fine I estimate at 300*l.* The petition for leave to make brick is a modest request never denied to any tenant where brick earth is to be had, but he should be confined to make them only for his own use on the premises and not for sale.
Dec. 22.	Report to the King from the Treasury Lords on the petition of James Dounton, mariner, ut supra, pp. 1593–4. We have referred same to the Customs Commissioners and fully concur with their report thereon as follows.	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, p. 193.

1687.	Appending : said report, dated Dec. 6 inst., from said Commissioners. A clause in the Act of Frauds limits the time for making foreign ships free and declares what shall be accounted English ships and what foreign. There is a proviso for such ships as shall be taken at sea by letters of mart [marque] or refusal and [after] condemnation made in the Admiralty Court as lawful prize. It is certified by Sir Robert Holmes and his deputy, Vice-Admirals of co. Hampshire, that said ship was forfeited to the King as a derelict ship. Though not expressly within the words of the Act this ship seems to us, upon the same foot of equity, to be reasonably entitled to the freedom of a ship belonging to England.
[? Dec. 22.]	Treasury warrant to Mr. Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, for a particular of the premises as follow, viz. several tolls, heriots and certain closes and parcels of land and wood and a small tenement in Knighton and Begildy, co. Radnor, ut supra, pp. 1553, 1605, in order to a lease thereof to Alderman Haynes of Worcester on terms as follow, the surviving trustee [in the last two parcels, viz. the heriots in Cantermelenydd and the tolls of Presteigne, being hereby [to assign their interest to said Haynes. Prefixing : said Fisher's report, dated Nov. 30 last, on said Haynes' petition for same. I take the premises to be all parcels of the great Lordships of Melenydd, co. Radnor. The tolls of Knighton were granted 1 James I to Thomas Messey and Thomas Pursell for the lives of Mathew Messey and William Blonden, the last life whereof died in Aug., 1678, and were soon after ordered to be granted by lease to Serjeant Beck, but he died before it was sealed. They have been since petitioned for by the late Earl of Anglesea, Mr. Tho. Davies and the Marquess of Worcester, but none of them proceeded to the perfecting of a lease. Heretofore these tolls had been considerable and had been leased at 13*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* per an. rent, but from Queen Mary's time they have been let without rent and the utmost value (which was 20*l.* [per an.] in the [Long] Parliament's survey) is now but 14*l.* per an. This fall is occasioned by making some graziers freemen of that borough, who bring in multitudes of sheep and other cattle into the market and are exempt from toll. The heriots of Cantermelenydd have always been let at 10*l.* per an. by several leases from James I and Charles I, the last whereof was 9 Car. I for 28 years from 1633, Lady day, to Sir Edw. Sawyer and William Gibson, which leaso expired at Lady day, 1661. I know of no other grant since ; but it seems that the heriots have been ever since held by Tho. Harley, esq., and tho rent duly paid up to the present, but under what grant or title is unknown. I cannot learn that they are worth much more. The tolls of Presteigno were granted 5 Car. I to Sir Edward Sawyer by the then Prince's Trustees for 31 years from 1629, Michaelmas (which expired in 1660) at the old rent of 4*l.* 12*s.* 0*d.* per an., and this rent is now answered to the Crown by the burgesses of Presteigne, but by what title is not known. By the [Long] Parliament's survey they were valued at 12*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* per an., but by survey returned to Sir Charles Herbert [Harbord] in 1669 they are valued at only 3*l.* above the rent. All the rest of the parcels specified in the petition, ut supra, have mostly	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 194, 205.

Sawyer, which is long since expired, and no known grant thereof since is ascertainable. But upon examination of these parcels when they were petitioned for with the tolls of Knighton by Serjt. Beck in 1678 some of them might be included in grants of other things or passed away in fee. Petitioner must probably be at charge in recovering them to the Crown by law. The rent of 2*l.* 14*s.* 6*d. per an.* seems to be an ancient rent reserved for these. For the tolls of Knighton no rent has been paid these 130 years. The former rent of 13*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* [per an.] and the cost of collection will be more than they arise to at this time. They may therefore be granted at a fourth of that sum, viz. 3*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* The profits thereof for the last nine years since 1679, Aug., have been received by John Dudlike, an undertenant to the former lessees. In July, 1684, at the direction of the Treasury, I gave a letter to Charles Morgan (then deputy to his uncle, Auditor Tutor [Tudor]) to charge the said arrears in full at his next circuit and to let them yearly at the best rate he could. The present deputy auditor, Mr. Humphreys, should be ordered to enquire what was done thereon and to take care of these arrears. The heriots in Cantermelenydd may be granted at 10*l. per an.* rent if Mr. Harley has no lease of them. The tolls of Presteigne may be let at 4*l.* 1*s.* 0*d.*, being the old rent still paid for them by the town. But for these last two parcels the surviving trustee [of Charles II as Prince] to whom they were granted in the time of Charles I, should be directed to assign to petitioner to assist petitioner in gaining possession to the Crown in case of opposition.
Dec. 22.	Treasury nomination and appointment of Tho. Powell, esq., as steward of the manor of Staunton, co. 1686. April 26.	Representation from the Governor and Council of Virginia at a Council at James City in answer to Treasurer Rochester's letter of 1685, Dec. 21, touching quitrents, supra, p. 495; there being present at the said Council Lord Howard of Effingham, the Governor; Mr. Auditor Bacon, Mr. Secretary Spencer, Col. Philip Ludwell, Col. William Cole, Col. John Custis, Col. Richard Lee, Col. John Page, Col. William Bird and Col. Christopher Wormeley. The Governor read Treasurer Rochester's said letter signifying the King's pleasure to apply 513*l.* 15*s.* 7*d.* of quit rents of the Colony to discharge a debt remaining on the revenue thereof and for the better support of the Government thereof. The Council return thanks for this royal bounty. As to the clause in the said letter requiring that the profits arising from tribute beaver and wine licences in the Colony should be futurely accounted for, the Council humbly represent to the King that the tribute beaver has always been received by all former Governors as a perquisite appointed to the office of Governor and that by the articles of peace concluded by the late King's Commissioners for the affairs of Virginia it was agreed that the several Nations of tributary Indians should pay to the Governor their tribute beaver and that likewise they should annually pay to his Majesty only three Indian arrows in lieu of a quit rent and as an acknowledgment for all lands they hold of our sovereign lord. The several towns of Indians are partly by war and partly by mortality so wasted and decayed that many towns now united do not make up the number of one town; whereby the value of the tribute beaver is much lessened to what in former Governors' times it hath been and is now so mean that if it were sold at the common price between man and man it would not produce above 50*l.* sterling. It is therefore hoped it will be continued as a perquisite to the present Governor "under whose prudent and watchful government this his Majesty's Colony doth now, God be thanked, flourish." As to wine licences it has never been known, since the first settling of this country that houses have been peculiarly set up for the vending of wines or that any wine licences have been granted. The only houses of accommodation are ordinaries and alehouses, which are not above two or three in a county, the masters of which houses do annually upon the renewing their licences pay to the Governor a small consideration as by Act of Assembly established.	Ibid, pp. 212–3.

Nathaniel Bacon at which were present Francis, Lord Howard, the Governor, Mr. Auditor Bacon, Mr. Secretary Spencer, Col. Philip Ludwell, Col. William Cole, Col. John Page, Col. William Byrd and Col. They therefore represent how impossible it will be for the revenue to answer the charge of such pretensions; as Sands's case will be taken as a precedent to encourage all others who have received losses at sea of the like nature to expect the like favour. It is therefore prayed that the revenue of the Colony be freed from such consequences.

In case the lease as follows to Phillip Gough of date 1669 for 31 years of the heriots of Melenydd for 10*l.* per an. and the land called Witterley at 6*s.* 8*d.* per an. and enclosures of concealed land in Knighton at 3*s.* 2*d.* per an. shall be adjudged to be good and not forfeit for non-performance of any covenants, then these [items and] rents are to be defalked out of the present lease during the remainder of said Gough's term. The lessee herein is to covenant to recover at his own cost and within five years hereof all and every the premises herein that are concealed from the Crown, except what may be found good in Gough's lease. Towards his said expenses all arrears of the profits of the six parcels comprised in the single rent of 54*s.* 6*d.* are to be granted to said Haynes, but all arrears of the tolls of Knighton from Aug., 1678 (being the time of Mathey Massey's death), to the commencement of the present lease are to be specially excepted hereout. Prefixing: (a) particular of the premises made out by Deputy Auditor Robert Humfreys. (1) tolls of Knighton in the Lordship of Melenydd, valued at 13*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.*, but now passed at the yearly rent of 66*s.* 8*d.* (2) the heriots in the said Lordship, viz. in the several manors of Gladestry, Presthend [Presteign], Rislin, Knucklas, Comotoyder [Cwmtoyddwr], Iscoyd, Southruralth, Uchoyd [Uwchcoed], Raydor [Rhayader], Knighton, Southugre, Southnethian, parcel of said Lordship and of the Principality of South Wales and of the possessions of the late Earl of March, lately in the tenure of Sir Edmund Sawyer and now in that of Tho. On tho 2nd Mar., 1630–1, a particular was made of the tolls of Knighton and of the heriots in the several lordships of Knocklas, Southruralth, Southvyre, Southnethiam and Knighton and of the items Nos. 4–8 supra for a lease thereof to Francis Morris for the use of the officers of the Ordnance, but no lease thereupon appears to be enrolled. The heriots of the lordship of Melenydd and of the demesne lands and concealed lands of the manor of Knocklas were demised to Philip Gough ut supra as concealments. The tolls of Knighton were granted 1603–4, Mar. 20, to Thomas Mesoey and Thomas Pursell at the nomination of Robert Browne for the lives of Mathey Messey and William Blundell. The survivor Messey died in 1678 and there is no later grant and no rent has since been answered to the Crown. The ancient rent was 13*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* The arrears thereof since 1678 ought to be answered to the Crown. There has been no late survey of the value of the toll and I can make no estimate of it. The heriots of the lordship of Melenydd were leased by Sir John Walter and other the late Prince's trustees to several persons for terms long since expired and were demised to Gough ut supra as a concealment. They are held by Thomas Harlcigh under some title from Gough. I cannot estimate their value as the present tenant is not obliged to deliver any particular thereof. The tolls of Presteigne were demised to Sir Edmund Sawyer, kt., by Sir John Walter et al., ut supra, for a term which expired in 1660. The town has since held them and paid the rent to the Crown, but under what title appears not. I cannot estimate the value, as I have no late survey of them. Whitterley and the concealed lands in Knighton [items 3 and 8 supra] were demised to Gough, ut supra, but he did not recover them to the Crown within the stipulated five years. The Freith Wood contains by a survey in my office 70 acres, was of the improved value of 10*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* per an. and had on it 140 small oaks. I do not know when and by whom same were felled. (c) Ratal by Deputy Auditor John Fisher of said ratal, fixing terms as above. (d) Entry of [thc Treasury Lords' subscription of] the docquet of this lease.

Jan. 23.	Treasury warrant to the Clerk of the Pipe to make an alteration in the last clause of the lease of Frogmore to William Aldworth so as to restrain only four acres instead of eight [for resumption by the Crown]; Aldworth having represented that the most convenient place for him to build on is part of the said eight acres adjoining the old mansion house which is to be rebuilt; Sir Christopher Wren, Surveyor of the Works, having reported that if the King or his successors should think fit to build a mews four acres would be sufficient to build stables for 300 horses and 30 coach houses with offices, lodgings and appurtenances.	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, p. 223.
	Same to the King's Remembrancer to take the securities of John Nash as Receiver General of Crown Revenues in South Wales; viz. said Nash, Henry Grey, Marmaduke Gibbs and Dionisius Andrews in 750*l.* each; William Lawson, Charles Shelley, goldsmith, Patrick Vosse, vintner, and Francis Stringer, gent., in 250*l.* each.	Ibid, p. 224.
	Report to the King from the Treasury Lords on the petition of Francis Terence and Martyn Dinence, merchants, praying payment of the 468*l.* 8*s.* 7*d.* due to them which Charles II ordered payment of in Sept., 1677, but which by the means of the Earl of Danby and Charles Bertie they have not yet received. The said Bertie has hereon given answer thereto to the effect that after many applications to the King and Privy Council the matter was heard in the Exchequer Court and decree made in 1682 for cancelling the said order and the assignment thereon, as being fully paid. To this Terence has replied that their petitions to the King during the life of the Lord O'Brien were hindered by the Earl of Danby taking up and hindering them and when Bertie could no longer hinder the trial before the King in Council he preferred a bill in the Exchequer against Terence, Dinence, Cox and Gawen, junr., and further that they appealed against the said decree to the House of Lords and Bertie never put in his answer thereto. In view of such appeal we submit whether it be fit that we or the Privy Council take further cognizance of the matter.	Ibid, pp. 224–5.

Northampton.	Ibid, p. 226.

	Same to Mr. Blathwayt [as Auditor of the Plantations] of the following case. Prefixing: said case. The late King by letters to the late Bermudas Company required a certificate of the estate which the late regicides died seized of in those lands [Bermudas], the said King's intention being to give those lands to Henry Killegrew and Mr. Dungen. The Company certified eight shares of [land] late belonging to Cornelius Holland and Sir John Danvers, whereupon Sir Geo. Waterman desired Mr. Killegrew to let him have the refusal of said land and gave him 80 broad pieces of gold, which Killegrew gave bond to repay if he did not make Sir George good assurance of said land. The said Sir George was immediately put in possession and enjoyed the said eight shares till his death without any further assurance and by will gave them to his daughters. The daughters pretend to sell the said land to one Noden, a favourite member of the said [Bermudas] Company, which being dissolved, he attends the Treasury to procure a grant which at last passed on to the great seal and Noden has brought his action in Bermudas for the eight shares and thirteen s[hares] more belonging to Owen Roe, which suit is still depending. His Majesty being thus deceived both in the title and quantity of land the grant is void. When the late Bermudas Company divided those islands among themselves they set apart a fourth of the land for the maintenance of the government, which [fourth part] remained in their possession as a body politic until they were dissolved on a trial at the Bar, and [thereby said fourth part] is vested in the King.	Ibid, p. 212.

	Royal warrant [to same] to pay from time to time in the first place the payments expressed in the Civil and Military lists [in the Irish Establishment as follows] before making any payment of the lists of pensions and in case in any one year the revenue of Ireland be not sufficient to satisfy more than the said Civil and Military lists then such deficiency shall fall upon the list of pensions "and also an equal abatement is to be made thereout according to such proportion as our said revenue shall fall short of satisfying all the above pensions after the sums due to the two first mentioned lists shall be discharged." Further, no pension is to be added to this list except a vacancy first happen to answer the same. Further, in case in any one year the revenue of Ireland shall exceed the payments directed to discharge the three lists Civil, Military and Pensions as follows, amounting in all to 243,663*l.* 6*s.* 3*d.*, then such overplus is hereby to be applied as the King shall direct. Prefixing: said Irish Establishment, or list containing all the payments to be made for Civil affairs, Military affairs and Pensions in Ireland: to begin from 1687–8, Jan. 1. Civil affairs: the list is ut supra, Calendar of Treasury Books, Vol. VII, pp. 1002–6, with the following alterations, viz.: under the head of "officers and ministers attending the State" insert, as the fourth item, Physician to the State	Ibid, pp. 75–89.

At the end of the "Officers of the Customs" insert as follows: "And our pleasure is that as any of the said officers of Customers, Comptrollers or searchers of our Customs shall determine or become void by death, forfeiture, surrender or otherwise no new letters patent shall be made or passed of the same, but the office and officers becoming so void shall be supplied as the Commissioners of our revenues there for the time being shall think necessary for our service." Under the head of "perpetuities" insert at the end 50*l.* per an. to the minister of the French Church; 12*l.* per an. for printing the bills of mortality; 12*l.* per an. for the tithe of the land in Phœnix Park. Under the head of "Debts [and interest of money to be advanced]" the present establishment contains only one item, viz. 5,000*l.* per an. to pay the remainder of 21,000*l.* to Robert, Earl of Sunderland, until same shall be satisfied; [this sum to be paid] out of the quit rents formerly assigned to the Duke of Ormonde. Under the head of "Temporary payments" the present establishment contains only the following three items, viz.: 20*l.* per an. to Walter Cooper; 50*l.* per an. to the Ranger of Phœnix Park and Master of the Game; 300*l.* per an. to Richard Grace. These payments to cease on the death or surrender etc. of the grantees etc. ut ibid. p. 1005. Feb. 7.	Royal warrant to the Clerk of the Signet for a privy seal for an allowance as follows to Sir John Bucknall on his account of the farm of the French duty. Sir John Bucknall, kt., son of said Sir William, is now upon his account of the said farm and of a subsequent lease granted by Charles II to said Sir William of said duty in England only at 1,200*l. per an.* rent. He has represented that on the first farm neither said Sir William Bucknall nor said Huntingdon could receive any part of the said duty in Ireland by reason of a prior grant thereof, dated Dublin, 1662, Oct. 27, under the great seal of Ireland to Sir George Carteret and Daniel Oneil for 21 years from 1660, Oct. 20. Sir John Bucknall has therefore prayed an abatement of 600*l. per an.* out of the rent of 1,800*l. per an.* reserved in the abovesaid lease of 1667, Dec. 7, viz. for the four years thereof; and has further exhibited an English bill in the Exchequer to be relieved in the premises. 	Same to Mr. Ange of the petition of William Rowland et al., praying restitution of 20*l.* [levied upon them] upon account of Recusancy and remaining in the hands of Edwd. Jones, Clerk of the Peace for co. Carnarvon.	Ibid.
	Treasury warrant to William Spencer, sheriff of Lancs., to pay to Charles, Lord Brandon, 194*l.* 6*s.* 1*d.* levied on the estate of Charles, Earl of Macclesfield, by virtue of writs out of the Exchequer directed to the Chancellor of the County Palatine of Lancaster; the King having granted to said Lord Brandon the profits of said estate.	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 231–2.

I have nothing [in the records] before me concerning said Hall and no lease of it has ever been enrolled before the auditor of said county since it came to the Crown, which was by purchase of Sir Henry Lindley, kt., by James I in 1604 and rated then at 20*s. per an.* and put in charge at that value, which rent is constantly answered to this day, but by whom the auditor cannot say, the rent being paid to Sir Thomas Williams, the Receiver [of Crown revenues for said county], who never passed any accounts since he has had the grant of his office. The manor of Buriton was formerly in the Crown and sold off in fee to Robert, Earl of Lindsey, by Charles I in 1632, but with a special exception of this Buriton Hall and appurtenances, which anciently had a large house upon it and many outbuildings that are now many of them fallen down and the rest much in decay. If petitioner will repair same he deserves a lease without fine at the above rent, which I take to be near the full value.

	Same to the Board of Greencloth to continue (and to place on the establishment of the Household) the pension of 60*l. per an.* allowed to the children of Loud Cordell during their minority; which was payable in the name of said Cordell's widow: the King having on their petition consented to its continuance.	Ibid.
	The Treasury Lords to the Lord Deputy of Ireland. We have sent you herewith the new Establishment [of Expense, Ireland, ut supra, pp. 1743–7] which commences from Jan. 1 last. You will find therein that the 500*l. per an.* to the City of Dublin, the 200*l. per an.* to Lieut. Col. Dorrington, the 200*l. per an.* to Lieut. Col. Sheldon and the 10*l.* a year to Major Lyne are continued as you desired; and that Mr. Cuff and Mr. Carr are reduced to 150*l.* each as you proposed with their own consents and Mrs. Hubblethorne to 100*l. per an.* These last are to make such releases or discharges of the overplus as you think necessary. The 180*l. per an.* rent for the Parliament House is omitted in this establishment on the reasons given by you, but two petitions having been presented to the King, one on behalf of the children and orphans of the late Bishop of Ossory and the other by Mr. William Robinson, you are to peruse them as herein enclosed [missing] and report thereon to the King. The King noted your observations concerning the Muster Master General. It is his pleasure that the said Muster Master should no longer continue the taking of one day's pay from the Army, although the King was well satisfied that no alteration should have been made in the establishment whereby the charge might either be increased or decreased without knowledge of the Treasury Lords according to a standing rule formerly made in that behalf. You are therefore to consider and certify what additional allowance may be fit to be made to said Muster Master's salary in recompence of said one day's pay. As to Sir Robert Reading, it is the King's pleasure that you proceed against his patent for the 500*l.* a year for keeping the lighthouses, upon the grounds you represent. If the grant be avoided by law the King will order that the lighthouses (which are said to be very necessary) shall be maintained, but he will be at no more charge than you shall represent as needful therein. As to your observations on the 1,600*l. per an.* for necessaries for the Office of Ordnance, the King commands it to be continued for one year longer, at the end whereof an account of its application is to be given. You will find that the name of Lady Stephens is inserted in the pension list and a blank left for the [amount of] same. You are to inform yourself whether she has any other subsistence to live upon and how much. The King will thereupon declare his pleasure as to her pension. Also you are to report on the enclosed	Out Letters (Ireland) V, pp. 90–1

No payments are to be directed on that pension "in which behalf your Excellency will receive his Majesty's order in short time."
Feb. 16.	The Treasury Lords to the Revenue Commissioners, Ireland, enclosing from the King a paper [missing] of remarks made by Mr. William Joseph upon Mr. Price's accounts as well those which concern the revenue as those which relate to the fees and poundage taken in his [Price's] Office: and herewith also the report [missing] thereupon by one of our Treasury clerks after discourse with said Mr. Joseph. From the latter it seems plain to us that there has been no want of directions on this side or in the government there [in Ireland] to establish a sure and regular method of accounts in Ireland and that there should constantly be a sufficient comptrol not only upon the accounts of the respective receivers, collectors etc. but also upon the running cash in the hands of the Receiver General and that the accounts should be finally determined every year in the ancient course of the Exchequer. But it not being known to us whether the officers concerned in keeping or making said accounts or comptrols have done their duty according to those directions we desire you to strictly enquire thereinto and particularly in the offices of the Accountant General and the Clerk of the Pells and as to whether the accounts of the particular collectors and receivers be constantly passed with the Auditor General according to the Earl of Clarendon's late order; and whether the general account of the gross produce be duly passed by the Accomptant General as prescribed by the late Treasurer Rochester. A neglect in these matters may tend to the King's great damage: therefore send us an account thereof. As to Mr. Joseph's remarks, you are to enquire and inform us how does it come to pass that Mr. Price is not charged till the year 1686 with moneys proper to the years 1684 and 1685: and are not sufficient accounts kept by the Clerk of the Pells and Accountant General to be a constant, full and sure checque on the Receiver General's receipts and payments and remains from time to time: also whether the Accountant General does not keep a ledger and therein an account with every particular Receiver, Collector etc.: and whether there be such differences as Mr. Joseph affirms between the accounts of the Receiver General and the respective collectors in reference to the moneys allowed to them as paid to him and charged upon him as received of them; and if there be any such differences how they come to pass: also the true reason why the late King had but 50*l.* for First Fruits and Twentieth Parts from Christmas, 1682, to 1683-4, Mar. 20, and why the allowances in the Sheriff's accounts so much exceed the revenue in their charge.	Out Letters (Ireland) V, pp. 92–3.

	Same to same for a same for passing in the following form the accounts of Col. Peircy Kirke as Governor of the late city and garrison of Tangier, viz. between 1681–2, Jan. 1, and 1683–4, Jan. 10. In the said accounts as stated by Brooke Bridges and Thomas Done, Auditors of Imprests, said Kirke is charged with 12,286*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.* paid to him by William Hewer, Treasurer of said garrison; and with 762*l.* 4*s.* 10½*d.* as the value (appraised by the Mayor and two Aldermen of Tangier) of several pieces of cloth received by said Kirke from Charles II. Against this total charge of 13,048*l.* 7*s.* 4½*d.* he craves allowance of 8,409*l.* 1*s.* 9*d.* paid for services of the said garrison from 1681, May 3, to 1683, Aug. 8, as by two accounts thereof attested by the Mayor of Tangier and Mr. Erlisman, then Comptroller: and 238*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* paid for a house bought of Capt. Cuthbert Carr for quarters for several officers, said payment being not properly vouched, but charged as paid by said Hewer to Sir James Leslie for a house in Tangier which Kirke alleges is this house: and 1,160*l.* 2*s.* 0*d.* paid for 48 Mahommedan slaves bought of the inhabitants of Tangier: and 552*l.* 14*s.* 8*d.* disbursed in various sums for services of said garrison "since the close of the two attested accounts before mentioned" and vouched by bills and acquittances: and 3,190*l.* 14*s.* 9*d.* for his own salary as Governor, viz. at the rate of 1,500*l. per an.* from 1681–2, Jan. 1 (the date of his commission), to 1683, Oct. (the date of Lord Dartmouth's entry on the Government of Tangier); and 20*s.* a day for pay as Colonel and Captain from 1682, April 19 (the date of his commission for those commands), to 1684, May 1 (at which time the Regiment under his command began to be paid by Charles Fox, then Paymaster of the Forces, as is certified by Roger Hewitt, clerk to the said [Hewer] late Paymaster [of Tangier]), the said salary and pay being so computed that 4*s.*6*d.* pays off every 4*s.* 9*d.* according to the establishment of the late Garrison of Tangier. The total cravings amount to 13,551*l.* 3*s.* 2*d.*, thus leaving the accomptant in surplus 502*l.* 15*s.* 9½*d.*: to which sum Kirke has prayed that there may be added several sums, amounting to 642*l.* 16*s.* 1*d.*, which want or are of such a nature as to be incapable of proper vouchers therefor. This makes the total surplusage 1,145*l.* 11*s.* 10½*d.*, against which William Hewer has since further charged upon the accomptant 10*l.* 7*s.* 1¾*d.*, thus leaving the final surplusage 1,135*l.* 4*s.* 8¾*d.* The King being satisfied that all the said sums have been truly expended, hereby orders the allowance of all the said items notwithstanding any irregularity of want of vouchers, and that the said final surplusage be paid to said Kirke in final settlement. 1687–8. Feb. 21.	Treasury warrant to John Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Revenues, for a constat or particular of the mansion house in or near Soho Square which belonged to the late Duke of Monmouth, with the outhouses, stables and appurtenances thereto and to rate same in order to a lease thereof to the Duchess of Monmouth for 52 years from Michaelmas, 1734, at 20*s. per an.* rent. Prefixing : (a) petition from said Duchess, ut supra, p. 1752 ; (b) report dated Feb. 13 by said John Fisher thereon. The late Earl of St. Albans took a lease 1672, July 17, to his trustees, Mr. Hervey and Sir John Coell, from the late Queen Mother's Trustees (after her death) of several pieces of land belonging to the bailiwick of St. James's called Kempsfield, Bunches Close etc. (which includes the Sohoe Square and the buildings and grounds about it) for 33 years from 1681, Michaelmas, and on 1674, Sept. 10, he obtained a further grant thereof from Charles II for 20 years. These terms expire 1734, Michaelmas. The said Earl and his trustees in 1676 demised same to Joseph Girle for all except the last half year of said term. On 1677, April 6, Girle assigned to Richard Frith. On 1677, Dec. 13, Frith with Cridogan Thomas assigned to William Pym. On 1681, Sept. 9, they assigned to William Nutt and Benjamin Hinton, who passed the lease of the ground here in question in Soho Square (76 feet in front northward and 280 feet deep) with the other part adjoining it at the south-west corner (126 foot long and 40 broad, the whole making ½ acre 16 perches) to the late Duke of Monmouth, upon which piece of ground the said Frith and Thomas undertook to build the mansion house with the outhouses and stables for the Duke and expended thereon above 4,000*l.* whereof the Duke paid them 1,700*l.* "and it will cost at least 2,200*l.* more to finish them." The Duke soon after forfeited his estate and Charles II 1684–5, Jan. 28, passed the grant of them to Sir Stephen Fox and Nicholas Fenn for the remainder of the Duke's term therein, in trust for the Duchess until she should be paid 1,200*l.* by said Frith and Thomas, and after that 1,200*l.* paid then to be in trust to convey same to Antho. Ward and Andrew Card for the benefit of Hinton's estate. I cannot see how this 1,200*l.* is ever to be raised out of the premises and I consider the inheritance of the premises to be of little value. More money must be expended before the premises can be made inhabitable or fit for sale and 300*l.* or 350*l. per an.* when finished is a full value for good estates in land, these being but houses subject to casualty and decay.	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 236–8.
	The Treasury Lords to the Revenue Commissioners, Ireland. We lately instructed you to employ George McCartney as collector of Belfast port loco Mr. Carne, deceased. Feb. 22.	Privy seal for discharging as follows divers arrears of Tenths in the diocese of Lincoln. Several ministers of the Gospel did lately petition the King, shewing that there are great arrears of Tenths	King's Warrant Book XII, pp. 350–4.

1687–8.	in their respective livings which accrued chiefly through the fault of their predecessors and are risen to an insupportable burden for their small incomes and have therefore besought exemption and relaxation. On a reference to the Agents of Taxes and the Bishop of Lincoln it appears that all the livings concerned are of small value and many years' arrears of Tenths are due thereon. Being moved in compassion in regard of petitioners' poverty the King hereby orders that all the said arrears as follows up to 1687, Christmas, be pardoned, exonerated and discharged in the next account of the said Bishop or his sub-collector, but no arrears to be pardoned in the case of churches which are not yet full by institution and induction until such time as the persons serving the cures thereof be lawfully instituted and inducted, whereby the King may be entitled to First Fruits and be better assured of the payment of Tenths for the future. Further, power is hereby given to the Treasury Lords in all cases where they shall be satisfied by the certificate of a Bishop or other attestation that a rectory or vicarage is of small value not exceeding 30*l.* a year (reckoning by the utmost and most improved valuation) and that divers years' arrears of Tenths are incurred thereupon and that the ministers thereof are objects of royal compassion, then the said Lords may in their discretion hereby similarly discharge such arrears on the proviso of institution and induction as above. Feb. 23.	Treasury reference to John Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, of the petition of the Marquess of Powys concerning lands in the Forest of Delamere: said petition setting forth that discovery was made by one John Taylor, esq., that the said forest and the manor of Bidston, both in co. Chester, do belong to the Crown: that upon a commission of inquiry it was found that the King is seized of all those lands in the said forest in fee and a map annexed to the return of the Commission contains 4,000 acres. Petitioner offers to be at the charge of finding the Crown's title to the said manor. One third part of the forest is disposed of to said Taylor for former services and for this discovery. The other two third parts still remain in the King's disposal. The said Taylor has resigned his said third part to the present petitioner. Therefore petitioner prays a long lease of the said forest and manor and of all other lands belonging to said forest, he to be at the charge of enclosing the forest, which now lies all waste, barren and unprofitable. Hereupon the referee is to report a true state of the premises.	Reference Book V, pp. 219–20.
	Treasury warrant to Jno. Beckwith of Bewerley and his partners to enter into any of the lands of the manor and liberties (Liberty) of Ripon to dig, sink and make mines for coal, giving reasonable satisfaction to the tenants for any prejudice they sustain thereby; the late Archbishop of York having encouraged you to seek for coal there on consideration that you should be allowed a reasonable proportion of the coals you should find, but upon his death you having forborne to carry on said works by reason of the disturbances and threats of some evil disposed persons, which tends to the King's damage and to your loss. Mr. Nicholas Sugar is hereby to view your works and undertakings to the end that we, the Treasury Lords, may give further direction therein.	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, p. 238.

Feb. 23.	Treasury warrant to John Fisher, Deputy Surveyor General of Crown Lands, for a particular of Princes Wood in Lincolnshire, parcel of the Duchy of Cornwall, with a view to a fresh lease thereof to Edward King for 31 years from Christmas last at the ancient rents and fine of 50*l.* (for buying off the increased rent of 22*l.* 11*s.* 17½*d. per an.*) and fine of 150*l.* for this renewal. This new lease to contain a grant of the small fishery at 6*s.* 6*d. per an.* as in the existing grant. Prefixing : (a) note of said King's petition for renewal of his existing lease in the premises. (b) Said Fisher's report, dated Dec. 20 last, thereon. This petition has not been prosecuted for the last nine months. The wood and warren in question were granted to Nathaniell Fiennes (former husband of this petitioner's wife) by Charles II for 31 years from 1661, Lady day, at 25*l. per an.* rent, "being then esteemed the full moiety of the improved value; the old rent of Princes Wood being but 20*s. per an.* and the warren 67*s.* 4½*d. per an.*, and so the increase was 20*l.* 7*s.* 7½*d. per an.* The warren is five times the value of the wood, but was destroyed by the hard winters in 1683 and 1684 and yielded little or nothing for two years after (as is certified by the understeward of the manor and soke of Kirton in Lindsey, of which the premises are parcel) and it will be very chargeable for him to replenish it again with coneys. I therefore advise a fine of 150*l.* for renewal instead of 250*l.*, at which it might otherwise be valued.	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 248–9.
	Same to same for a same of the water of Fowey, parcel of the Duchy of Cornwall, in order to a fresh lease thereof to Christopher Tooker on surrender of the present term: for 31 years from Lady day next at the ancient rent and without fine, the charge of passing the lease being greater than the value. Prefixing : (a) note of said Tooker's petition on behalf of the Earl of Radnor. (b) Report by said Fisher, dated 1687–8, June [sic for Jan.] 23, thereon. The fishery within the river of Fowey, hereby petitioned for, was granted in 1661 with other things to Mr. Seymour, from whom the late Earl of Radnor purchased it, being anciently in his family and adjacent to his seat. It is of little value more than the rent of 50*s.*	Ibid, p. 249.

	The Treasury Lords to the Lord Deputy of Ireland to report on the enclosed petition [missing] of Richard Bret.	Out Letters (Ireland) V, p. 95.
	Royal letter to same. Several frauds have of late been committed by merchants and others in the wool trade between England and Ireland, to the great prejudice of the wool manufactures in "these kingdoms." Under pretence of sending wool from Ireland into England several persons have conveyed great quantities thereof into France and other parts contrary to Acts of Parliament; and divers have counterfeited certificates from Customs officers in England to discharge the [wool] bonds. A due and vigorous prosecution of such offenders has been wanting, but some of them are now proceeded against in Ireland. We recommend you to do your best to bring the offenders to punishment. In 1684 a patent of 3,200*l.* was granted to Mr. Richard Coote to be paid out of the forfeitures on wool. The said Coote receives the moneys thereon by a course not warrantable and the continuance of the patent is detrimental to the King. It is therefore to be avoided and if the patentee refuse reasonable compensation you are to vacate it by a scire facias or other course.	Ibid, pp. 95–6.
	The Treasury Lords to same concerning the same matter. We have received fresh advices of wool carried from Ireland to St. Malo. We send you the papers concerning same. Examine the matter and do all you can for the punishment of the offenders.	Ibid, p. 96.

Mar. 8	Henry Guy to Dr. Wynn. The Treasury Lords have laid your letter of the 3rd inst. before the King. It is his Majesty's pleasure that Samuell Berrington, John Sinklare and James Sinklare, named therein, be transported and that James Younger find surety for good behaviour before he be released: as you have proposed.	Out Letters (General) XI, p. 328.
	Same to the Attorney General. On last Monday the Earl of Feversham and Visct. Preston were here [at the Treasury Chambers] with the Treasury Lords concerning the Queen Dowager's pretensions to some houses about Wallingford House. My Lords told them this matter was heretofore referred to Sir Robert Sawyer [then Attorney General], who went out of office before he reported thereon. It was agreed that the matter of legal right be referred to the Attorney and Solicitor General and the Queen's Council, but that there should be no pretensions on the Horse Guards or any other place now in the King's immediate use or possession and that if the houses thereabouts should be found to be by law in the Queen Dowager's jointure then she would take a reasonable compensation. You are to confer as above thereon and report.	Ibid, p. 329.
	Same to Mr. Neale [Master and Worker of the Mint] to furnish 3,000 Healing medals with all possible speed to James Grahme, esq., Keeper of the Privy Purse. The Treasury Lords will take care for the payment for same.	Ibid.
	Same to the Customs Commissioners. The Treasury Lords have laid before the King your draft of a letter to be sent to the officers of the Customs with the three questions concerning the Penal Laws, the Test and the King's Declaration for Liberty of Conscience. The King approves of the method you propose in the said paper, a copy whereof [missing] I return you herewith.	Ibid.
	Same to Sir Christopher Wren to attend the King at the Treasury Chambers on Tuesday afternoon next with your draughts concerning the building the Stables in St. James's Park "and all your papers concerning that whole business."	Ibid, p. 330.
	Same to Mr. Blathwayte to attend the Treasury Lords on Monday next concerning the money of the [Hispaniola] wreck received by Sir Robert Robinson; and concerning the applying same to the King's use.	Ibid.
	Same to Mr. Culliford to report on the enclosed proposal [missing] concerning the improvement of the quit rents in Ireland.	Ibid.
	Same to John Faircloth, constable in Walbrook Ward, London, to attend the Treasury Lords next Tuesday to answer the complaint made against you by Randolph Ashenhurst, esq., and partners, Farmers of the Royal Oak Lottery, concerning your disturbing them in the quiet exercise of said lottery in contempt of the King's patent and proclamation.	Ibid.

1687–8. Mar. 8.	Treasury reference to the Navy Commissioners of the petition of Lieut. Corbet Henne, who married Sir Tho. Beckford's widow, praying payment of the 500*l.* which said Sir Thomas bequeathed to his said widow out of [a debt of] 3,000*l.* due to him [Beckford] by a privy seal for sloops.	Reference Book V, p. 229.
	Report to the King from the Treasury Lords on the petition of Lieut.-Col. Richard Pope; petitioner shewing that about six weeks since he delivered a proposal to the King for glazing and lustring of Taffetyes called Alamodes and Lutestrings [lustrings] in behalf of a French merchant who has the only perfect understanding of that art in England; but another person [see supra, p. 1733] has brought the like proposal before the King and Council; that the said merchant relies on petitioner and must withdraw himself into foreign parts if any patent pass to his prejudice: therefore praying the King to hear all parties in order to a final determination. Hereon the Treasury Lords report that Paul Cloudsley et al. did petition, ut supra, p. 1733, which petition was referred Nov. 28 last by the King to the Attorney General, who reported thereon Dec. 16 last, and again referred Dec. 23 to us, the Treasury Lords, who referred same to the Customs Commissioners. The latter reported thereon Feb. 22 last, which report was read before the King in Council the 2nd inst. Pope's petition was delivered to us between our said reference to the Customs Commissioners and their said report thereon. His petition is therefore not prior in time. But we have this day heard Pope and he insists that he and his partners have been above two years in bringing over a person who perfectly understands the said art and can perform the same better than the other petitioners, for proof whereof ho desires a trial of their skills: [he further stated] "that there will be occasion and room enough to set both parties to work in the said mistery and that he the said Lieut.-Col. Pope doth not desire that the said Cloudesley and his partners should be excluded but that both parties may have your Majesty's grant." Prefixing: (a) said Pope's petition: (b) reference, dated Whitehall, Mar. 2 inst., from the King in Council to the Treasury Lords thereon.	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 251–2.

Mar. 8.	The Treasury Lords to the Revenue Commissioners, Ireland. On receipt of yours of the 4th inst. we sent for Mr. William Bridges again. He denies that so much is due from him and Mr. Genew as you demand and they have exhibited an English bill in the Irish Exchequer for relief. He promises that the money shall be paid immediately if the judgment of the Barons goes against them and meanwhile desires access to the books and accounts. We think this reasonable. Several applications are made here for the place of Mr. Winteringham, deceased, "joined with the Accomptant General." Is it better to have a new man added to Mr. Bonnell or to have that office executed by a single person and his deputies and clerks? The Customs Commissioners have lately represented that great frauds are practised in Ireland in the wool trade and that you are prosecuting divers on that account. We have informed the King thereof, who has directed the Lord Deputy to use his endeavours therein, ut supra, p. 1799; also as to Capt. Coote's patent, ut ibid.	Out Letters (Ireland) V, pp. 96–7.

	Report to the Treasury Lords from William Blathwayt on the petition of Robert, Visct. Teviot, ut supra, p. 1716. The King is fully satisfied [the balance due] from the Farmers of the first seven years of the Barbados Four and a Half per cent. farm. The 988*l.* 15*s.* 2*d.* decreed in the Exchequer Court in 1686, Nov. 19, has been recovered in the King's name only in aid of the said Farmers and therefore belongs to them upon [their] satisfying to William Greenwood and Anthony Leybourn (as in trust for Mary Strode, relict of Col. John Strode) the sum of 364*l.* 9*s.* 6*d.* granted by the privy seal of 1686–7, Jan. 19. Prefixing and appending: (a) said petition of Visct. Teviot: (b) Treasury order of reference, dated Jan. 17 last, thereon: (c) report, dated Feb. 2 last, thereon from Auditor Phelips. This petition is for arrears of salary and other allowances due to said Visct. upon the account of seven years [farm] from 1670, Christmas, of the Four and a Half per cent. in Barbados, the accompts whereof were made up by Auditor Aldworth and Mr. Blathwayt and never came to my hands. But there was a suit commenced in the Exchequer against Patrick Trant and others for moneys paid to them by said Farmers and they then produced tallies for the discharge thereof. The accompt thereof was referred to me by the Barons of the Exchequer. I reported thereon that the defendants were to pay, or produce tallies for, 599*l.* 12*s.* 8*d.* principal money and the interest thereon came to 389*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.*, making the total debt 988*l.* 15*s.* 2*d.*, which the Court decreed to be due to the King. The said cause is still depending "upon the full hearing whereof there will be more money due to his Majesty of the like nature." (d) Treasury reference, dated Feb. 10, to William Blathwayt of said petition and report. (e) A later undated report from Auditor Phelips. I have seen the [abovesaid] privy seal whereby I conceive his Majesty is fully satisfied the debt due to him on the accompt of the abovesaid farm.	Out Letters (Plantations Auditor) I, pp. 287–8.

The King has considered same and has taken notice of the condition of his revenue there to answer same and does conceive that the very considerable arrears standing out at Christmas last on several branches of the revenue due in preceding years might be some help to defray this extraordinary charge arising from such increase of pay. He desires you to inform yourself whether by means of those arrears there is any likelihood that more ready money will come into the Receipt in Ireland next year than did in the last year and if so he leaves it to you to propose a time from which said full pay shall commence. 	Report to the Treasury Lords from William Blathwayt on the memorial of Mr. Burghill touching several shares of land in the Bermudas formerly belonging to Owen Row, Cornelius Holland and Sir John Danvers, as also concerning the public lands there. I [Blathwaite] find that the late [Bermudas] Company of those Islands did on 1668, April 9, make a certificate to the late King that Cornelius Holland and Owen Row died seized of nine shares of land there, five of which only have lately [been] conveyed by the King under the great seal to Hugh Noden, merchant of London, after several hearings before the late Lord Treasurer. As to the other four shares and twelve more certified to have belonged to Sir John Danvers, it does not appear that Noden concerns himself therewith. As to one fourth of those islands mentioned in the memorial to have been set apart by his Majesty's charter for the maintenance of the Governor, by the name of the Public or General Lands (which by the dissolution of the late Company is now vested in his Majesty), I find that by the King's instructions to Sir Robert Robinson, the present Governor of the Bermudas, he is directed to make strict enquiry as to same.	Out Letters (Plantations Auditor) I, pp. 290–1.

April 5.	Treasury warrant to Philip Frowde, esq., Governor of the Post Office, to give order to the Receiver of the Post Office to pay the officers of his Majesty's Post Office and of the Penny Post Office such yearly increase of salary as you, said Frowde, shall think fit, not exceeding in the whole 586*l.* per an. and until further order: all by reason that said Frowde has set forth in his presentment of Mar. 26 ult. that the number of letters in the Post Office and consequently the business thereof is very much of late increased and that there are divers frauds lately discovered very prejudicial to the revenue, and that there is 12*d.* per £ paid to some of the officers thereof for the diamonds that are sent to France, Flanders and Holland, and that there is quarterage paid to the said officers by the merchants that receive the gold here coming from Holland, all which is by no means to be any longer suffered, being of so great disadvantage to the revenue; to prevent which the said Frowde has been obliged for some time past to employ two new officers in the Inland [Letter] Office and one in the Foreign [Letter] Office, which [innovation] turns to very good account, but the said officers have no salary appointed: further that divers officers in the Post Office are very good clerks, but have only mean salaries, 10*l.*, 20*l.*, 25*l.*, 30*l.* and 35*l.* per an., though their whole time is taken up, so that they lie under very great temptations of being prevailed upon to do things very prejudicial to the revenue and though divers of them have been turned out for same, yet it is no terror to their successors, they not being able to live upon their employments: therefore said Frowde proposed that no officer's salary in the Foreign Office be less than 50*l.* per an. and in the Inland Office not less than 40*l.* per an., and that the poundage for diamonds and the quarterage for gold be no longer permitted to be taken: therefore he desired that 586*l.* per an. be added to the salaries as above.	Money Book VIII, pp. 419–20.

	Henry Guy to the Revenue Commissioners, Ireland. The Treasury Lords have put the bond of Mr. Geneu and Mr. Bridges (which you sent from Ireland) into the hands of Mr. Graham and Mr. Burton with instructions to prosecute same.	Out Letters (Ireland) V, p. 101.
	The Treasury Lords to same. By the indenture of Aug. 5, last, ut supra, pp. 1423–5, provision is made that in collecting the arrears due to the late Farmers of the Revenue, Ireland, they will observe the instructions of the King, the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland or the Treasury Lords, England. In accordance herewith Sir John Temple, Solicitor General of Ireland, has (on reference from us) proposed the following regulations for this work. We approve thereof. This is therefore to give permission to two of you, together with one nominee of the said Farmers, to levy said arrears under the restrictions and methods so proposed; and at the costs and charges of the said Farmers. (1) The Farmers are first to give in to you a schedule of the arrears of Crown rents and quit rents. (4) On the issue of process or orders for levying, a note in writing shall be left with the chief tenants as to said arrears and no distraint shall take place till after three months ensuing, so that the person liable may have time to apply for a discharge (in case of error) or an instalment. (5) Where the quit rents in question were afterwards reduced by the late Earl of Essex the arrears shall be demanded and paid only according to such reducements, though they grew due before the making thereof.
April 5.	The Treasury Lords to the Lord Deputy of Ireland. On reading to the King your letter of Mar. 23 last concerning the additional days' pay to the Army (in which you opine that same cannot well be made till the revenue be in a better condition, in regard of the present scarcity of money and the great uncertainty whether the revenue will be sufficient to answer said addition) the King declared himself to be of the same opinion and has resolved not to make the addition till he has a better prospect to answer it from his revenue in Ireland. The King also took notice of the difficulty you mention in sending over Lord Forbes's Regiment and the commanded men out of the Regiment of Guards "in respect of paying them from Ireland when they shall be here" [in England] and does therefore think it more for his service that the said men should not come. You are therefore to stop the orders for their coming, if given. The King intends to send Col. Mac-gully-cuddy and some of his officers to Chester and Liverpool, from thence to pass into Ireland to gather up the men that shall be reduced out of the Companies there according to the orders sent you by the Earl of Sunderland. It is therefore the King's pleasure that the said reducement be not made till the arrival of Col. Mac-gully cuddy or some of his officers on that account.	Out Letters (Ireland) V. pp. 104–5.
	Same to same to report on the petition of Elizabeth, Countess Dowager of James, Earl of Castlehaven. What has been paid to her since the King's accession? Appending: said petition, shewing that the late King settled upon her said husband 500*l.* per an. until 5,000*l.* should be paid him in one entire payment; and the said Earl settled same upon her in lieu of a jointure; but the Lord Deputy took same to be only a pension and on the Earl's death left the same out of the new establishment.	Ibid, p. 105.
April 6.	Henry Guy to Lord Dartmouth to report on the enclosed petition [missing] of the late King's servants belonging to the Stables, praying that the like pensions may be settled on them as are granted to the rest of their fellow servants.	Out Letters (General) XI, p. 353.
	Same to the Navy Commissioners to report on the enclosed petition [missing, see supra, pp. 1820–1] of Sir Phineas Pett (with a report thereon by Mr. Fisher) concerning a lease of some barren lands lying eastward on the back of the dockyard, storehouses and ropehouses at Chatham. 	Same to the Customs Commissioners of the petition of William Talman, a King's waiter, London port, praying payment of 273*l.* due to him for 5¼ years' arrear on his salary; all his fellow King's waiters having duly received their arrears and growing salary, but petitioner being out of town was not included in their petition.	Ibid, p. 246.

1688. April 9.	Money warrant for 2,500*l.* to the Queen for last Lady day quarter on her annuity as by the patent of 1686, Dec. 3.	Money Book VIII, p. 422.
	Henry Guy to the Lord President [of the Privy Council] to give order for a [royal] warrant to admit John Brydall into the place of Clerk, of the Jewel House on the resignation of his father, Walter Brydall, the Master of the Jewel House having reported that said son is very fit for said place.	Out Letters (General) XI, p. 354.
	The Treasury Lords to the Bishop of Lincoln. About a year ago several poor ministers in your diocese petitioned about their arrears of Tenths, which petition was referred to us 1686–7, Mar. 4, We referred same to the Agents for Taxes ("Agents who are authorised in the prosecution of arrears"), who wrote to you 1687, June 11, for a certificate of the value of the livings concerned and of the arrears of Tenths thereon. On your certificate in reply of Aug. 1 last the King ordered a release of said arrears by the privy seal of Feb. 22 last, supra, pp. 1773–5. In spite of this we have received fresh complaints from Mr. Charles Bertie, who has appeared in behalf of the clergy and others, that a sudden and rigorous course is taken of levying those very arrears, besides pretended fees. We have had inquiry made as to how this should come to pass and are informed that Mr. Prettyman, late Remembrancer [of First Fruits and Tenths], although he knew of the whole proceeding, made forth a Commission without our knowledge and sent it down into the country with a clause in it that if any incumbents had any matter of discharge to produce they should only be warned to bring the same into the Exchequer for the Court to advise upon. And Mr. Gilbert, your Lordship's secretary, though not ignorant in the premises, has been so busy herein that sequestrations are issued at a very unusual time of the year and moneys extorted from the incumbents. Such sequestrations are not for the King's service, but may serve inferior officers to gain their unjust fees, which we know they have from time to time exacted. Out of respect for you we have not sent for Mr. Gilbert in custody, but we desire you to command him to attend us. Also please send us a certificate of the livings in your diocese that are capable of the discharge of arrears intended by the privy seal as above.	Ibid, pp. 355–6.
	Henry Guy to Mr. Bridgman, enclosing (by Lord Godolphin's order) a copy of the Treasury Lords' letter of April 5 to the Lord Deputy of Ireland, ut supra, p. 1853.	Ibid, p. 357.
	Treasury warrant to the Customs Commissioners to repay to John Lovet 12*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.* which was paid at Bristol on a parcel of Irish linen diaper imported by him, ut supra, p. 1815, being the duty on diaper as foreign over and above the Custom as Irish linen. Further directions are hereby to be given to the officers of Bristol port, and other ports where any sort of Irish linen may be imported, to suffer the same to pass upon payment of [only] such Custom as has been usually paid for Irish linen cloth: all by reason that said Lovet has petitioned the Lord Deputy of Ireland, shewing that his father in his	Out Letters (Customs) XI, pp. 135–6.

Said Lovet's petition was forwarded to the Privy Council, England, by the Lord Deputy, with a supporting letter and a desire that all sorts of linen manufactured in Ireland and transported to England may pay only duty as Irish linen "to the end that trade so very happily begun may not thro' discouragement unfortunately fall"; and upon cousideration of the Treasury Lords' report on said petition it is the King's pleasure that all sorts of linen manufactured in Ireland may pass upon such Custom only as Irish linen cloth.
April 9.	Treasury warrant to the Customs Commissioners to deliver, on payment of duty, parcels of molasses already landed as follows, to Giles Biggs, John Gyles, Richard Cary, ——— Wrayford, Jno. Gore, John de Grave, Gilbert Nelson, ——— Levero and ——— Rigden and to suffer them to enter the remainder of their parcels thereof that are already shipped and shall be imported on or before the 20th inst.: all by reason that said Biggs has petitioned on behalf of himself and others merchants of London, ut supra, p. 1841, shewing that ever since the Navigation Act molasses have been imported from France and Holland, being accompted the manufacture of those places, but now molasses from France is stopped on a doubt that the same is not a manufacture and therefore prohibited by said Act; petitioners praying not to be surprised herein without due notice, "it never having been the practice, where the King tries a new point in law, to insist upon the forfeiture either of ship or goods or to impose any burthen or difficulty upon the merchant in that particular case." On which petition the Customs officers have reported that of late they noticed great importation of that commodity and that more was bought and coming from France and thought fit to put a stop thereto, having heard several of the sugar refiners and others in the case and taken the opinion of the Attorney General therein and other learned counsel, who all suppose such an importation contrary to the Navigation Act.	Out Letters (Customs) XI, pp. 136–7.
	Same to same to permit Joseph Herne of London, merchant, to transport 66*l.* of crewel yarn desired from him by a correspondent at Antwerp, ut supra, p. 1755, for making a bed wherein (being a commodity prohibited [to be exported]) he could not gratify his said correspondent without Treasury permission, which permission he prays in regard the yarn is already wrought up and dyed and so manufactured here that it costs 5*s.* per lb. and [this parcel] is not designed for sale or merchandise [in Holland], but only for the said use, for a particular curiosity.	Ibid, p. 138.

(9) They are likewise to return the name and abode of the landlord of any house divided into several dwellings where the tenants do or may claim exemption by reason of poverty as above; and likewise the name of the tenant and the date of the tenancy. (10) Where any house stands empty the collector is to return the name and abode of the owner and the name and abode of the last occupier and the date of leaving. (11) The collector is to enquire what is the rent of all pauper houses that are or ought to be paid for by the landlords, setting down the rent to each man's name in his book of collection with the name of the landlord and where he is well satisfied that no rent is paid he is to declare it in his book. (12) All houses or chimneys that are building are to be taken notice of by the collectors and entered in the blank place of the folio: but where a hearth has continued unlaid for more than one half year and is charged [as] for a hearth the collector is to give answer in the blank place of the folio. (13) No collector is to distrain upon a person receiving alms by reason of his poverty though living in a house of his own worth above 20*s. per an.*, provided that such house contain not more than two chimneys. (14) If any collector distrain a pauper tenant for duty which ought to have been paid by the landlord he shall lose his allowance and return the money received for such distress. (15) If any collector receive more than four half years' duty or receive money for penalties without judgment of the justices or restores not the overplus upon a distress, he shall repay the money unjustly received or detained and be discharged from his employment. (16) If any collector takes money and gives no acquittance or not in full for what he receives he shall be discharged. (17) The collector in every acquittance is to refer to the page and line of his book on pain to forfeit (to the discoverer) 6*d.* for each neglect. (18) No collector is to collect by other books or papers than the books sent out of the [Hearthmoney] Office for the half year's collection, on pain of forfeiture of employment. All books or papers in the hands of any officer, constable or other person by which any money has been or may be collected are to be sent up to the office. (19) No collector is to employ a constable to collect for him or is to collect by a deputy on pain of forfeiture of his employment. (20) Every collector is to inspect the precedent collector's receipts and if the arrears charged appear to be [have been] received by such predecessor, then he is to surcharge him therewith, entering the date of that acquittance against the arrear in the blank place in the folio. (21) Every collector is to carefully survey all the greater houses in their collection for the 1688, Lady day, duty and if it be found by any future discovery that any collector has neglected to survey any such house, whereby the King has lost one or more

April 10.	The like Treasury approval of instructions as follows for the General Receivers of Hearthmoney ; which are in consequence of the discovery (from examining the books of the two last half years) of great neglects of former instructions. The instructions which relate to the under officers [viz. collectors as above] are drawn up by themselves [i.e. separately as above]. You are to take care they be punctually observed. Those which concern yourselves are as follows : (1) That the Receivers General take the totals of the pages, names, number of hearths, arrears and surcharges of the [collectors'] books and keep such totals in a book for that purpose. (2) That they take receipts from the collectors for all the books they deliver them and without favour shown to or reward taken from any collector. (3) That no new half year's book be delivered to any collector till he has cleared his books, paid in his whole money and adjusted his receipts for the former half year. (4) That he note upon the books the date of the delivery out and return back thereof. (5) That with the respective collectors the Receiver General sign and date upon and in every respective book (and not in the abstract paper) the receipt of the money and the date thereof. (6) We understand that it is usual with the collectors when they find any considerable surcharge to keep same in a paper apart from the book in order so to agree with the officer so surcharged as to share with him in the money received and then by making it a reducement to receive the moiety for reducing. The Receivers General are hereby to inspect the officers' books even in the time of their collection, as often as possible, to see that ho clears and finishes them as he goes along, "for if where there goes out an arrear you find a growing duty received and no answer to the arrear you may reasonably suspect that he reserves his answer till he has an opportunity to frame it with the former collector." And because through negligence or knavery divers false surcharges are returned in the books, you are hereby, where you find considerable surcharges, to enquire into the nature of them and to keep such an account of them as to be able to guide the accountants in drawing them up. In order hereto you are to extract an account of the surcharges out of each book as you examine it and send up the same immediately to us [the Hearthmoney Commissioners] : and for each false surcharge the officer making it shall pay one shilling ; whereof a moiety shall go to you, the Receiver General. And because many surcharges have arisen from employing constables or deputies in collecting, you are to take care that every officer entirely collects himself. (7) As we have directed that all "non suches," "demolishments" and "overcharges" that have stood from [before] Michaelmas, 1684, be left out of the books (whereby 'tis possible that some houses and hearths still in being may be left out) you are to order every officer to be careful in his survey and for his encouragement if he discover any house that has paid before he shall surcharge the preceding	Warrants not Relating to Money XII, pp. 295–6.

(8) Immediately upon making up the accounts of your collectors a list of their surcharges shall be sent to you and you are to show same to the person surcharged, allowing him convenient time to discharge himself, after which you are to recover of him and immediately return to the [London head] Office the whole of what is due to the King "and you shall return half as much more of the person surcharged and pay it to him that surcharged him, taking his receipt for the same." (9) And because 'tis very apparent that many false surcharges and false answers in the books and much of the exactions and omissions of the collectors may be prevented by the Receivers General examining the books as they are delivered in collected, you are to carefully examine every book with the collector as it is delivered unto you and make thence your observations on the above particulars; and you are to set your examinatur to every book as a proof of your compliance with these instructions. (10) We observe that the greatest improvements [of this revenue] have been in the houses of four chimneys and under, the greatest houses appearing not to have been so well surveyed. We have therefore given particular instruction to the collectors to survey all the greater houses this present half year. You are to see this instruction diligently obeyed.

1688. April 26.	Repert to the Treasury Lords by William Blathwaite on Col. Edward Powell's petition for a grant of the impost on wine in Antigua, ut supra, p. 1867. On the 10th Sept., 1668, during the government of William, Lord Willoughby, an Act of Assembly was passed in Antigua for several uses as therein, and for defraying other public contingent charges of the government. The said Act is yet in force; and the impost is yearly raised and applied towards the maintenance of the government by order of the Governor with the advice and consent of the Council and one of the Assembly. It amounts usually to 200*l. per an.* As it is appropriated by the Act to the support of the government the King may direct to what particular uses it may be applied pursuant to said Act. Whether such disposition [to petitioner] would be so pursuant or not is submitted: or alternatively the direction may be left to the Chief Governor [of the Leeward Islands] now upon the place; and some other suitable reward be appointed to petitioner.	Out Letters (Plantations Auditor) I, p. 292.

	Same to the Customs Commissioners of the petition of Geo. Alford, mariner, of Lyme Regis, petitioner shewing that he was the last man that opposed Monmouth at his landing and for his zeal to the Crown lost his employment; that on his petition for a place he was made a tidesman in Bristol port, which is but 20*l. per an.* and 60 miles from his habitation: therefore prays some other place sufficient to maintain him and his family, he being acquainted with all the ports and creeks in the West.	Ibid.

Hereon Blathwayt reports that in 1667 William, Lord Willoughby of Parham, Governor in Chief of the Caribbee Islands, hired several merchant ships to be employed against the French in the Leeward Islands: that the said privy seal of 1672, April 11, ordered the payment of 9,541*l.* 10*s.* 6*d.* to the several commanders and owners of said ships as therein expressed, including 1,060*l.* 18*s.* 6*d.* certified by said Lord Willoughby as due for the hire of the William: and petitioners have produced a copy of said Treasury order of 1672, April 19, for payment of said sum in course out of the Four and a Half per cent. duty after satisfaction of the arrears due to Sir Tobias Bridge's Regiment as laid down by the order of 1670, Dec. 24 (see supra, Calendar of Treasury Books, Vol. III, p. 707). I do not find that the said arrears are yet fully paid. But notwithstanding said order 4,069*l.* 2*s.* 0*d.* has been issued out of the Exchequer 1673, Dec. 12, for payment of several ships mentioned in said privy seal. Upon several claims made on the said Four and a Half per cent. revenue the Committee for Plantations did with the Treasury Lords report to the King in Council 1682, July 31, that (besides all private claims) the same was so overcharged for arrears due to the two Foot Companies at St. Christophers and the Governors of those islands that for divers years to come there would be nothing to spare beyond the yearly expense of the government there. The said arrears remain yet unsatisfied.

1688.	of the said manufacture: that by indenture of 1677, July 17, under the great seal of Ireland the said King devised to Alderman Christ. Lovet the said bleaching yard, containing about five acres of land, for 21 years from 1676, Dec. 25, free of rent, and did thereby also grant him all the looms, utensils, stock of yarn and linen cloth then remaining in the said work, together with the freedom of grazing five horses, five cows and twenty sheep yearly in the Phœnix Park during the said 21 years' term, which freedom was held necessary for carrying on the said work: that the said Alderman Lovet did by the said indenture covenant to keep up the said manufacture and at the end of the term to deliver to the Chief Governor of Ireland the said bleaching yard and buildings thereto, the looms and utensils in as good condition as at first and also to repay or return (either in ready money or in stock proper for the said manufacture) 1,202*l.* 16*s.* 7*d.*, being the value of the stock then put into his hands: that the said Lovet has ever since enjoyed said grant and kept up the said manufacture, there being 10 years of his term unexpired: that the inheritance of all the houses and lands in Chapel Izod, made use of about the said manufacture, does belong to the petitioner herein except the bleaching yard: that without the use of said yard, looms, utensils and stock the said manufacture cannot well be carried on there by petitioner and his tenants after the end of Lovet's term and thereby the said manufacture may then fail: therefore petitioner prays a reversionary grant of said yard, liberty of grazing, utensils and stock; he having served faithfully for 27 years as Solicitor General, Ireland, and the late King having by patent, dated 1674–5, Mar. 8, directed a grant to him of forfeited undisposed lands in Ireland to the value of 500*l. per an.*, which grant did not take effect by reason of petitioner's unwillingness to thereby disappoint other persons of the provision made for them by the Acts of Settlement.

1688. May 10.	Dormant warrant to Edward Nicholas, esq., Receiver General of the Alienation Office, to pay the following fees to the several officers of said Office, what is now duo thereon and as same shall from time to time grow due, viz. 40*l.* each per term to Sir Edmund Turner, kt., Edward Courthop and Thomas Vaughan as Deputies and Commissioners [to the Treasury Lords]; 40*l.* per term to said Nicholas himself as Receiver General; 20*l.* per term to George Morley, esq., as Master of Chancery [in said Office]; 5*l.* each per term to Henry Clarke and Saml. 	The Treasury Lords to Thomas, Bishop of Lincoln, at his palace at Buckden in Huntingdonshire. We have made inquiry concerning your complaints as to levying Tenths in your diocese. We are not yet arrived to the perfect understanding of the frauds and injustice which have been practised by the inferior officers. But so much as this appears to us, viz. that sequestrations are laid upon livings for Tenths [which have been] before justly satisfied and for which acquittances have been produced here [at the Treasury Chambers to us] and that moneys have been levied which were expressly pardoned by the privy seal [see supra, pp. 1774–5]. We think that all sequestrations now issued should be superseded and none others executed for some reasonable time till it can be certainly distinguished what Tenths, returned to the Exchequer as unpaid, have been formerly paid, and what arrears are in the scope of the abovesaid privy seal and what arrears remain collectable. We have directed the Agents for Taxes to report on these points to us; and we therefore desire you to permit no more sequestrations till you hear again from us. Send us as soon as you can a schedule of the livings in your diocese which do not exceed 30*l.* per an. improved value and which have arrears of Tenths on them and are so dischargeable under the abovesaid privy seal.	Ibid.
	Treasury reference to Bartholomew Fillingham et al. of the petition of Bevis Lloyd, Esq., praying to be allowed 2,090*l.* due to him from the Crown on the balance of his account [as Receiver of Crown Revenues, South Wales] and to be readmitted to his office in consideration of the services and sufferings of his family.	Reference Book V, p. 256.
